

.

SHAKSPERE'S

KING HENRY THE FOURTH, PART II:

THE QUARTO OF

1600,

A FACSIMILE IN PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHY

BY

WILLIAM GRIGGS,

FOR 13 YEARS PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHER TO THE INDIA OFFICE,

WITH FOREWORDS BY

HERBERT A. EVANS, M.A.,

BALLIOL COLLEGE, OXFORD.

LONDON:

PUBLISHT BY W. GRIGGS, HANOVER STREET, PECKHAM, S.E.

DEDICATED

TO THE MEMORY OF

Edmond Malone.

[Shakspere-Quarto Facsimiles, No. 9.]

FOREWORDS TO 2 HENRY THE FOURTH,

QUARTO, 1600.

§ 1. 2 Henry IV., when written, p. iii.
§ 2. The Quarto and Folio compared, p. iv.
§ 3. The Quarto has two forms, p. ix.

§ 4. Some Peculiarities of the Quarto, p. ix.
§ 5. This Facsimile, p. xi.

§ I. THE Second Part of Henry IV. was probably written immediately after the production of the First Part, the brilliant success of which encouraged Shakspere to continue his theme, while the characters he had created were still fresh in his mind, and presented themselves as real and life-like personages to his imagination. But in any case it must have been written before February 25th, 1597-8, the date of the entry of the First Part in the Registers of the Stationers' Company; for we find that play there described as containing, besides the "battaile of Shrewsburye against Henry Hotspurre of the North," "the conceipted mirthe of Sir John Falstoff." Now it is well known that in both parts of Henry IV., as they first appeared, Sir John was not called Sir John Falstaff, as in the printed play, but Sir John Oldcastle, a name which Shakspere borrowed from the anonymous play called The famous victories of Henry the fifth (acted 1594, printed 1598); but afterwards altered to Sir John Falstaff, when he found that so strange a travesty of the famous Lollard and martyr had given offence both to his descendants, and to zealous Protestants generally.¹ Further, the Stationers' books show that this change had already taken place, at any rate in the First Part, before the date of entry: and even if it had not actually taken place in the Second Part also, we cannot believe that this Second Part was written subsequently to the change in the First Part, for this would involve the absurd supposition that Shakspere had stultified himself by reverting to the use of a name

¹ In the Quarto the prefix Old- has been left by a printer's error to the speech "Very wel my lord," &c. in Act I. sc. ii. l. 137. It is surely unnecessary to prove here for the hundredth time that Sir John Falstaff appeared originally in both parts as Sir John Oldcastle. See the question stated once for all by Dr B. Nicholson and Miss Toulmin Smith in Shakespeare's Centurie of Prayse, ed. 2, pp. 268, 269.

49134

iii

iv § 1. DATE OF 2 HENRY IV. § 2. ONLY ONE QUARTO OF THE PLAY.

that he had once with the best of reasons abandoned. The first positive mention of the Second Part, or of any character in it, occurs in Ben Jonson's Every Man out of his Humor, first acted in 1599, and is as follows:

Saviolina. What's he, gentle Mounfieur Briske? not that gentleman?

Fastidius. No Ladie, this is a Kinsman of Iustice Silence.

 $(Act V. sc. ii.)^1$

It is however probable that Francis Meres means to include the Second Part as well as the First in his mention of Henry IV. in his Palladis Tamia, 1598;² and if so these are all the allusions we have to the Second Part, until we find it entered in the Stationers' Registers together with Much Ado about Nothing in the same year in which both were first published.

(1600) 23 Augusti

Andrewe Wyse

Entred for their copies vnder the handes of William Aspley the wardens Two bookes. the one called Muche about nothinge. Thother the a Doo second parte of the history of kinge the iiijth with the humours of Henry Sir John Fallstoff: Wrytten by master xijd 3 Shakespere.

Arber's Transcript, iii. 170.

This is the first time Shakspere's name occurs in the Registers.

§ 2. That the Quarto of 1600 should be, so far as we know, the only edition of the second Part of Henry IV. published in a separate form, is a remarkable fact, when we consider the number of separate editions of the First Part that were published before the appearance of the Folio. We have no reason to believe that the Second Part was less popular than the First, and was therefore a venture less profitable to the bookseller; nor, so far as I am aware, has any explanation of the difficulty ever been offered. Possibly one may be found in the very popularity of the piece itself; and we may perhaps

¹ Shakespeare's Centurie of Prayse, ed. 2, p. 31.

² See Forewords to Part I. p. iv.

³ Sixpence each was the usual price at which these Quartos were published. In Malone's copy of the deficient 2 Hen. IV., 1600, now in the Bodleian, is the following note in his handwriting :

"In a copy of this play which belonged to Samuel Tysen Esqre and was sold with his collection in Dec. 1801, is written in the title page, in the hand writing of Shakspeare's time, '11 December 1610 price v^d. '"

§ 2. THE QUARTO AND FOLIO COMPARED.

conjecture that when Matthew Law succeeded to the piratical business of Andrew Wise, as he seems to have done about 1604, when he published the third Quarto of I Henry IV., he found the whole stock of the Quarto of Part II. sold off, and the 'copy' printed from lost or destroyed; so that he had nothing at hand from which to print off a second (unauthorised) edition. Be this as it may, it is in the Folio of 1623 that we next find the play in print: and since opposite opinions have been held as to the comparative critical value of the Quarto and Folio versions, it will be well to sum up the differences between them before going any farther.

(a) Lines only in the Folio, 171. (b) Lines only in the Quarto, 39. (c) Lines in which the Folio differs for the better, roughly, 48. (d) Lines in which the reading of the Folio is, intrinsically, nearly or quite as good as that of the Quarto, roughly, 34. (e) Lines in which the Folio differs decidedly for the worse, roughly, 40.1

¹ In (a) and (b) each line as divided in the Globe Shakespeare is counted as a line. Except in (b) differences due to the Act to restrain the abuses of Players are not counted. Here are a few examples of (c), (d), and (e). All the quotations are from the Folio.

(c) Instances in which the reading of the Folio is preferable.

Ind. 36. this Worme-eaten-Hole of ragged Stone, Where Hotspurres Father, old Northumberland, Lyes crafty sicke. p. 74a Quarto When. I. ii. III. Your Lordship (though not

- clean past / your youth) hath yet some smack of age in you : p. 77a Quarto, haue and an ague.
- I. ii. 195. all the other gifts appertinent to man / (as the malice of this Age shapes them) are not woorth a / Gooseberry. p. 77b Quarto, his age shapes the one not (omits are).
- I. iii. 28. [Hotspur] who lin'd himself with hope,
 - Eating the ayre, on promise of Supply, p. 78a Quarto, and.
- II. ii. 91. Away, you horson vpright Rabbet, away. p. 81a Quarto, rabble.
- III. i. 18. Wilt thou, vpon the high and giddie Mast, p. 85b
- Quarto, masse. III. i. 22. Who take the Ruffian Billowes by the top, p. 85b Quarto, pillowes. III. i. 27. Canst thou (O partiall Sleepe) give thy Repose

- To the wet Sea-Boy, in an houre so rude : p. 85b Quarto, season.
- IV. ii. 122. Some guard these Traitors to the Block of Death, p. 91 bis b Quarto, this traitour.
- IV. iv. 104. Will Fortune neuer come with both hands full,
 - But write her faire words still in foulest Letters? p. 93b Quarto, wet [also termes for Letters, perhaps rightly.]
- IV. v. 12. P. Hen. Heard hee the good newes yet? Tell it him.
 - Glo. Hee alter'd much, vpon the hearing it. p. 94a Quarto, vttred.
- IV. v. 82. Now, where is hee, that will not stay so long,
 - Till his Friend Sicknesse hath determin'd me? p. 94b
- Quarto, hands. IV. v. 161. Therefore, thou best of Gold, art worst of gold. p. 95a Quarto, worse then [in next line Q omits is].
- V. ii. 16. Of him, the worst of these three Gentlemen; p. 97a

v

That the lines omitted from the Quarto are cut out to shorten the play for the stage, is probable from the fact that three or four at least

Quarto, he. hood for my Fortune V. iii. 132. I would not take a Knight-Quarto, Knight. In the following, the Folio mends the metre of the Quarto : words omitted in the Quarto are enclosed in square brackets. I. i. 96. To speake a truth. If he be such Acts as yours.] slaine, [say so :] p. 75b IV. i. 30. What doth concerne your [Canst thou tell / that ?] comming? / [Then (my lord)] p. 91a IV. ii. 8. Then now to see you heere an Iron man p. 92b [softly 'pray.] p. 94a IV. v. 50. What would your Maiestie? Quarto adds talking: and has That for Then. IV. ii. 117. Meet for Rebellion, [and (d) Instances in which à priori there would be little to choose between the Folio and Quarto; but in most cases the Folio reading is evidently the later and altered one. I. i. 33. Now Trauers, what good Quarto, haue wrong. tidings comes fro you? p. 74b II. ii. 177. no word to your / Master that I am yet in Towne, Quarto, with. I. i. 41. He told me, that Rebellion had ill lucke, p. 75a Quarto, come to. II. iii. 10. The Time was (Father) p. 75a Quarto, bad.

- a sullen Bell I. i. 103. Remembred, knolling a departing Friend. p. 75b Quarto, tolling.
- I. ii. 87. Do / not the Rebels want Soldiers? p. 76b Quarto, need.
- I. ii. 143. I care not if I be your Physitian p. 77a Quarto, doe become.
- I. ii. 186. You follow the yong Prince vp and downe, like / his euill Angell. p. 77b Quarto, ill.
- II. i. 54. Throw me in the channell? Ile throw thee there p. 79a Quarto, in the channel.
- II. i. 97. for lik'ning him to a sin-/ ging man of Windsor. p. 79b Quarto, liking his father.
- II. ii. 34. their Fathers lying so sicke p. 80b Quarto, being.
- II. ii. 76. see if the fat villain have not trans / form'd him Ape. p. 80b Quarto, looke.
- II. ii. 105. the gallowes shall be p. 81a wrong'd.

p. 91 bis b IV. iv. 52. And how accompanyed? p. 93a

p. 99a

- IV. iv. 120. So thinne, that Life lookes through, [and will breake out.] p. 93b
- IV. iv. 132. Into some other Chamber:
- [how fares your / Grace ?] p. 94a

- p. 81b
- when you broke your word, p. 81b Quarto, that.
- II. iv. 48. If the Cooke [Q + help to] make the Gluttonie, you helpe to make the Diseases. p. 82b
- III. ii. 102. haue you / prouided me heere halfe a dozen of sufficient men? p. 87a Quarto omits of.
- III. ii. 142. but not of the Fathers / substance. p. 87a Quarto, much.
- III. ii. 245. for my / old Dames sake, p. 88a stand my friend. Quarto omits old.
- IV. iii. 97. There's neuer any of these demure Boyes come / to any proofe: p. 92 bis b Quarto, none.
- IV. iv. 32. a Hand Open (as Day) for melting Charitie Quarto, meeting. p. 93a
- IV. iv. 39. But being moodie, giue him Line, and scope. p. 93a Quarto, time.
- V. iii. 90. Not the ill winde which blowes none to good, p. 98b Quarto, no man.

vi

§ 2. THE QUARTO AND FOLIO COMPARED.

of the cancelled passages are necessary to complete the sense of the context as it remains in the Quarto. Take the omitted passage I. i. 189-209; according to the Quarto, Morton says he hears for certain—something which does not appear; and Northumberland immediately replies, "I knew of this before, but. This prefent griefe had wipte it from my mind." Now if we turn to the Folio, we find that the event referred to is the rising of the Archbishop of York, who is lending to the insurrectionary movement that religious sanction, the lack of which had hitherto crippled it; information absolutely necessary to complete the sense of the Quarto passage. Compare also I. iii. 34-62, II. iii. 9-50, and IV. i. 99-140, as they stand in the Quarto and Folio respectively; and the nature of the deficiencies of the Quarto will be at once apparent. The other

(e) Instances in which the Folio reading is decidedly faulty or inferior.

- Ind. 8. Stuffing the Eares of them with false Reports : p. 74a Quarto, men.
- I. i. 44. And bending forwards strooke his able heeles,
 - Against the panting sides of his poore Iade
 - Vp to the Rowéll head. p. 75a Quarto, armed.
- I. i. 59. [The gentleman] vpon my life Speake at aduenture. p. 75a Quarto, Spoke at a venture.
- I. ii. 115 Sir Iohn, I sent [Q + for] you before your Expedition, to Shrewsburie. p. 77a
- I. iii. I. Thus haue you heard our causes, & kno our Means : p. 78a Quarto, cause.
- II. i. 199. being you / are to take Souldiers vp, in Countries as you go. p. 80a
 - Quarto, Counties.
- II. ii. 80. Come you pernitious Asse. you bashfull Foole p. 80b Quarto, vertuous.
- II. ii. 117. for looke you / [Q + how] he writes. p. 81a
- II. iii. 2. Giue an euen way vnto my rough Affaires : p. 81b Quarto omits an.
- II. iv. 171. to the Infernall Deepe, where Erebus and Tortures vilde / also. p. 83b Ouarto, with.
- II. iv. 214. Here's good stuffe toward. p. 83b

Quarto, goodly.

- IV. ii. 102-3. [Q + My Lord] Our Army is dispers'd : [Q + already] Like youthfull Steeres, vnyoak'd, they tooke their course p. 91 bis b Quarto, take.
- IV. iii. 133. If I had a thousand Sonnes, the first [Q + humane] Principle / I would teach them, should be to forsweare thinne Pota- / tions. p. 92 bis b
 IV. v. 180. That thou might'st ioyne
- IV. v. 180. That thou might'st ioyne the more, thy Fathers loue, p. 95b Quarto, win.
- V. i. 91. he shall laugh with Interuallums. p. 96b Quarto, without.
- V. ii. 36. Sweet Princes : what I did, I did in Honor,
 - Led by th' Imperiall Conduct of my Soule, p. 97a Quarto, impartiall.
- V. ii. 96. And then imagine me, taking you part, p. 97b Quarto, your.
- V. iii 31. but you [Q + must] beare, / the heart's all. p. 98a
- V. v. 24. Fal. As it were, to ride day and night, / And not to deliberate, not to remember, / Not to haue patience to shift me. Shal. It is most certaine. p. 99b Quarto, best.

V. v. 113. I heare a Bird so sing, Whose Musicke (to my thinking) pleas'd the King. p. 100b Quarto, heard.

viii § 2. THE FOLIO OF 2 HENRY IV. IS FROM AN INDEPENDENT SOURCE.

omitted passages (I. i. 166-179; I. iii. 21-24; I. iii. 86-108; IV. i. 55-79) are not such obvious 'cuts,' because made with greater judgment, but there is no need to suppose any other cause for their absence, nor is any other motive apparent than that of reducing the length of the play.¹ Of course these omissions are due not to the printer of the Quarto, but to the transcript that he printed from, in which these passages had, as the Cambridge editors suggest, been either erased or left out altogether. The text, as it stands in the Folio, is evidently from an independent source. The presence of these omitted passages, the absence of a few scattered Quarto lines throughout the play, and the numerous minor differences, all point to this conclusion. Shakspere's original MS. had very possibly been destroyed when the Globe was burnt down in 1613; and the editors of the Folio probably had to content themselves with a more or less faulty transcript-itself perhaps two or three degrees removed from the original. It was not free from blunders of its own; it reproduced a few of the blunders of the Quarto,² and even in such a manifestly defective passage as IV. i. 94,³ it had nothing better to give. Still, after all deductions have been made, and apart from its supplying the 'cuts' of the Quarto, the Folio gives us very valuable help towards the formation of the text. It often has what is obviously the true reading, where the Quarto has gone astray, and in a few places, nearly all (it may be noticed) in Act IV. it fills up lines that were metrically defective.⁴ In those places in which there seems but little choice between the reading of the Quarto and the

¹ A fanciful critic might perhaps suggest that the Archbishop's strictures on the "fond Many" (I. iii. 86, &c.) were cut out to please the groundlings; but this is very unlikely.

² In II. i. 145, where the Quarto has enter a messenger, the Folio has Enter M. Gower : but the two speeches of his that have Mess. prefixed to them in the Quarto have also Mess. in the Folio. His that have Mess, prefixed to them in the Quarto Folio. In IV. i. 180, both Quarto and Folio have 'At' for 'And'; also in IV. ii. 19, 'imagine' for 'imagined'; and in IV. iii. 116, 'extreames' and 'extremes' for 'extreme.'

West. When euer yet was your Appeale deny'd? Wherein haue you beene galled by the King? What Peere hath beene suborn'd, to grate on you, That you should seale this lawlesse bloody Booke Of forg'd Rebellion, with a Seale diuine? [And consecrate commotions bitter edge.]

Bish. My Brother generall, the Common-wealth,

[To brother born an houshold cruelty] I make my Quarrell, in particular.

3

Folio, p. 91b.

The lines in brackets are only in the Quarto. See below, § 3. ⁴ See IV. i. 30; ii. 117; iv. 120; v. 50, &c. Yet with a misplaced gram-matical zeal the Folio constantly prints the stricter 'he,' 'of,' 'on' and 'or,' where the Quarto has appropriately the colloquial 'a': so also 'if' for 'and '(an), 'before' for 'afore,' 'thou wilt' for 'thou't.'

§ 3. THE TWO FORMS OF THE Q°. § 4. PECULIARITIES IN THIS ED. IX

Folio, the former, as representing in all probability the earlier, purer, and less sophisticated text, should have the preference; and in forming a received text it will therefore be safer to take the Ouarto corrected by the Folio than vice versâ.

§ 3. There are two forms of the present Quarto (1600): in the one (Qa), signature E has the usual number of four leaves; in the other (Ob), signature E has six leaves. The two additional leaves in the latter were inserted to make room for Act III. sc. i., which owing to some oversight is altogether wanting in the former, and a certain number of impressions seem to have been struck off before the omission was discovered. But since the new matter did not exactly fit into the two additional leaves, the compositor took to pieces the whole of the type forming the two leaves E₃ and E₄, as they stand in Qa, and, inserting the additional scene, reset the whole as it now stands in Qb in four leaves, viz., E₃, E₄, E₅, and E₆. Consequently for so much of these four leaves, as is not taken up with Act III. sc. i., we have two distinct versions; that is, from "Host. No I warrant you," II. iv. 369, to the end of the Act; and from the beginning of Act III. sc. ii. to "Sha. What think you fir Iohn, a good limbd fellow, yong, [ftrong,¹" III. ii. 114. The differences between the two versions are however very minute, and chiefly consist in differences of spelling; but to make this facsimile, which represents Qb, as complete as possible, I have given on the margin all the variations of Qa from Malone's copy of that impression in the Bodleian, and Mr Griggs has added, as an Appendix, facsimiles of leaves E₃, E₄ of Qa from the copy of sheet E in the British Museum. One or two other slight changes were also made while the edition was being printed off. Thus the two lines, "And confecrate commotions bitter edge," and "To brother born an houthold cruelty" (IV. i. 93, 95), are wanting in Malone's copy of Qb, while his copy of Qa and the Duke of Devonshire's Qb have them. They are also wanting in the Folio. The following varieties are also noted in the Cambridge Shakespeare: 'genius' and 'gemies,' III. ii. 337;² 'let' and 'till,' III. ii. 357;³ and 'you' and ' your,' V. ii. 140.4

§ 4. It remains to notice one or two peculiarities in this edition. In I. i. 161, the prefix Vmfr. will be found to the line, "This ftrained paffion doth you wrong my lord." In the Folio the line is absent, and modern editors have assigned it to Lord Bardolph

¹ 'Strong' is the catchword.

² Both Malone's copies have 'genius': the Duke's has 'gemies.'

³ Both Malone's 'till': the Duke's 'let.'

⁴ Both Malone's and the Duke's also 'you.' See also Malone's own note on the obscure passage in Act IV. sc. i. ll. 93-96. Variorum Shakespeare, 1821, vol. xvii. p. 150.

x § 4. MISTAKES IN THE QUARTO : BARDOLPH AND UMFREVILLE.

(Theobald), or Travers (Capell, &c.). Prof. Hagena has however pointed out¹ that the part now played by Lord Bardolph in this scene in all probability belonged originally to Sir John Umfrevile; and that to save the necessity of an additional actor, it was afterwards made over to Lord Bardolph, who appears in the third scene of the same act. The change, however, at least as far as the Quarto is concerned, was not completed; for in line 34, Travers says, "My lord, fir Iohn Vmfreuile turnd me backe With ioyfull tidings," when consistently with ll. 30-32:

"Bar. My lord, I ouer-rode him on the way, And he is furnifit with no certainties, More then he haply may retale from me—" he should have said, "Lord Bardolph turnd me back;" and in line 161 the prefix Vmfr- has been left unchanged. Prof. Hagena further argues that, according to the original scheme of the play. Lord Bardolph could not have been present at all during this scene; for, if he had been, he would have heard Morton inform the Earl of Northumberland that the king's forces were advancing against him under the command of Prince John of Lancaster and the Earl of Westmoreland (ll. 131-5): but in sc. iii. l. 81, he asks, "Who is it like thould lead his forces hither?" and receives the same information from Hastings in reply. Under these circumstances, whether the change was made for theatrical convenience, or, as Mr Daniel suggests, to bring the play more into agreement with the Chronicles, where Umfrevile is always on the King's party, and not on the Earl's,—an editor might well be tempted to restore consistency to the scene by deciding finally in favour either of Sir John Umfrevile or of Lord Bardolph; but in either case there can be no hesitation in adopting Mr Daniel's suggestion that line 161 ("This strained paffion doth you wrong my lord ") should be given the actor who now takes Bardolph's part, and that the next line ("Sweet earle, diuorce not wifedom from your honour") should be the first line of Morton's speech.

In Act V. sc. iv. the part assigned to the 'officer' in the Folio, is in the Quarto assigned to 'Sincklo.' This, of course, was the name of the actor who took the part. He seems to have played third-rate parts, such as sheriff's officers, keepers, and 'Players.' We find his name prefixed to a line in the Induction to the Taming of the Shrew (Folio), and in 3 Henry VI., Act III. sc. i., we have the stage-direction, "Enter Sincklo, and Humfrey, with Croffe-bowes in their hands" (Folio). He is also introduced together with Bur-

¹ See his paper, and Mr P. A. Daniel's comment in the N. S. S. Transactions for 1877-78, p. 347, &c.

I H E Second part of Henrie the fourth, continuing to his death, and coronation of Henrie the fift.

With the humours of fir Iohn Fal staffe, and swaggering Pistoll.

As it hath been fundrie times publikely acted by the right honourable, the Lord Chamberlaine his feruants.

Written by William Shakespeare.

LONDON Printed by V.S.for Andrew Wile, and William Afpley. 1600.

•

§ 4. PECULIARITIES IN THE QUARTO. § 5. THIS FACSIMILE. xi

bage, Condell, Lowin, &c. in the Induction to Marston's Malcontent (1604), and he acted a part in the Seven Deadlie Sinns.¹

The only other contemporary evidence we have as to the original actors in this play is a passage in The returne from Pernassus, 1602, where Kempe, who is introduced together with Burbage in Act IV. sc. v. (p. 59, ed. Arber), is made to say to one of the students they are instructing in the art of acting :-- "Now for you, me thinkes you should belong to my tuition, and your face me thinkes would be good for a foolish Mayre or a foolish iustice of peace." From this it has been inferred that Kempe was the original Justice Shallow.²

The following names occur in the stage-directions of the Quarto ; but no part is assigned to them, and they are omitted by the Folio, and by modern editors : Fauconbridge, I. iii. 1 ; fir Iohn Ruffel, II. ii. 1; Will., II. iv. 20; fir Iohn Blunt, III. i. 30 [in I. i. 16, 17, we are told that 'both the Blunts' had been slain by Douglas; but this may be a part of Lord Bardolph's mistaken intelligence]. Bardolfe, IV. i. I Lord Bardolph did not take part in the Archbishop's insurrection].

§ 5. The present Facsimile is taken from the copy of the original belonging to the Duke of Devonshire. It is one of those impressions that were struck off after the omission of the first scene of Act III. had been discovered, and Sig. E. has therefore six leaves instead of the usual four. As in the Duke's other Quartos, the Headlines have suffered from the mounter's knife, but the copy is otherwise perfect. As in the Facsimile of the 1598 Quarto of Part I., the marginal division into Acts and Scenes, and the line numbers are those of the Globe Shakespeare. The mark > signifies that at the places which it indicates one or more lines, to be found in the Folio, are absent from the Quarto. Lines only in the Quarto are starred (*), and lines that require emendation are daggered (†).

HERBERT A. EVANS.

¹ Malone in Var. Shakespeare, 1821, vol. v. p. 368. The Seven Deadlie Sinns was one of those performances in which the actors extemporised the dialogue in accordance with a prearranged scheme. It is assigned to Richard Tarlton (ob. 1588); and in the 'Platt' or plot of the second part, printed in the Var. Shake-speare, 1821, vol. iii. p. 348, and in Mr J. Payne Collier's History of English Dramatic Poetry, ed. 1879, vol. iii. p. 198, Sincklo's name occurs eight times. ² Malone in Var. Shakespeare, 1821, vol. xvii. p. 114.

[From the Folio: Histories, p. 68.] THE ACTORS NAMES VMOVR the Presentor. King Henry the Fourth. Prince Henry, afterwards Crowned King Henrie the Fift. Prince Iohn of Lancaster. Sonnes to Henry the Fourth, & brethren to Henry 5. Northumberland. The Arch Byshop of Yorke. Mowbray. Hastings. Opposites against King Henrie the Fourth. Lord Bardolfe. Trauers. Morton. Coleuile. Warwicke. Pointz. Westmerland. Falstaffe. Of the Kings Bardolphe. Surrey. Irregular Gowre. Partie. Pistoll. Humourists. Peto. Harecourt. Lord Chiefe Iustice. Page.

Shallow. } Both Country Silence. } Iustices. Dauie, Seruant to Shallow. Phang, and Snare, 2. Serieants. Mouldie. Shadow. Wart. Feeble. Bullcalfe.

Drawers. Beadles. Groomes. Northumberlands Wife. Percies Widdow. Hostesse Quickly. Doll Tearc-sheete. Epilogue.

ire.)

The fecond part of Henry the fourth, continuing to his death, and coronation of Henry the fift.

Enter Rumour painted full of Tongues.

Pen your eares; for which of you will ftop The vent of hearing, when lowd Rumor speaks? I from the Orient to the drooping Welt, (Making the wind my poste-horse)still vnfold The acts commenced on this ball of earth. Vpon my tongues continuall flanders ride. The which in every language I pronounce, Stuffing the eares of men with falle reports, I speake of peace while couert enmity, Vnder the fmile of fafety, woundes the world: And who but Rumor, who but onely I, Make fearefull musters, and prepar'd defence, Whiles the bigge yeare, fwolne with fome other griefe, Is thought with child by the sterne tyrant Warre? And no fuch matter Rumour is a pipe, Blowne by furmizes, Iealoufies coniectures, And offo eafie, and fo plaine a ftop, That the blunt monster, with vncounted heads, The still discordant wau'ring multitude, Can play vpon it. But what need I thus (My wel knowne body) to ano. homize Among my houshold? why is Rumor here? A 2

Induction

12

16

20

T

Induction

24

28

32

+36

7

4

8

12

ActI.Sc.it

· wyuuna pairop

I runne before King Harries victorie, Who in a bloudy field by Shrewsbury, Hath beaten downe yong Hot-spurre and his troopes, Quenching the flame of bold rebellion, Euen with the rebels bloud. But what meane I To speake so true at first:my office is To noyfe abroad, that Harry Monmouth fell Vnder the wrath of noble Hot-fpurs fword, And that the King before the Douglas rage. Stoopt his annointed head as low as death. This have I rumour'd through the peafant townes, Betweene that royall field of Shrewsbury, And this worme-eaten hole of ragged ftone, When Hot-spurs father old Northumberland Lies crafty licke, the postes come tyring on, And not a man of them brings other newes, Than they have learnt of me, from Rumors tongues, They bring fmooth comforts falfe, worfe then true wrongs. exit Rumours. Enter the Lord Bardelfe at one doore.

Bard. Who keepes the gate here ho? where is the Earle? Porter What shall I fay you are? Bard. Tell thou the Earle.

That the Lord Bardolfe doth attend him heere. Porter His Lordship is walkt forth into the orchard, Please it your honor knocke but at the gate, And he himfelfe will answer. Enter the Earle Northumberland

Bard. Here comes the Earle.

Earle. What newes Lord Bardolfe? euery minute now Should be the father of fome Stratagem, The times are wild, contention like a horfe,

Full of high feeding, madly hath broke loofe,

And beares downe all hefore him.

Bard. Noble Earle.

I bring you certaine newes from Shrewsbury. Earle Good, and God will.

Bard.

sienry the jours.

Bard. As good as heart can with: The King 1s almost wounded to the death, And in the fortune of my Lord your fonne, Prince Harry flaine outright, and both the Blunts Kild by the hand of Dowglas, yong prince Iohn, And Westmerland and Stafford fled the field, And HarryMonmouthes brawne the hulke fir lohn, Is prifoner to your fonne: O fuch a day! Sofought, fo followed, and fo fairely wonne, Came not till now to dignifie the times Since Cæfars fortuncs. Earle How is this deriu'd? Saw you the field?came you from Shrewsbury? Bar. I fpake with one, my lord, that came from thence, enter A gentleman well bred, and of good name, Trauers. That freely rendred me thefe newes for true. Earle Here comes my feruant Trauers who I fent On tuesday last to listen after newes. Bar. My lord, I ouer-rode him on the way, And he is furnisht with no certainties. More then he haply may retale from me. Earle Now Trauers, what good tidings comes with you? Trauers My lord, fir Iohn Vmfreuile turnd me backe Withioyfull tidings, and being better horft, Outrode me, after him came spurring hard, A gentleman almost forespent with speede, That flopt by me to breathe his bloudied horfe, He askt the way to Chefter, and of him I did demand what newes from Shrewsbury, He told me that rebellion had bad lucke, And that yong Harrie Percies four was cold: With that he gaue his able horfe the head, And bending forward, ftrooke his armed heeles, Against the panting sides of his poore iade, Vp to the rowell head, and starting fo, He feem'd in running to deuoure the way,

A 3

Stay-

4

Ii.

16

20 24

28

32

36

40

Staying no longer question. Earle Ha? againe, Said he, yong Harry Percies spur was cold, Of Hot-spurre, Cold-spurre, that rebellion Had met ill lucke? Bard. My lord, Ile tell you what, If my yong Lord your fonne, have not the day, Vponmine honor for a filken point, Ile giue my Barony, neuer talke of it. Earle Why should that gentleman that rode by Trauers, Giue then fuch inftances of loffe? Bard. Who he? He was fome hilding fellow that had Itolne The horse he rode on, and vpon my life Spoke at a venter. Looke, here comes more news. enter Mor-Earle Yea this mans brow, like to a title leafe, ton. Foretells the nature of a tragicke volume, So lookes the ftrond. whereon the imperious floud, Hath left a witnest vsurpation. Say Mourton, didft thou come from Shrewsbury? Mour. I ranne from Shrewsbury my noble lord, Where hatefull death put on his vglieft maske, To fright our partie. Earle How doth my fonne and brother? Thou trembleft, and the whitenes in thy cheeke, Is apter then thy tongue to tell thy arrand, Euen such a man, so faint, so spirritles, So dull, so dead in looke, so woe begon, Drew Priams curtaine in the dead of night, And would have told him, halfe his Troy was burnt: But Priam found the fier, erc he, his tongue, And I, my Percies death.cre thou reportft it. This thou would ft fay, Your fon did thus and thus, Your brother thus: so fought the noble Dowglas, Stopping my greedy eare with their bold deedes, But in the end, to ftop my eare indeed, Thou hast a sigh to blow away this praise, Ending with brother, fonne, and all are dead. Mour.

5

II

48

52

50

60

64

68

72

70

Henry the fourth.

Meur. Douglas is liuing, and your brother yet,
But for my Lord your sonne:
Earle Why he is dead?
See what a ready tongue Suspition hath!
He that but feares the thing hee would not know,
Hath by instinct, knowledge from others eies,
That what he feard is chanced: yet speake Mourton,
Tell thou an Earle, his divination lies,
And I will take it as a fweete difgrace,
And make thee rich for doing me fuch wrong.
Mour. You are too great to be by me gainfaid,
Your spirite is too true, your feares too certaine.
Earle Yet for all this, fay not that Percie's dead,
I fee a strange confession in thine eie,
Thou shakit thy head, and holdst it feare, or sinne,
To speake a truth: if he be flaine,
The tongne offends not that reports his death,
And he doth finne that doth belie the dead,
Not he which faies the dead is not aliue,
Yet the first bringer of vnwelcome newes
Hath but a loofing office, and his tongue
Sounds euer after as a fullen bell,
Remembred tolling a departing friend.
Bard. I cannot thinke, my Lord, your fonneis dead.
Monr. I am fory I should force you to beleeue,
That which I would to God I had not feene,
But these mine eies faw him in bloudy state,
Rendring faint quittance, wearied, and out-breathd,
To Harry Monmouth, whole fwift wrath beat downe
The neuer daunted Percy to the earth,
From whence with life he neuer more fprung vp.
In few his death, whole fpirite lent a fire,
Euen to the dullest peasant in his campe,
Being bruted once, tooke fire and heate away,
From the best temperd courage in his troopes,
For from his mettal was his party fteeled,
Which

б

I.i.

2 10 JUUNIN. PHID UJ

Which once in him abated, al the reft Turnd on themfelues, like dull and heauy lead. And as the thing thats heavy in it felfe, Vpon enforcement flies with greateft speed: So did our men, heavy in Hot fpurs loffe, Lend to this weight fuch lightnesse with their feare, That arrowes fled not fwifter toward their ayme, Than did our fouldiers aiming at their fafetie, Fly from the field; then was that noble Worcester, So foone tane prifoner, and that furious Scot, The bloudy Douglas whofe well labouring fword, Had three times flaine th appearance of the King, Gan vaile his ftomacke, and did grace the shame Of shole that turnd their backes, and in his flight, Stumbling in feare, was tooke: the fumme of all Is, that the King hath wonne, and hath fent out, A fpeedy power to incounter you my lord, Vnder the conduct of yong Lancaster, And Westmerland : this is the news at ful.

Earle For this I shal have time enough to mourne, In poilon there is phificke, and these newes. Having beene wel, that would have made me ficke: Being ficke, haue (in fome measure) made me wel: And as the wretch whole feuer-weakned ioynts, Like strengthlesse hinges buckle vnder life; Impacient of his fit, breakes like a fire Out of his keepers armesseuen fo my limbes, Weakened with griefe being now enragde with griefe, Are thrice themselues: hence therfore thou nice crutch, A scaly gauntlet now with joynts of steele Must gloue this band and hence thou fickly coife, Thouart a guard too wanton for the head, Which princes, flesht with conquest, ayme to hit: Now bind my browes with yron, and approach The ragged ft houre that Time and Spight dare bring, To frowne vpon th'inragde Northumberland,

Lct

7

Li

120

124

+

128

132

136

140

144

Henry the fourth.
Let heauen kiffe earth, now let not Natures hand
Keepe the wild floud confind, let Order die,
And let this world no longer be a stage,
To feed contention in a lingring act:	156
But let one spirite of the first borne Cain
Raigne in all bosomes, that ech heart being fet
On bloudy courfes, the rude sceane may end,
And darknelle be the burier of the dead.	160
Vmfr. This strained passion doth you wrong my lord.
Bard. Sweet earle, diuorce not wiledom from your honor,	**
Mour. The lives of all your louing complices,
Leaue on you health, the which if you give ore,	164.5
To ftormy pallion mult perforce decay.	164 +
Bard. Weall that are ingaged to this losse,	165
Knew that we ventured on fuch dangerous feas,	180
That if we wrought out life, twas ten to one,
And yet we venturd for the gaine proposide,
Choakt the respect of likely perill fear d,	184
And fince we are orefet, venture againe:	104
Come, we will al put forth body and goods.
Mour. Tis more then time, and my most noble lord,
I heare for certaine, and dare speake the truth.	188
North. I knew of this before, but to fpeake truth,	210
This prefent griefe had wipte it from my mind,	270
Go in with me and counfell every man,	212
The apteft way for fafety and reuenge,	276
Get postes and letters, and make friends with speed, Neuer so few, and neuer yet more need. exeunt.
react to rew, and nearly set more needs to set white
Enter fir Iohn alone, with his page bearing his fword	T.ü.
and buckler.
unu omikier.
Take Sirra you giant what fire the doftarto my water
Iohn Sirra, you giant, what faies the doctor to my water?	1
Page He faid fir, the water it felf was a good healthy water,	4 but for the party that owed it, he might haue moe difeales then he knew for.
B John
D Lobn

* NO JECUINA PATEUJ

Tohn Men of al forts take a pride to gird at me : the braine of this foolifh compouded clay-man is not able to inuent any thing that intends to laughter, more then I inuent, or is inueted on me, I am not only witty in my felfe, but the caufe that wit is in other men. I do here walk before thee, like a fow that hath ouerwhelmd al her litter but one, if the prince put thee into my feruice for any other reason then to settime off, why then I haue no judgement thou horefon mandrake, thou art fitter to be worne in my cap, then to wait at my heels I was neuer manned with an agot till now, but I wil in-fet you, neither in golde nor filuer, but in vile apparell, and fend you backe againe to your master for a iewell, the iuuenall the prince your master. whole chin is not yetfledge, I will fooner haue a beard grow in the palme of my hand, then he shal get one off his check.& yet he will not flicke to fay his face is a face royal, God may finish it when he will, tis not a haire amisse yet, he may keepe it still at a face royall, for a barber shall never earne sixpence out of it, and yet heele be crowing as if he had writte man euer fince his father was a batcheler, he may keepe his owne grace, but hees almost out of mine I can assure him: what faid master Dommelton about the fattin for my fhort cloake and my floppes?

Boy He faide fir, you should procure him better assure then Bardolfe, he would not take his band and yours, he liked not the fecuritie.

fir lohn Let him be damn'd like the glutton, pray God his tongue be hotter, a horefon A chitophella rafcall: yea forfooth knaue, to beare a gentle man in hand, and then ftand vpon fecurity, the horfon fmoothy-pates doe now weare nothing but hie fhooes and bunches of keyes at their girdles, and if a man is through with them in honeft taking vp, then they muft ftand vppon fecurity, I had as liue they would put ratsbane in my mouth as offer to ftop it with fecurity, I lookt a fhould haue fent me two and twenty yards of fattin, (as I am a true knight,) and he fends me fecurity: well he may fleepe in fecurity, for he hath the horne of aboundance, and the lightneffe of his wife fhines

In

8

12

16

20

24

4

28

32

36

40

$ 44

48

A ALARA A MARKED WAR
ALUIN & VIEN JUNE VIEN
fhines through it: wheres Bardolf, & yet can not he fee though he haue his owne lanthorne to light him.	Ŧ
Boy Hees gone in Smithfield to buy your worship a horse. fir solar I bought him in Paules, and heele buy me a horse	56
in Smithfield, and I could get me but a wife in the stewes, I were man'd, horsde, and wiu'd.	60
Emer Lord chiefe Iustice.	Ŧ
Boy Sir, here comes the noble man that committed the prince for firiking him about Bardolfe.	64
fer Iohn Wait close, I will not see him.
Inflice Whatshee that goes there?
sern. Falstaffe, and t please your lordship.
Inft. He that was in question for the rob ry?	68 fern. He my Lord, but he hath fince done good feruice at Shrewsbury, & (as I heare,) is now going with fome charge to	72
the lord Iohn of Lancaster.
Inft. What to Yorke? call him backe againe.
fern. Sir Iohn Falstaffe.
Iohn Boy,tellhim I am deafe.	76
Boy You inust speake lowder, my master is deafe.
Inft. I am fure he is to the hearing of any thing good, goe	80
plucke him by the elbow, I must speake with him.
feru. Sir Iohn?
Falft. What? a yong knaue and begging? is there not wars?	84 is there not employment? doth not the King lacke fubiects?do not the rebels need fouldiers, though it be a fhame to be on any	88 fide but one, it is worfe fhame to beg then to be on the worft fide, were it worfe then the name of Rebellion can tell how to make it.
fern. You miltake me fir.
Iohn Why fir, did I fay you were an honeft man, fetting my	92
knighthood and my fouldierfhip afide, I had lied in my throat feru. I pray you fir then fet your knighthood, and your foldier (hip afide, and give me leave to tell you, you lie in your	96 throate, if you fay I am any other then an honeft man.
B 2 Iohn,

John I giue thee leaue to tell me, fo I lay afide that which growes to me, if thou getst any leaue of me, hang me, if thou takst leaue, thou wert better be hangd, you hunt couter, hence, auaunt.

feru. Sir, my Lord would speake with you.

Iuft. Sir Iohn Falstaffe, a word with you .

Fulf. My good Lord, God giue your lord/hip good time of day, I am glad to fee your lord/hip abroade, I heard fay your lord/hip was ficke, I hope your lord/hip goes abroade by aduife, your lord/hip, though not clean paft your youth, haue. yet fome finack of an aguein you, fome relifh of the faltnes of time in you, and I moft humbly befeech your lord/hip to haue a reuerend care of your health.

Inflice Sir Iohn, I fent for you before your expedition to Shrewsbury.

fir Iohn Andt pleafe your lor(hip, I heare his maiefty is returnd with some difcomfort from Wales.

Iuft. I talke not of his maiefly, you would not come when I fent for you.

Falft. And I heare moreouer, his highnes is falne into this fame horfon a poplexi.

Inft. Well, God mend him, I pray you let mespeake with you.

Falf. This appoplexias I take it?is a kind of lethergie, and't pleafe your lord(hip, a kind of fleeping in the bloud, a horfon tingling.

Iust. What tell you me of it, be it as it is.

Falft. It hath it originall from much griefe, from fludy, and perturbation of the braine, I haue read the caule of his effects in Galen, it is a kind of deafenes.

Inft. I think you are falne into the dileafe, for you heare now what I fay to you.

Old. Very wel my lord, very wel, rather and't please you it is the discase of not hiltning; the maladie of not marking that I am troubled withall.

Inft. To punish you by the heeles, would amend the attention

Lii

100

104

10R

+

112

116

120

124

128

132

136

Ŧ

LICINY VING JUM VING tion of your'eares, and I care not if I doe become your philitian. Falft. I am as poore as lob my lord, but not fo pacient, 144 your Lordship may minister the potion of imprisonment to me, in respect of pouerty, but how I should be your pacient to follow your prescriptions, the wife may make fom dramme of 148 a scruple, or indeede a scruple it selfe. Iuft. I fent for you when there were matters against you for your life to come speake with me. 152 Fall. As I was then aduilde by my learned counfail in the lawes of this land feruice, I did not come. Inft. Wel, the truth is fir Iohn, you live in great infamy. 156 Falf. He that buckles himfelfe in my belt cannot liue in lesse. Inft. Your meanes are very flender, and your wafte is great. 160 Falst. I would it were otherwife, I would my meanes were greater and my wafte flender. ۲ Inft. You have milled the youthfull prince. 164 Fallt. The yong prince hath milled me, I am the felow with the great belly, and he my dogge. Iuft. Wel, I am loth to gall a new heald wound, your daies 168 feruice at Shrewsbury, hath a little guilded ouer your nights exploit on Gadshill, you may thanke th vnquiet time, for your quiet oreposting that action. Falft. My lord. 142 Inft. But fince all is well, keepe it fo, wake not a fleeping wolfe. Falft. Towake a wolfe, is as bad as fmell a fox. 146 Iuft. VVhat you are as a candle, the better part, burnt out. Fallf. A walfel candle my lord, al tallow, if I did fay of wax, 180 my growth would approue the truth. Inft. There is not a white haire in your face, but should have his effect of gravity. Fallt. His effect of grauy, grauie, grauie. 184

Inst. You follow the yong prince vp and downe, like his ill angell.

B₃

Falft.

I.ii

Falf. Not fo my lord, your ill angell is light, but I hope he that lookes vpon me will take me without weighing, and yet in fome refpects I grant I cannot go. I cannottell, vertue is of fo little regard in these costar-mongers times, that true valour is turnd Berod, Pregnancie is made a Tapster, & this quick wit wasted in giving reckonings, all the other giftes appertinent to man, as the malice of his age shapes the one not worth a goosbery, you that are old consider not the capacities of vs that are yong, you doe measure the heate of our livers with the bitterness of your galles, and we that are in the vaward of our youth, I must confess are wagges too.

Lo. Do you fet downe your name in the feroule of youth, that are written downe, old with all the characters of age?haue you not a moift eie, a dry hand, a yelow checke, a white beard, a decreasing leg, an increasing belly?is not your voice broken, your winde fhort, your chinne double, your wit fingle, and euery part about you blafted with antiquitie, and will you yet call yourfelfe yong? fie, fie, fie, fir John.

John My Lorde, I was borne about three of the clocke in the afternoone, with a white head, and fomething a round belhe, for my voyce, I haue loft it with hallowing, and finging of Anthems: to approvue my youth further, I will not : the truth is, I am onely olde in indgement and vnderftanding : and hee that wil caper with me for a thoufand markes, let him lend me the money, and haue at him for the boxe of the yeere that the Prince gaue you, he gaue it like a rude Prince, and you tooke it like a fenfible Lord : I haue checkt him for it, and the yong lion repents, mary not in afters and fackcloth, but in new filke, and olde facke.

Lord . Well, God fend the prince a better companion.

Iohn God fend the companion a better prince, 1 cannot ridde my hands of him.

Lord Well, the King hath feuerd you: I heare you are going with lord Iohn of Lancaster against the Archbishop and the Earle of Northumberland.

Iohn Yea, I thanke your prety fweet wittefor it : but looke you

13

I.ü

188

$196

200

192

204

216

*

 $*(\frac{1}{2})$

212

224

220

228

$32

Henry the fourth.

you pray, all you that kiffe my lady Peace at home, that our armies ioyne not in a hote day, for, by the Lord, I take but two fhirts out with me, and I meane not to fweate extraordinarily: if it be a hot day, & I brandish any thing but a bottle. I would I might neuer spit white again: there is not a dangerous action can peepe out his head, but I am thrust vpon it. Wel, I cannot last euer, but it was alway yet the tricke of our English nation, if they have a good thing, to make it too common. If yee will needs fay I am an olde man, you fhould give me reft: I would to God my.name were not fo terrible, to the enemy as it is, I were better to be eaten to death with a ruft, than to be fcoured to nothing with perpetuall motion.

Lord Well be honeft, be honeft, and God bleffe your expedition.

John Will your lord (hip lend me a thou fand pound to furnifh me forth?

Lord Notapenny, not a penny, you are too impatient to beare crosses : fare you well : commend mee to my coofine Westmerland.

Iohn If I do, fillip me with a three man beetle : A man can no more separate age and couctousnelle, than a can part yong limbs and lechery, but the gowt galles the one, and the pox pinches the other, and fo both the degrees preuent my curfes, (boy.

Boy Sir.

Iohn What money is in my purfe?

Boy Seuen groates and two pence.

Iohn I can get no remedy against this confumption of the purfe, borrowing onely lingers and lingers it out, but the difeafe is incurable : Go beare this letter to my lord of Lancaster. this to the Prince, this to the Earle of Westmerland, and this to olde miftris Vrfula, whome I have weekely fworne to marry fince I perceiud the first white haire of my chin : about it, you know where to finde me : a pox of this gowt, or a gowt of this pox, for the one or the other playes the rogue with my great toe. Tis no matter if I doe hault, I haue the warres for my color, and my penfion thal feeme the more reafonable: a good wit Lü.

236

240

244 *

248

252

250

260

264

268

272

I pe jecona part of wit will make vse of any thing; I will turne diseafes to commoditie.

Enter th' Archbishop, Thomas Mowbray (Earle Marshall) the Lord Hastings, Fanconbridge, and Bardolfe.

Bilhop Thus have you heard our caule, and knowne our And my most noble friends, I pray you al (meanes, Speake plainely your opinions of our hopes, And first Lord Marshall, what fay you to it? Marsh. I well allow the occasion of our armes,

But gladly would be better fatisfied, How in our meanes we fhould aduance our felues, To looke with forehead, bold, and big enough, Vpon the power and puiffance of the King.

Hast. Our prefent multers grow vpon the file, To fiue aud twenty thouland men of choife, And our fupplies liue largely in the hope Of great Northumberland, whose bosome burnes With an incensed fire of injuries.

Bard. The question then Lord Hastings standeth thus, Whether our present five and twentie thousand, May hold vp head without Northumberland.

Hast. With him we may.

Bard. Yea mary, theres the point, But if without him we be thought too feeble, My iudgement is we fhould not ftep too far. Bifs. T is very true lord Bardolfe, for indeede

It was yong Hot-fpurs caufe at Shrewsbury. Bard. It was my Lord, who lined himfelfe with hope, Eating the ayre, and promife of fupplie, Flattring himfelfe in project of a power, Much fmaller then the fmalleft of his thoughts, And fo with great imagination, Proper to mad-men, led his powers to death, And winking, leapt into deftruction. Hast. But by your leaue it neuer yet did hurt,

To

15

Iii

Liii

1

4

8

12

76

20/25

t

+28

	I.iii.
Henry the fourth.
To lay downe likelihoods and formes of hope.	35
Bard. We fortifie in paper, and in figures,	35
Vling the names of men in fteed of men,
Like on that drawes the model of an house,
Beyond his power to build it, who(halfe thorough)	·
Giues o re, and leaues his part created coft,	60
A naked subject to the weeping clowdes,
And walte for churlifh winters tyrannie.
Haft. Grant that our hopes(yet likely of faire birth) Should be ftil. borne, and that we now posself
The vunoft man of expectation,	64
I thinke we are fo, body ftrong enough,
Euen as we are to equal with the King.	*
Bard. What, is the King but fiue and twenty thouland?	68
Haft. To vs no more, nay not fo much, Lord Bardolfe,
For his diuisions, as the times do brawle,
And in three heads, one power against the French,	+
And one against Glendower perforce a third	72
Must take vp vs, fo is the vnfirme King
In three duuided, and his coffers found
With hollow pouertie and emptineffe. Biss. That he should draw his feuerall ftrengths togither,
And come against vs in full puissance,	76
Need not to be dreaded.
Haft. If he should do so, French and Welch he leaves his	Ť
back vnarmde, they baying him at the heeles neuer feare that.	19-80
Bar. Who is it like fhould leade his forces hither?
Haft. The Duke of Lancaster and Westmerland:
Against the Welsh, himself and Harry Monnouth:
But who is fubstituted against the French	84
I haue no certaine notice.	85
Bib. Shall we go draw our numbers, and fet on?	Tog
Haft. We are Times fubiects, and Time bids be gone. ex.
Enter Hostesse of the Tauerne, and an Officer or two.	II.i.
C Hofteffe.

II.i .
	"I NO LOCOMA DAYL OF
	1 ne jecona part of
7	Hostesse Master Phang, have you entred the action? Phang It is entred.
4	Hoft. Wheres your yeoman? ift a lufty yeoman? wil a ftand
	Phang Sirra, wheres Snare?
	Hoff. O Lord I, good master Snare.
8	Snare Here, here.
	Phang Snare, we must arest fir John Falstaffe.
	Hoft. Yea good master Snare, I have entred him and all,
12	Snare It may chaunce cost some of vs our liues, for he will flabbe.
	Hoft. Alas the day, take heed of him, he ftabd me in mine
16	owne houfe, most beastly in good faith, a cares not what mif-
10	chiefe he does if his weapon he and he will for the chiefe he does, if his weapon be out, he will foyne like any di-uell, he will spare neither man, woman, nor child.
20	Phang If I can clofe with him, I care not for his thruft.
	Host. No nor I neither, ile be at your elbow.
24	Phang And I but fift him once, and a come but within my view.
	Hoft. I am vndone by his going, I warrant you, hees an in-finitue thing vppon my lcore, good maifter Phang holde him
28	fure, good master Snare let him not scape, a comes continually to Pie corner (fauing your manhoods) to buy a faddle, and he is indited to dinner to the Lubbers head in Lumbert freete to 32	master Smooths the filk man, I pray you fince my exion is en-tred, and my cafe fo openly knowne to the worlde, let him be the worlde, let nim be freete to on is enthim be brought in to his answer, a hundred marke is a long one, for a poore lone woman to beare, and I have borne, and borne, and borne, and haue bin fubd off, and fubd off, and fubd off, from this day to that day, that it is a fhame to be thought on, there is no honefty in fuch dealing, vnleffe a woman fhould be made an affe, and a beaft, to beare every knaues wrong : yonder he comes, and that arrant malmfie-nofe knaueBardolfe with him, do your offices, do your offices mafter Phag, & mafter Snare, do me, do me, do me your offices.

Enter fir Iohn, and Bardolfe, and the boy.

Faift.

36

40

	_II.i
Henry the fourth.
Fall. How now, whole mare's dead? whats the matter?
Phang I arrest you at the fute of mistris, quickly.	. 4
Fall. Away varlets, draw Bardolfe, cut me off the villaines head, throw the queane in the channell.	5
Hoft. Throw me in the channell? Ile throw thee in the channel, wilt thou, wilt thou, thou bastardly rogue, murder murder, a thou honifuckle villaine, wilt thou kill Gods officers and the	50
Kings?a thou honifeed rogue, thou art a honifeed, a man queller, and a woman queller.
Fallt. Keepe them off Bardolfe.	60
Offic. A reskew, a reskew. Host, Good people bring a reskew or two, thou wot, wot thou, thou wot, wot ta, do do thou rogue, do thou hempleed.
Boy Away you fcullian, you rampallian, you fultilarian, ile	6 tickle your cataftrophe.
Enter Lord chiefe justice and his men.
Lord What is the matter? keepe the peace here, ho.	6
Hostesse Good my lord be good to me, I beseech you stand to mc.
Lord How now fir Iohn, what are you brawling here?
Doth this become your place, your time, and bufineffe?	7
You fhould have bin well on your way to Yorke:
Stand from him fellow, wherefore hang's thou vpon him.
Hoft. O my most worthipful Lord, and't please your grace I am a poore widdow of Eastcheape, and he is arrested at my	1 fute.
Lord For what fumme?
Hoft. It is more then for fome my Lord, it is for al I haue, he	8 hath eaten me out of house and home, he hath put all my substance into that fat belly of his, but I wil have some of it out againe, or I wil ride thee a nights like the mare.
Falst. I think I am as like to ride the mare if I have any van-	8 tage of ground to get vp.
Lord How comes this fir Iohn? what man of good temper would endure this tempeft of exclamation, are you not alha-	8 med to inforce a poore widdow, to fo rough a courfe to come C 2 by C 2 Dy
	_

1 we jecona part of

by her owne.

Falst. What is the groffe fumme that I owe thee?

Host. Mary if thou wert an honeft man, thy felfe and the mony too: thou did ft fweare to me vpon a parcell guilt goblet, fitting in my dolphin chamber, at the round table by a lea cole fire, vpon wednelday in Wheelon weeke, when the prince broke thy head, for liking his father to a finging man of Winfor, thou didft fweare to me the, as I was washing thy wound, to marry me, and make me my lady thy wife, canft thou deny it, did not goodwife Keech the butchers wife come in then and cal me goffip Quickly, comming in to borow a meffe of vinegar, telling vs fhe had a good difh of prawnes, whereby thou didft defire to eate fome, whereby I told thee they were ill for a greene wound, and didft thou not, when the was gone down stayers, defire me, to be no more fo familiarity, with fuch poore people, faying that ere long they fhould cal me madam, and didft thou not kiffe me, and bid me fetch thee thirtie shillings, I put thee now to thy booke oath, denie it if thon canft.

Fall. My lord this is a poore made foule, and the faies vp and downe the towne, that her eldeft fonne is like you, the hath bin in good cafe and the trueth is pouerty hath diftracted her, but for thefe foolish officers, I befeech you I may have redreffe against them.

Lo.Sir Iohn fir Iohn, I am wel acquainted with your maner of wrenching the true caufe, the falle way : it is not a confident brow, nor the throng of words that come with fuch more then impudent fawcines from you can thruft me from a leuel confideration: you have as it appeares to me practifde vpon the eafie yeelding fpirite of this woman, and made her ferue your vfes both in putfe and in perfon.

Host. Yea in truth my Lord.

Lo. Pray the peace pay her the debt you owe her and vnpay the villany you have done with her, the one you may doe with fleiling mony, and the other with currant repentance.

Faff. My Lord I will not vndergoe thisfnepe without reply, you calhonorable boldnes impudent faweineffe, if a man wil

Пi

92

96

100

104

108

1 . 2

116

120

*(1)

128

Henry the fourth.

wil make curtie and fay nothing, he is vertuous, no my Lord my humble duty remembred, I will not bee your futer, I fay to you I do defire deliverance from these officers, being vpon hasty imployment in the Kings affayres.

Lord You speake as having power to do wrong, but anfwer in th'effect of your reputation, and fatisfie the poore woman.

Falft. Come hither hofteffe.

Lord Now master Gower, what newes. enter a messenger. Gower The King my Lord, and Harry prince of Wales, Are neare at hand, the rest the paper tells.

Fallt. As I am a gentleman!

Hoft. Faith you faid fo before.

Falft. As I am a gentleman, come, no more words of it.

Hast. By this heaunly ground I tread on, I must be faine to pawne both my plate, & the tapestry of my dining chambers-

Falft. Glaffes glaffes is the onely drinking, and for thy wals a pretty fleight drollery, or the florie of the prodigal, or the Iarman hunting in waterworke, is worth a thoufand of thefe bed hangers, and thefe flie bitten tapeftrie, let it be x. P if thou canft: come, and twere not for thy humors, theres not a better wench in England, goe wash thy face and draw the action, come thou must not be in this humor with me, doft not know me, come, come, I know thou wast fet on to this.

Hoft. Pray thee fir Iohn let it be but twentie nobles, ifaith I am loath to pawne my plate fo God faue me law.

Falft. Let it alone, ile make other fhift. youle be a foole ftil. Hoft. Well, you fhall haueit, though I pawne my gowne, I hope youle come to fupper, youle pay me al together.

Falf. Willliue? goe with her, with her, hooke on, hooke on. exit hostelle and lerge int.

Hoft. Will you have Doll Tere-sheet meete you at supper. Fallt. No more words, lets have her.

Lord. I haue heard better newes.

Fallt What's the newes my lord?

Lord Where lay the King to night?

C₃

Mell.

Пİ.

130

140

144

148

152

156

$100

161

16.9

172

140

II.i
	'I he Jecond part of
+ 184	Meff. At Billingfgate my Lord. Failt. I hope my Lord al's wel, what is the newes my lord? Lord Come all his forces backe?
188	Meff. No, fifteen hundred foot, fiue hundred horfe Are marcht vp to my lord of Lancaster, Against Northumberland, and the Archbishop. Falst. Comes the King back from Wales, my noble lord? Lord You shall have letters of me prefently,
7g2	Come, go along with me, good maîter Gower. Falst, My lord. Lord Whats the matter? Falstaffe Maifter Gower, shall I intreate you with meeto
196	dinner? Gower I must waite vpon my good lord here, I thank you good fir Iohn. Lord Sir Iohn, you loyter heere too long,
200	Being you are to take fouldiers vp In Counties as you go. Falftaffe Will you fuppe with mee maifter Gower?
204	Lord What foolifh maister taught you these manners, fir Iohn? Falstaffe Maister Gower, if they become me not, hee was a
208	foole that taught them mee : this is the right fencing grace, my Lord, tap for tap, and fo part faire.
II.ii.	Lord Now the Lord lighten thee, thou art a great foole. Enter the Prince, Poynes, fir John Ruffel, with other. Prince Before God, I am exceeding weary.
4	Poynes Ift come to that? I had thought wearines durft not haue attacht one of fo hie bloud. Prince Faith it does me, though it discolors the complexi- on of my greatnes to acknowledge it: doth it not shew vildly
8	in me, to defire fmall beere? Poynes Why a Prince fhould not be fo loofely fludied, as to remember fo weake a composition.
12	Prince Belike then my appetite was not princely gote, for by my troth, I do now remember the poor creature smal beere. But

Henry the fourth.

But indeed thefe humble confiderations make me out of loue with my greatneffe. What a difgrace is it to mee to remember thy name? or to know thy face to morow? or to take note how many paire of filke flockings thou haft with thefe, and thofe that were thy peach colourd once, or to beare the inuentone of thy fhirts, as one for fuperfluitie, and another for vfe. But that the Tennis court keeper knows better than I, for it is a low eb of linnen with thee when thou keepeft not racket there, as thou haft not done a great while, becaufe the reft of the low Countries haue eate vp thy holland: and God knows whether thofe that bal out the ruines of thy linnen fhal inherite his kingdom: but the Midwines fay, the children are not in the fault wherevpon the world increafes, and kinreds are mightuly ftrengthened.

Poynes How ill it followes, after you haue labored folhard, you fhould talke fo ydlely i tell me how many good yong princes woulde doe fo, their fathers being fo ficke, as yours at this time is.

Prince Shall I tel thee one thing Poynes?

Poynes Yes faith, and let it be an excellent good thing.

Prince It shall ferue among wittes of no higher breeding then thine.

Poynes Go to, I stand the push of your one thing that you will tell.

Prince Mary I tell thee it is not meete that I fhould bee fad now my father is ficke, albeit I could tell to thee, as to one it pleafes me for fault of a better to call my friend, I could be fad, and fad indeede too.

Poynes Very hardly, vpon fuch a fubiect.

Prince By this hand, thou thinkeft me as farre in the diuels booke, as thou and Falltaffe, for obduracie and perfiftancie, let the end trie the man, but I tel thee, my heart bleeds inwardly that my father is fo lick, and keeping fuch vile company as thou arte, hath in reason taken from me all oftentation of forrowe.

Poynes The reason.

Prince.

22

П.ü

10

t

20

24

*(})

*28

*

*

*

32

36

40

44

48

1 NO JELUNA PAILUJ

Prince What would it thou thinke of meif I should weep? Poyner I would thinke thee a most princely hypocrite. Prince It would bee euery mans thought, and thou arte a bleffed felow, to thinke as euery man thinkes, neuer a mans thought in the world, keepes the rode way better then thine, euerie man would thinke me an hypocrite indeede, and what accites your most worshipfull thought to thinke fo?

Poynes Why becaufe you have been to lewd and fo much engraffed to Falstaffe. Prince And to thee.

Payne By this light I am well fpoke on, I can heare it with mine owne cares the worft that they can fay of me is, that I am a fecond brother, and that I am a proper fellow of my hands, and those two things I confesse I cannot helpe : by the masse here comes Bardolfe.

Enter Bardolfe and boy.

Prince. And the boy that I gaue Falltaffe, a had him from me Christian, and looke if the fat villaine haue not transformd him Ape.

Bard. God faue your grace.

Prince And yours most noble Bardolfe.

Poynes Come you vertuous affe, you bashfull foole, mult you be blushing, wherefore blush you now? what a maidenly man at armes are you become? ift such a matter to get a pottlepots maidenhead?

Boy A calls me enow my Lord through a red lattice, and I could different no part of his face from the window, at last I spied his eies, and me though the had made two holes in the ale wines peticote and so peept through.

Prince Hasnot the boy profited?

Bard, Away you horfon vpright rabble, away. Boy Away you rafcally Altheas dreame, away.

Prince Inftruct vs boy, what dreame boy?

Boy Mary my lord, Althear dreampt she was deliucred of a firebrand, and therefore I call him her dreame.

Prince A crownes worth of good interpretation there is boy.

Poincs

II.ii

56

60

64

68

72

76

RO

84

+

88

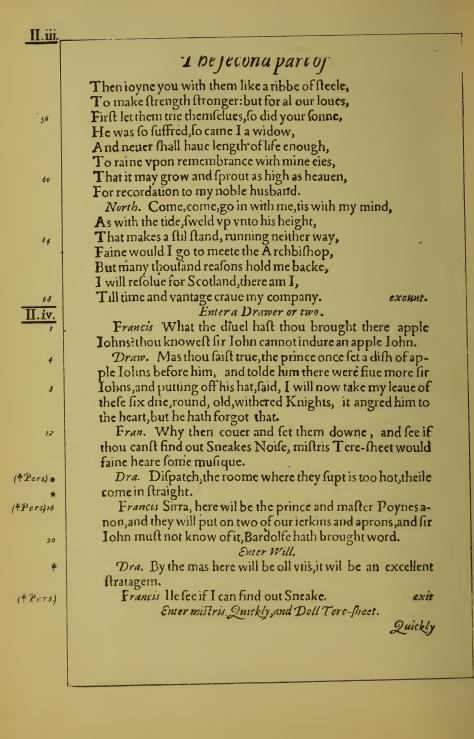

+ 92

+ 90

Henry the fourth.
Poines O that this bloffome could be kept from cankerst well, there is fixpence to preferue thee.
Bard, And you do not make him hangd among you, the gal-	70
lowes shall have wrong.
Prince And how doth thy mafter Bardolfe? Bard. Well my Lord, he heard of your graces comming to towne, theres a letter for you.	70
Poynes Deliverd with good respect, and how doth the martlemasse your master?
Bard. In bodily health fir.
Poynes Mary the immortall part needes a philitian, but that	1 moues not him, though that be ficke, it dies not,
Prince. I do allow this Wen to be as familiar with me, as my dogge, and he holds his place, for looke you how he writes.
Poynes John Falltaffe Knight, every man mult know that as oft as he has occasion to name himfelfe: even like those that are kin to the King for they neuer pricke their finger, but they	1 faye, theres fome of the Kings bloud spilt : how comes . that (faies he) that takes vppon him not to conceiue the answer is as	12
ready as a borowed cap : I am the Kings poore colin, fir.	Ť
Prince Nay they will be kin to vs, of they will fetch it from Iaphet, but the letter, Sir Iohn Falltaffe knight, to the fonne of	72
the king, neareft his father, Harry prince of Wales, greeting,	Ť
Poynes Why this is a certificate.
Prince Peace,
I will imitate the honourable Romanes in breuitie.
Poynes Hefure meanes breuity in breath, (hort winded,	1
I commend mee to thee, I commend thee, and, I leave thee, be not too familiar with Poynes, for he mifules thy fa- uours to much, that he fweares thou art to mary his fifter Nel, repent at idle times as thou mail, and to farwel.	2 Thine by yea, and no, which is as much as to fay, as thou vleft him, Iacke Falltaffe with my family,	1
John with my brothers and fifters, and fir John with all Europe.
Poynes My Lord, lle steep this letter in facke and make him	L
D cate

	'I he Jecond part of
	cate it.
	Prince Thats to make him eate twenty of his words, but do you vse me, thus Ned? must I marrie your fister?
52	Poynes God fend the wench no worfe fortune, but I neuer faid fo. Prince Wel, thus we play the fooles with the time, and the 50	fpirits of the wife fit in the clowdes and mocke vs, is your ma-
50	Ater here in London?
	Bard. Yeamy Lord.
60	Prince Where supshe? doth the old boare feede in the old Franke?
	Bard. At the old place, my lord, in Eastcheape.
	Prince VVhat companie?
164	Boy Ephefians, my lord, of the old church.
	Prince Sup any women with him?
	Boy None my lord, but old mistris Quickly, and mistris Dol
68	Tere-sheet. Prince VVhat Pagan may that be?
00	Boy A proper gentlewoman fir, and a kinfwoman of my mafters.
72	Prince Euen fuch kinne as the parish Heicfors are to the
1	towne bull, fhall we steale vpon them Ned at supper?
	Poynes I am your shadow my Lord, ile follow you.
76	Prince Sirra, you boy and Bardolfe, no worde to your ma-fter that I am yet come to towne; theres for your filence.
	Bar. I haue no tongue fir.
780	Boy And for mine fir, I will gouerneit.
	Prince Fare you well : go, this Doll Tere-sheete should be some rode.
184	Poyne 1 warrant you, as common as the way between S.Al-
104	bons and London.
	Prince How might we fee Falltaffe beltow himfelf to night
188	in his true colours, and not our felues be feene?
	Poynes Put on two letherne ierkins and aprons, and waite vpon him at his table as drawers.
192	Prince From a god to a bul, a heauy descension, it was Ioues cafe

	II.ii.
Henry the fourth.
cale, from a pince to a prentile, a low transformation, that Ihal	Ŧ
be mine, for in enery thing the purpole must weigh with the folly, follow me Ned.	1 96
Enter Northumberland his wife, and the wife to Harry Percie. North. I pray thee louing wife and gentle daughter,	II.iii.
Giue euen way vnto my rough affaires,
Put not you on the vilage of the times,
And be like them to Percy troublesome. Wife I haue giuen ouer, I will speake no more,	4
Do what you wil, your wifedome be your guide.
North. Alas sweete wife, my honor is at pawne,
And but my going, nothing can redeeme it.	8
Kate Oyet for Gods fake. go not to these wars,
The time was father, that you broke your word,
When you were more endeere to it then now, When your owne Percie, when my hearts deere Harry,	Ŧ
Threw many a Northward looke, to fee his father	12
Bring vp his powers, but he did long in vaine.
Who then perfwaded you to ftay at home?
There were two honors loft, yours, and your fonnes,	16
For yours, the God of heauen brighten it,
For his, if flucke vpon him as the funne
In the grey vault of heauen, and by his light Did all the Cheualry of England moue
To do braue acts, he was indeede the glasse	20
Wherein the noble youth did dreffe themselues.
North. Beshrew your heart,	45
Faire daughter, you do draw my spirites from me,	+5
With new lamenting ancient ouerfights,
But I must go and meete with danger there,	48
Or it will feeke me in an other place, And find me worfe prouided.
Wife O flie to Scotland,
Till that the nobles and the armed commons,
Haue of their puissance made a little taste.	52
Kate If they get ground and vantage of the King,	52
D 2 Then

Henry the jourth.

Quickly Yfaith Iweet heart, me thinkes now you are in an excellent good temperalitie. Your pullidge beates as extraordinarily as heart would defire, and your colour I warrant you is as red as any role, in good truth law : but yfaith you have drunke too much cannaries, and thats a maruelous fearching wine, and it perfumes the bloudere one can fay, whats this, how do you now?

Tere, Better then I was:hem.

Qui. Why thats well faid, a good heart's worth gold : loc here comes fir Iohn.

enter fir John.

fir John When Arthur first in court, empty the jourdan and was a worthy King: how now miftris Doll?

boft. Sicke of a calme, yea good faith.

Fallt. So is all her fect, and they be once in a calme they are ficke.

Tere. A pox damne you, you muddle rascall, is that all the comfort you giue me?

Fall. You make fat rascals mistris Dol.

Tere. I make them? gluttonie, and diseafes make, I make them not.

Fallt. If the cooke help to make the gluttonie, you helpe to make the difeafes Doll, we catch of you Doll, we catch of you graunt that my poore vertue, grant that.

Doll Yea ioy, our chaines and our iewels.

Fa. Your brooches, pearles, & ouches for to ferue brauely, is to come halting off, you know to come off the breach, with his pike bent brauely, and to furgerie brauely, to venture vpon the chargde chambers brauely.

Doll Hang your felfe, you muddie Cunger, hang your felfe.

hoft By my troth this is the old fashion, you two neuer meet but you fall to fome difcord, you are both ygood truth as rew matique as two dry tofts, you cannot one beare with anothers cofirmities, what the goodyere one must beare, & thatmust be you, you are the weaker veffell, as they fay, the emptier veffel, Doll.

D 3

II.iv.

24

28

32

36

40

14

48

52

50

60

II.iv.
	······································
68	Dorothy Can a weake empty vessell beare such a huge full hogheadtheres a whole marchats venture of Burdeux fuffe in him, you haue not seene a hulke better stuft in the hold.
72	Come, ile be friends with thee iacke, thou art going to the wars, and whether I shall ever see thee againe or no there is no body cares.
	Enter drawer.
	Dra. Sir, Antient piltol's belowe, and would speake with you.
76	Dol Hang him swaggering rascal, let him not come hither it is the foule-mouthd ft rogue in England.
80	hoft. If he fwagger, let him not come here, no by my faith I mult live among my neighbours, lie no fwaggerers, I am in good name, and fame with the very belt: (but the doore there
84	comes no iwaggerers here, I have not lived all this while to have
	Fal. Doft thou heare hofteffe?
88	Host. Pray ye pacifie your selfe sir John, there comes no
	Awaggerers nere.
	Fal. Doft thou heare it is mine Ancient.
92	Ho. Tilly fally, fir Iohn, nere tel me: & your ancient fwag- grer comes not in my doores : I was before maister Tificke
92	the debuty tother day, & (as he faid to me) twas no longer ago than weddday last, I good faith, neighbor Quickely, fayes he,
96	maister Dumbe our minister was by then, neighbor Quickly
	(faies he)receiue those that are ciuil, for (faide he)you are in an Ill name : now a faide fo, I can tell whereupon. For (faies he) 100	you are an honest woman, and well thought on, therefore take heede what ghelts you receive, receive (faies he) no fwaggering companions : there comes none here : you would bleffe
104	you to heare what he faid : no, lle no fwaggrers.
	Falft. Hees no fwaggrer holteffe, a tame cheter yfaith, you
108	may ftroke him as gently as a puppy grey-hound, heele not fwagger with a Barbary hen, if her feathers turne backe in any
100	thew of refutance, call him vp Drawer.
	Hoft. Cheter call you him? I will barre no honeft man my houfe,

Henry the fourth.
,
houle, nor no cheter, but I do not loue swagering by my troth,	112
I am the worfe when one faies swagger : feele maisters, how I hake, looke you, I warrant you.	-
Teresh. So you do hostelle.
Host. Doe l? yeain very trueth doe I, and twere an alpen	116
eafe, I cannot abide swaggrers.	4
Enter antient Pistol, and Bardolfes boy.	T
Pistol God faue you fir John.
Fal. Welcome ancient Pistoll, heere Pistoll, I charge you	120.
vith a cuppe of facke, do you discharge vpon mine hostesse.
Pist. I will discharge vpon her fir John, with two bullets.	124
Fal. she is pistoll proofe : sir, you shall not hardely offend
Hoft. Come, Ile drink no proofes, nor no bullets, Ile drink	128
o more than will do me good, for no mans pleafure, I.
Pift. Then, to you miss Dorothy, I will charge you.
Doro. Chargeme? I scorne you, scuruy companion : what	132 ou poore base rascally cheting lacke-linnen mate? away you nouldie rogue, away, I am meate for your mailter.
Pift. I know you mistris Dorothy.	136
Doro. Away you cutputse rascall, you filthy boung, away, y this wine Ile thrust my knife in your mouldie chappes, and ou play the fawcie cuttle with me. Away you bottle ale raf-	140
Il, you basket hilt ftale iuggler, you. Since when, I pray ou fir : Gods light, with two points on your shoulder?much.
Puit. God let me not liue, but I will murther your ruffe for	144 is.
fir Iohn No more Pistol, I would not haue you go off here,	*
scharge your selfe of our company, Pistoll.	*148
Hoff. No, good captaine Pistoll, not here, sweete captaine.
Doro. Captain, thou abhominable damnd cheter, art thou	152 ot ashamed to be called Captaine?and Captaines were of my ind, they would trunchion you out, for taking their names pon you, before you haue earnd them : you a captaine? you	256
aue, for what? for teareing a poore whoores ruffe in a bawdy ouse : hee a captainethang him rogue, he lives vpon mowldy flewd

•

3

w 16

	The Jecond part of 2.
160	frewd pruins, and dried cakes: a captaine? Gods light these vil-
(as the	laines wil make the word as odious as the word occupy, which -sorted)	was an excellent good worde before it was il forted, therefore captains had neede look too't. Bard. Pray thee go downe good Ancient.
164	Falst. Hearke thee hither miltris Dol.
	Pist. Not I, Itell thee what corporall Bardolfe, I could teare her, Ile bereuengde of her.
168	Boy Pray thee go downe.
	Pist. Ile see her damnd first, to Plutoes damnd lake by this had to th'infernal deep, with erebus & tortures vile also : holde
172	hooke and line, fay I: downe, downe dogges, downe faters haue
	we not Hiren here?
	Host. Good captaine Peesell be quiet, tis very late yfaith, I
176	beseeke you now aggrauate your choller.
	Pift Thefe be good humors indeede, Ihal pack-horfes, and hollow pamperd iades of Afia which cannot goe but thirtie
179-80	mile a day, compare with Cæfars and with Canibals, and tro-iant Greekes?nay rather damne them with King Cerberus, and let the Welkin roare, shall we fall foule for toies?
	Hoft. By my troth captane, thefe are very bitter words.
184	Bard. Be gone good Ancient, this will grow to a brawle anon.
188	Piff. Men like dogges give crownes like pins, have we not
	Hiren here?
	Haft. A my word Captaine, theres none fuch here, what 192	the goodyeare do you thinke I would denie her? for Gods fake be quiet.
	Pift. Then feed and be fat, my faire Calipolis, come giues 195-6	some facke, si fortune me tormente sperato me contento, feare we brode sides?no, let the fiend giue fire, giue me some sacke, and fweet hartlie thou there, come we to ful points here? and are & cæteraes, no things?
	Fall. Piltol, I would be quiet.
200	Pift. Sweet Knight, I kiffe thy neaffe, what, we have feene the feuen flarres.
	Dol.

	II.iv.
Henry the fourth.
Dol.For Gods fake thrust him down staises, I cannot indure fuch a fuftian rafcall.
Pift Thrusthim downe staires, know we not Galloway	204
nagges?
Falft. Quaite him downe Bardolfe like a shoue-groat shilling, nay, and a doe nothing but speake nothing, a shall be no-	206 thing here. Bard Come,get you downe staires.
Piff. What shall we have incision? shall we imbrew? then death rocke me a fleepe, abridge my dolefull daies : why then	211-12 let grieuons gastly gaping wounds vntwinde the fisters three.
come Atropofe I fay.	+
Hoft. Heres goodly stuffe toward.
Fall. Giue me my rapier, boy.
Dol I pray thee lacke, I pray thee do not drawe. Fal. Get you downe staires.	216
Hoft. Heres a goodly tumult, ile forfweare keeping houfe afore ile be in thele tirrits and frights, fo, murder I warant now	280 alas, alas, put vp your naked weapons, put vp your naked weapons.
Dol. I pray thee Iack be quiet, the raical's gone, ah you hor-	224
fon little vliaunt villaine you.	+
Hoft. Are you not hurte i'th groyne?me thought a made a fhrewd thrust at your belly.	228
Fal. Haue you turnd him out a doores?
Bar. Yea fir, the rafcal's drunke, you have hurt him fir i'th inoulder.
Fal. A rafcall to braue me?	232
Dol A you fweet little rogue you, alas poore ape how thou fweatst, come let me wipe thy face, come on you horsone chops: a rogue, yfaith I loue thee, thou art as valorous as Hector of Troy, woorth fiue of Agamemnon, & ten times better	236
then the nine Worthies, a villaine!
Fal. Ah rafcally flaue! I will toffe the rogue in a blanket.	+240
Dol Do and thou darlt for thy heart, and thou doff, ile can-uas thee betweene a payre of theetes.	244
E Boy.

Liv.
	The second part of
	Boy The mulique is come fir. enter muficke.
248.	Fal. Let them play, play firs, fit on my knee Doll, a rafcall bragging flauet the rogue fled from me like quickfiluer.
	Dot Yfaith and thou followd thim like a church, thou horfon little tydee Bartholemew borepigge, when wilt thou leaue fighting a daies and foyning a nights, and begin to patch
252	vp thine old body for heauen.
	Enter Prince and Poynes.
	Fal Peace good Doll, do not speake like a deathes head, do not bid me remember mine end.
256	Dol Sirra, what humour's the prince of? Fal. A good shallow yong fellow, a would have made a good pantler, a would a chipt bread wel.
260	Dol They fay Poines has a good wit.
	Fal. He a good wit? hang him baboon, his wit's as thicke as Tewksbury mustard, theres no more conceit in him then is in a mallet.
264	Dol Why does the prince love him to then?
	Fal. Becaufe their legges are both of a bigneffe, and a plaies at quoites well, and eates cunger and fennel, and drinkes off
268	candles endes for flappe-dragons, and rides the wilde mare with the boyes, and iumpes vpon ioynd-ftooles, and fweares with a good grace, and weares his bootes very fmoothelike
272	vnto the figne of the Legge, and breedes no bate with telling of difcreet ftories, and fuch other gambole faculties a has that fhow a weake minde, and an able bodie for the which the prince admits him : for the prince himfelf is fuch another, the 276	weight of a haire wil turne fcales between their haber de poiz.
-/-	Prince Would not this naue of a wheele haue his eares cut off?

Poynes Lets beate him before his whore clawd like a parrot.

out live performance. Falf. Kiffe me Doll,

Prince Looke where the witherd elder hath not his poule

Poynes Isit not ftrange that defire fhould fo many yeeres

Prince

280

284

	I.i
FIENTY LIU JULI
Prince Saturne and Venus this yeere in coniunction? what faies th'Almanacke to that?
Poyns And look whether the fierie Trigon his man be not	288
lisping to his master, old tables, his note booke, his counfel kee-	+ per?
Fall. Thou dost giue me flattering busses.
Dot By my troth I kiffethee with a most constant heart."	292
Fall. 1 am old, I am old.
Dol. I loue thee better then I loue, ere a fouruy yong boy of	296 them all.
Fal. What ftuffe wilt have a kirtle of ? I shall receive mony a thursday, shalt have a cap to morrow : a merry long come a growes late, weele to bed, thou't forget me when I am gone.	300
Dol. By my troth thou't fet me a weeping and thou failt to proue that euer I dreffe my felfe handsome til thy returne, wel
hearken a'th end.	304
Fal. Some facke Francis.
Prince, Poynes Anon anon fir.
Fall. Ha? a baltard fonne of the Kings? and arte not thou	308
Poynes his brother?
Prince Why thou globe of finfull continents, what a life
dost thou leade?
Falft. A better then thou, I am a gentleman, thou art a	.312 drawer. Prince Very true fir, and I come to drawe you out by the
•
eares. Hoft. O the Lord preferue thy grace: by my troth welcom	310 to London, now the Lord bleffe that fweete face of thine, O
Icfu, are you come from Wales?
Failt. Thou horfon madde compound of maieftie, by this	320 light, flesh, and corrupt bloud, thou art welcome.
Doll How?you fat foole I fcorne you.
Poynes Mylorde, he will drive you out of your reuenge,	324 and turne all to a meriment if you take not the heate.
Prince You horfon candlemine you, how vildly did you lpeake of me now before this honeit, vertuous, chungenue	328 oman? E 2 Hoft.

e no jou on parto oj
Hoff. Gods bleffing of your good heart, and fo fhe is by my troth.
Falst. Didst thou heare me?
Prince Yea and you knew me as you did, when you ranne away by Gadíhil, you knew I was at your backe, and spoke it, on purpose to trie my patience.
Falst. No, no, not fo, I did not thinke thou waft within hearing.
Prince I shall drive you then to confesse the wilfull abuse, and then I know how to handle you.
Falst. No abuse Hall a mine honour, no abuse.
Prince Not to dispraise me, and cal me pantler and breadchipper, and I know not what?
Fal. No abuse Hall.
Poynes No abuse?
Falst No abufe Ned i'th worlde, honeft Ned, none, I dif-prailde him before the wicked, that the wicked might not fall in loue with thee: in which doing, I have done the part of a carefull friend and a true fubiest, and thy father is to give me thankes for it, no abufe Hall, none Ned, none, no faith boyes none.
Prince Seenow whether pure feare and intire cowardize, doth not make thee wrong this virtuous gentlewoman to clofe with vs: is the of the wicked, is thine holteffe here of the wicked, or is thy boy of the wicked, or honeft Bardolfe whofe zeal burnes in his nofe of the wicked?
Poynes Anfwer thou dead elme, answer.
Fallt. The fiend hath prickt down Bardolfe irrecouerable, and his face is Lucifers priuy kitchin, where he doth nothing but rolt mault-worms, for the boy there is a good angel about him, but the diuel blinds him too.
Prince For the weomen. $F_{\alpha}/\beta_{\alpha}$ For any of them. (here in hell already and humas Falft. For one of them thees in hell already, and burnes poore foules: for th'other I owe her mony, and whether the be dam nd for that I know not.
Hoft

TT

		II.iv.
	Henry the fourth.
house (no comma) twoo	 Hoft. No I warrant you. Falft. No I thinke thou art not, I thinke thou art quit for that, mary there is another inditement vpon thee. for fuffering fleft to be eaten in thy houfe, contrary to the law for the which I thinke thou wilt howle. Hoft. Al vitlars do fo, whats a joynt of mutton or two in a whole Lent? Prince You gentlewoman. Dol. What faies your grace? Fal. His grace faies that which his flefth rebels againft. 	372 376 380
	Peyto knockes at doore.
vestancis en	Hoft. Who knockes fo lowd at doore? looke too'th doore there Francis. Prince Peyto, how now, what newes? Peyto The King your father is at Weminfter, And there are twenty weake and wearied poftes, Come from the North, and as I came along I met and ouertooke a dozen captaines, Bareheaded, fweating, knocking at the Tauernes, And asking euery one for fir 10hn Falltaffe. Prince By heauen Poines, I feele me much too blame,	384 388
south.	So idely to prophane the precious time, When tempest of commotion like the fouth, Borne with blacke vapour, doth begin to melt, And drop vpon our bare vnarmed heads.	392
Falstaffe 'no comma)	Giue me my fword and cloke: Falstaffe, good night.
exeunt	Exennt Prince and Poynes.
coms doore,	Fal Now comes in the fweeteft morfell of the night, & we must hence and leaue it vnpickt; more knocking at the doore? how now, whats the matter?	396
	E 3 Bar.	400
	2

A DE JECONA PATE Of

Bar. You mult away to court fir prefently, A dozen captaines stay at doore for you.

Fal, Pay the mulitians firra, farewel holteffe, farewel Dol, you (ee (my good wenches) how men of merit are fought after, the vndeferuer may fleepe, when the man of action is calld on, farewell good wenches, if I bee not fent away poste, I will fee you againe ere I goe.

Dol. I cannot speake: if my heart be not ready to burft: wel fweete Iacke haue a care of thy felfe.

Fal. Farewell, farewell.

Hoft. Well, fare thee well, I haue knowne thee thefe twenty nine yeares. come peafe-cod time, but an honefter, and truer hearted man:wel fare thee wel.

Bard. Miftris Tere-Iheete.

Hoft. Whats the matter?

Bard. Bid mistris Tere-sheete come to my master,

Hoft. O runne Doll, runne, runne good Doll, come, the comes blubberd, yea! will you come Doll?

excunt.

Enter the King in his night-gowne alone.

King Go call the Earlesof Surrey and of War. But ere they come, bid them o're-reade thefe letters, And well confider of them, make good fpeed. How many thouland of my pooreft fubiects, Are at this howre afleepe? ô fleepe!o gentle fleep! Natures foft nurfe, how haue I frighted thee, That thou no more wilt weigh my eye-liddes downe, And fteep my fences in forgetfulnefle, Why rather fleepe lieft thou in fmoaky cribbes, Vpon vneafie pallets ftretching thee, And hufht with buzzing night-flies to thy flumber, Then in the perfumde chambers of the great, musitions (no brackets) merrite cald be exit.

Vnder

Doll speake. Jacke,

exit Wel, fare thee wel, twentie yeeres, maister

shee yea?

II.iv.

404

408

+

412

416

420+

*+

.4

8

III.i+

Henry the fourtp.
Vnder the canopies of coftly state,
And hulld with found of fweeteft melody?
O thou dull god, why li'fte thou with the vile
In lothfome beds, and leauest the kingly couch,		16
A watch-cale, or a common larum bell?
Wilt thou vpon the high and giddy malle,		4
Seale vp the ship-boies eies, and rocke his braines,		+
In cradle of the rude imperious furge,		20
And in the visitation of the winds,
Who take the ruffian pillowes by the top,		+
Curling their monstrous heads, and hanging them		L
VVith deaffing clainour in the flippery clouds,		24
That with the hurly death it felfe awakes?
Canst thou, ô partiall sleepe, giue them repose,		+
To the wet feafon in an howre forude,		+
And in the calmeft, and most ftilleft night,		28
VVith al appliances and meanes to boote,
Denyit to a King? then (happy) low lie downe, Vneafie lies the head that weares a crowne.
Theathe mes the mean that weates a crowne.
Enter Warwike Surry, and fir John Blunt,
War. Many good morrowes to your maiestie.		32
King Isit good morrow lords?		5
War. Tisonea clocke, and past.
War. Tis one a clocke, and paft. King VV hy then good morrow to you all my lords,
Haue you read ore the letter that lient you?		36
War. VVe haue my liege.
King Then you perceiue the body of our kingdome,
How foule it is, what rancke difeafes grow,
And with what danger neare the heart of it.		40
War. It is but as a body yet diftempered,
VV hich to his former ftrength may be reftored,
VVith good aduife and little medicine,	B.f.r
E 4	My

III.i.
	- we je come part og
44	My Lord Northumberland wil foone becoald
	King O God that one might reade the booke of fate And fee the reuolution of the times,	•
	Make mountaines leuell, and the continent
48	Weary offolide firmenesse melt it selfe
	Into the fea, and other times to fee,
	The beachie girdle of the ocean,
	Too wide for Neptunes hips, how chances mockes,
5^2	And changes fill the cup of alteration,
×(₹)	With divers liquors! O if this were feene,
*	The happiest youth viewing his progresse through,
*	What perills paft, what crolles to enfue?
5 ⁶ *	Would thut the booke and fit him downe and die: Tis not ten yeeres gone,
	Since Richard and Northumberland great friends,
	Didfeast togither, and in two yeare after,
60	Were they at warressit is but eight yeares fince,
	This Percie was the man neerest my foule,
	Who like a brother toyld in my affaires;
	And lated his loue and life vnder my foote.
64	Yea for my lake, eucn to the eyes of Richard.
	Gaue him defyance: but which of you was by?
	You couten Neuel, (as I may remember)
	When Richard with his eye-brimme full of teares.
68	Then checkt and rated by Northumberland,
	Did speake these wordes now proou'd a prophecies Northumberland, thou ladder by the which
- 1	My coufen Bolingbrooke afcends my throne,
7 2	(Though then (God knowes) I had no fuch intent, But that necessitie fo bowed the flate,
	That I and greatneffe were compeld to kiffe.)
	The time shall come, thus did he follow it,
76	The time wil come, that foule fin gathering head,
	Shall breake into corruption: fo went on,
	Fortelling this fame times condition,
		And

		.i.III
Henry the fourth.
And the deuifion of our amitic. War . There is a hiftorie in all mens liues, Figuring the natures or the times deceaft:		80
The which obferu'd, a man may prophecie, With a neere ayme of the maine chance of things, As yet not come to life, who in their feedes, And weake beginning lie intreafured:		84 🛉
Such thinges become the hatch and broode of time, And by the neceflary forme or this, King Richard might create a perfect gueffe, That great Northumberland then falle to him,		88
Would of that feede growe to a greater falleneffe, Which fhould not find a ground to roote vpon Vnleffe on you. King. Are thefe thinges then neceffities,		92
Then let vsmeet them like neceffities, Aud that fame word even now cries out on vs: They fay the Fifhop and Northumberland, Are fiftie thoufand ftrong.
War. It cannot be my Lord, Rumour doth double like the voice, and eccho The numbers of the feared, pleafe it your grace, To go to bedde: vpon my foule, my Lord,		90
The Powers that you alreadie haue fent foorth, Shall bring this prife in very eafily: To comfort you the more, I haue received, A certain inftance that Glendour is dead:
Your Maieftie hath beene this fortnight ill, And thele vnlealoned howers perforce must adde Vnto your ficknesse. King. I will take your counfaile,		104
And were these inward warres once out of hand, We would (deare Lords) vnto the holy land. Enter Iustice Shallow, and Iustice Silence.	exeunt	108
E 5 .	Shal.	+111.11
	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·

Ш.іі.
	j - · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
1	Shallow Come on, come on, come on fir, give me vour	Shasir
4	hand fir, giue me your hand fir, an early ftirrer, by the Roode: and how dooth my good cofin Silens?	coosin Sile
,	Silence Good morrow good cofin Shallow.	Si. coosine
	Shallow And how dooth my coofin your bed-fellowe?	Sha. doth bedfellow?
8	and your fayrest daughter and mine, my god-daughter El- len?	fairest
	Silens Alas,a blacke woofel, cofin Shallow.	Si. coosin
	Shallow By yea, and no fir : I dare faye my coofin Wil- ham is become a good fcholler, he is at Oxford full, is hee	Sha. no, sir
72	not?	stil, is he
	Silens Indeede fir to my coft.	Si.
16	Shallow A must then to the Innes a court shortly : I was once of Clements Inne, where I thinke they will talke of mad	Sha.
	Shallow yet.	wil
	Silens You were cald Lufty Shallow then, cofin.	Si. calld
20	Shallow By the maffe I was cald any thing, and I would have done any thing indeed too, and roundly too : there was	Sha. calld indeede
	Land little John Doyt of Stafford-fhire, and Blacke George	Staffordshi
	Barnes, and Francis Picke-bone, and Will Squele a Cottole man, you had not foure fuch fwinge bucklers in al the Innes	Pickebone,
24	a court againe: and I may fay to you, we knew where the bona	all againe,
+	robes were, and had the best of them all at commaundement:	wee knewe
28	then was Iacke Falstaffe (now fir Iohn) a boy, and Page to Thomas Mowbray duke of Norffolke.	Falstaffe, r sir John, p
	Silens Coolin, this fir Iohn that comes hither anone about	Si. This fouldiers?	John, coos
32	Shall. The fame (fir Iohn) the very fame, I fee him breake Skoggins head at the Court gate, when a was a Cracke, not	Sha . The sat sir John, thus high: and the very fame day did I fight with one Samfon
36	Stockefish a Fruiterer behinde Greyes Inne : Ielu, Iesu, the mad dayes that I have spent ! and to see how many of my olde acquaintance are dead.
	Silens We shall all follow, coofin.	Si.
40	Shal. Cettaine, tis certaine, very fure, very fure, death (as the Pfalmift	Sha.
	•

Henry the jourth.
Pfalmift faith) is certaine to all, all fhall die. How a good yoke of bullockes at Samforth faire? Silens By my troth I was not there.	+ ++
uing yet?
Shal. Iefu, Iefu, dead! a drew a good bow, and dead? a fhot a fine fhoote : Iohn a Gaunt loued him well, and beued much	48
twelue score, and caried you a forehand shaft a foureteene and foureteene and a halfe, that it would have doone a mansheart	52
Silens Thereafter as they be, a fcore of good Ewes may be worth tenne pounds.	56
Silens Heere come twoo of fir Iohn Falstaffes men, as I thinke.	60
Enter Bardolfe, and one with him.
Good morrow honeft gentlemen. Bard. 1 befeech you, which is luftice Shallow?	+
Shall. I am Robert Shallow fir, a poore Efquire of this Countie, and one of the Kings Iuflices of the Peace: what is your pleafure with me?	64
taine fir Iohn Falltaffe, a tall gentleman, by heauen, and a most gallant Leader.	68 man : how doth the good knight ? may I aske how my Ladie his wife doth?
with a wife.	72
deede too, better accommodated, it is good, yea in deede is it,	76
	 Pfalmift faith) is certaine to all, all fhall die, How a good yoke of bullockes at Samforth faire? Silens By my troth I was not there. Shal. Death is certaine : Is olde Dooble of your towne liating yet? Silens Dead fir. Shal. I efu, Jefu, dead : a drew a good bow, and dead a fhot a fine fhoote : Iohn a Gaunt loued him well, and beued much money on his head . Dead ! a would haue clapt ish clowrat twelue fcore, and caried you a forehand fhaft a foureteene and toureteene and a halfe, that it would haue clapt ish clowrat twelue fcore, and caried you a forehand fhaft a foureteene and foureteene and a halfe, that it would haue doone amansheart good to fee. How a fcore of Ewesnow? Mara Thereafter as they be, a fcore of good Ewes may be worth tenne pounds. Silens Heere come twoo of fir Iohn Falftaffes men , as I silens Heere come twoo of fir Iohn Falftaffes men , as I silens. Chere Bardolfe, and one with him. Mall. I am Robert Shallow fir , a poore Efquire of this Countie, and one of the Kings Iuffices Shallow? Shall. I am Robert Shallow fir, a poore Efquire of this Countie, and one of the Kings Iuffices of the Peace: what is zone pleafure with me? Mara My Captaine, fir, commends him to you, my Captaine fir Iohn Falftaffe, a tail gentleman, by heauen, and a moft zallant Leader. Mard. He greets me wel, fir, I knew him a good backfword man : how doth the good knight ? may I aske how my Ladie is wife doth? Mar. Shallow It is well fayde in faith fir , and it is well fayde index in a write.

III.ii.

80

84

88

92

96

100

104

105

ر. ا ۸

it, good phrafes, are furely, and euer were, very commendable, accommodated : it comes of accommodo, very good, a good phrafe.

Bardolfe Pardon me fir, I haue heard the worde, phrafe call you it ? by this good day, I knowe not the phrafe, but I will mayntayne the worde with my fworde, to bee a fouldiout-like word, and a worde of exceeding good command, by heauen : accommodated, that is, when a man is, as they fay, accommodated, or when a man is, beeing whereby, a may be thought to be accommodated, which is an excellent thing.

Enter sir Iohn Falstaffe.

Iust. It is very iuft : looke, here comes good fir John, giue me your good hand, giue mee your worfhippes good hand, by my troth you like well, and beare your yeeres very well, welcome good fir John.

Fal. J am glad to fee you well, good maister Robert Shallow, maister Soccard(as I thinke.)

Shal. No fir Iohn, it is my coofin Silens, in commission with me.

Falst. Good maister Silens, it well besits you should be of the Peace.

Silens Your good worfhip is welcome.

Falst. Fie, this is hot weather (gentlemen) haue you prouided me heere halfe a dozen fufficient men?

Shal. Mary haue we fir, will you fit?

Falst. Let me see them I beseech you.

Shall. Wheres the rowle ? wheres the rowle ? wheres the rowle? let me fee, let me fee, fo.fo, fo, fo, fo, fo (fo, fo) yea mary fir, Rafe Mouldy, let them appeere as I call, let them do fo, let the do fo, let me fee, where is Mouldy?

Mouldy Here and it plcase you.

Sha. What think you fir Iohn, a good limbd fellow, yong, firong, accommodated.

Bar.-me word, Phrase by this daye I ' maintaine word (no comma) souldier-like and a word command by heauen that is man is (ho comma is being

Enter Falstaf

just, look, me your worshippes

Falst. master

cosen Scilens in Falst. master Scilens.

peace.

Scil. Fal. Fie (no comma) gentlemen, here

Shal. roule (ter)

let me see (3ce) appeare cal do, them do,

Here and't Shal limbde, felow,

ELERTY TOE JUARTO.
ftrong, and of good friends.
Fal. Is thy name Mouldie?
Moul. Yea, and't please you.	716
Fal. Tis the more time thou wert vide.
Shal, Ha,ha,ha,molt excellent yfaith,things that are mouldy lacke vse:very fingular good, infaith well faid fir Iohn, very	120 well faid. Iohn prickes him.
Moui. I was prickt wel enough before, and you could have	1
let me alone, my old dame will be vndone now for one to doe	124
her husbandrie, and her drudgery, you need not to have prickt	124 me, there are other men fitter to go out then I.
Fal. Go to, peace Mouldy, you shall go, Mouldy it is time	128
you were fpent.	120
Moul, Spent?
Shal. Peacefellow, peace, ftand alide, know you where you are?for th'other fir Iohn:let me see Simon Shadow.	132
Fal. Yea mary, let me haue him to fit vnder, hees like to be a cold foldiour.
Shal. Wheres Shadow?
Shad. Here fir,	130
Fal. Shadow, whole fonne art thou?
Shad, My mothers fonne fir.
Fal. Thy mothers fonnetlike enough, and thy fathers fha-	140 dow, so the sonne of the female is the shadow of the male: it is often so indeede, but much of the fathers substance.
Shal. Do you like him fir Iohn?
Fal. Shadow wil ferue for fummer, pricke him, for we have	144
a number of shadowes, fill vp the muster booke.
Shal. Thomas Wart,
Fal. Whereshe?	148
Wart Here fir.
Fal. Is thy name Wart?
Wart Yea sir.
Fal. Thou art a very ragged wart.	152
Shal. Shall I pricke him fir Iohn?
Fal. It were superfluous for apparell is built vpon his back,	+
F and

*

Ш.й.
156	and the whole frame ftands vpon pins, pricke him no more. Shal. Ha,ha,ha,you can do it fir,you can do it, I commend you well: Francis Feeble.
	Feeble Here fir.
160	Shal. What trade art thou Feeble?
	Feeble A womanstailer fir.
	Shal. Shall I pricke him fir? Fal. You may, but if he had bin a mans tailer hee'd a prickt 164	you : wilt thou make as manie holes in an enemies battaile, as thou hast done in a womans peticoate.
768	Feeble I will do my good will fir, you can haue no more.
	Fal. Well faide good womans tailer, well faide couragious Feeble, thou wilt be as valiant as the wrathfull doue, or most magnanimous moule pricke the womans tailer : wel M.Shal-³ 7 ²	low, deepe M. Shallow.
	Feeble I would Wart might have gone fir.
176	Fal. I would thou wert a mans tailer, that thou mightift mend him and make him fit to goe, I cannot put him to a pri-uate fouldier that is the leader of fo many thousands, let that fuffice most forcible Feeble. Feeble It shall suffice fir.
180	Fal. I am bound to thee reuerend Feeble, who is next?
	Shal. Peter Bul-calte o'th greene.
184	Fal. Yea mary, lets see Bul-calfe,
	Bul. Here sir. (roareagaine.
	Eal. Fore God a likely fellow, come pricke Bul-calfe ül hee
188	Bul. O Lord, good my lord captaine. Falst. What, dolt thou roare before thou art prickt?
	Bul. O Lord fir, I am a difeafed man.
192	Fal. What difease hast thou?
	Bul. A horfon cold fir, a cough fir, which I cought with ringing in the Kings affaires vpon his coronation day fir.
196	Fal. Come thou shalt goe to the warres in a gowne, we wil haue away thy cold, and I wil take fuch order that thy friendes Ahalring for thee. Is here all?
200	Shal. Here is two more cald then your number, you must
200	haue

.

	III.ii.
tienry the jourcis.
haue but foure here fir, and fo Jpray you goe in with mee to dinner.
Fal. Come, I wil go drink with you, but I canot tary dinner, I am glad to fee you, by my troth matter Shallow.	204
Shal. O fir lohn, do you remember fince we lay all night in the windmil in faint Georges field?
Fal. No more of that maîter Shallow. Shal. Ha, twas a merry night, and is lane Night-worke a-	208 liue?
Falft. She liues mafter Shallow.
Shal. She neuer could away with me.	212
Fa. Neuer neuer, she wold alwaies fay, she could not abide master Shallow.
Sha. By the maffe I could anger her too'th heart, fhe was	276 then a bene ruba, doth the hold her owne wel?
Fal. Old old mafter Shallow. Shal. Nay the muft be old, the cannot chufe but be old, certain frees old, & Lad Robin Night-work by old Night-work,	220
before I came to Clemham,	+
Scilens Thats fiftie fiue yeare ago.	224
Shal. Ha coulen Scilens that thou hadft feene that, that this Knight and I haue feene ha fir Iohn faid I well?
Fal We have heard the chimes at midnight M.Shallow.	228
Sha. That we have that we have, that we have in faith fir
John we have, our watch-worde was Hemboies, come lets to	232 dinner, come lets to dinner, lefus the daies that wee haue feene,
Bul. Good maister corporate Bardolfe, stand my friend,	236
& heres foure Harry tenshillings in french crowns for you, in very truth fir, I had as live be hangd fir as go, and yet for mine owne part fir I do not care, but rather becaufe I am vnwilling, and for mine owne part haue a defire to ftay with my friends,	240 else fir I did not care for mine owne part fo much.
Bard. Go to, fland alide.
Moul. And good mafter corporall captaine, for my dames fake ftand my friend, the has no body to doe any thing about	244
F 2 her

Ш.п.
	y - view pur buj.
248	her when I am gone, and the is old and cannot helpe her felfe, you thall have forty fir. Bar, Go to, ftand afide. Feeble By my troth I care not, a man can die but once, we
252	owe God a death, ile nere beare a bafemind, and't bee my deftny: fo, and't be not, fo, no man's too good to ferue's prince, and let it go which way it will, he that dies this yeere is quit for the next.
75 6	Bar Well faid,th'art a good fellow. Feeble Faith ile beare no bale mind. Enter Failfaffe and the Inflices. Fal. Come fir, which men fhall I haue?
260	Shal, Foure of which you pleafe. Bar Sir, a word with you, I haue three pound to free Moul- dy and Bulcalfe.
264	Fal. Go to, well. Shal. Come fir Iohn, which foure wilyou haue? Fal. Do you chufe for me.
z68	Shal. Mary then, Mouldy, Bulcalfe, Feeble, and Sadow. Fal. Mouldy and Bulcalfe, for you Mouldy ftay at home, til you are past feruice : and for your part Bulcalfe, grow til you
27 2	come vnto it, I will none of you. Shal. Sir Iohn, fir Iohn, doe not your felfe wrong, they are your likelieft men, and I would haue you ferude with the heft.
276	Fal. Wil you tel me(mafter Shallow)how to chufe a man? care I for the limbe, the thewes, the ftature, bulke and big af- femblance of a man: giue methe fpirit M.Shalow:heres Wart,
280	you fee what a ragged apparance it is, a fhall charge you, and difcharge you with the motion of a pewterers hammer, come off and on fwifter then he that gibbets on the brewers bucket:
284	and this fame halfe facde fellow Shadow, giue me this man, he prefents no marke to the enemy, the fo-man may with as great aime leuel at the edge of a pen-knife, and for a retraite how
288	swiftly wil this Feeble the womans Tailer runne off? O giue mee the spare men, and spare me the great ones, putte mee a caliuer

Henry the fourth.
IICHTY THE JUNT THE
caliuer into Warts hand Bardolfe.
Bar. Hold Wart, trauers thas, thas, thas.
Fal.Come mannage me your caliuer: fo, very wel, go to, very	29
good, exceeding good, O giueme alwaies a little leane, olde	29
chopt Ballde, fhot : well faid yfaith Wart, th'art a good scab hold, theres a tester for thee.	29
Shal. He is not his crafts-master, he doth not do it right; I remember at Mile-end-greene, when I lay at Clements Inne,
I was then fir Dagonet in Arthurs flow, there was a little	10.
quiuer fellow, and a would mannage you his peece thus, and a	300 would about and about, and come you in, and come you in, rah, tah, tah, would a fay, bounce would a fay, and away again would a go, and againe would a come : I shall nere see fuch a	304 fellow.
Fal. Thefe fellowes wooll doe well M.Shallow, God keep you M.Scilens, I will not vie many words with you, fare you	308
wel gentlemen both, Ithank you, I must a dolen mile to night:
Bardolfe, giue the fouldiers coates.
Shal. Sir Iohn, the Lord bleffe you God profper your affaires, God fend vs peace at your returne, visit our house, let	312
our old acquaintance berenewed, peraduenture I will with ye to the court
Fal. Fore God would you would.	316
Shal, Go to, I have spoke at a word, God keep you
Fal, Fare you well gentle gentlemen. exit	320
Shal. On Bardolfe, leade the men away, as I returne I will fetch off these institutes, I do fee the bottome of institute Shallow,	324
Lord, Lord, how fubiect we old men are to this vice of lying, this fame ftaru'd iuffice hath done nothing but prate to me, of the wildnesse of his youth, and the feates he hath done about Turne-bull freet, and every third word a lie, dewer paid	328 to the hear or then the Turkes tribute, I doe remember him at Clements Inne, like a man made after fupper of a cheefe pa-ring, when a was naked, he was for all the worlde like a forkt	332 reddi(h, with a head fantaftically carued vpon it with a knife, a was fo forlorne, that his demensions to any thicke fight were F 2 inuin-	336
. F 2 inuin-

III.n. "I he jecond part of inuincible, a was the very gemies of famine, yet lecherous as a * monkie. & the whores cald him mandrake, a came ouer in the rereward of the fashion, and fung those tunes to the ouer-340*(1) fchutcht huswives, that he heard the Car-men whiltle, and fware they were his fancies or his good-nights, and nowe is *13 this vices dagger become a squire, and talkes as familiarly of 344 Iohn a Gaunt, as if he had bin fworne brother to him, and ile be fworn anere faw him but once in the tylt-yard, and then he burft his head for crowding among the Marshalles men, I 348 faw it and told Iohn a Gaunt he beate his owne name, for you might have thrust him and all his aparell into an cele-shin, the cafe of a treble hoboy was a manfion for him a Court, and 352 now has he land and beefes. Well, ile he acquainted with him if I returne, and t'fhal go hard, but ile make him a philosophers two stomes to me, if the yong Dale be a baite for the old Pike, 356 I fee no reason in the law of nature but I may snap at him : let Time shape, and there an end. IV.i Enter the Archbishop, Mowbray, Bardolfe, Hastings, within the forrest of Gaultree. Bif. What is this forreft calld? 1 Hast. Tis Gaultree forrest, and't shal please your grace. Bishop Here ftand, my lords, and fend difcouerers forth. To know the numbers of our enemies: 4 Haftings We have fent forth already. Bishop Tiswelldone, My friends and brethren (in these great affaires) I must acquaint you that I have receiv'd New dated letters from Northumberland. 8 Their cold intent, tenure, and fubstance thus : Here doth he wish his perfon, with fuch powers, As might hold fortance with his quallitie, The which he would not leuy : whereupon 72 He is returde to ripe his growing fortunes, To Scotland and concludes in hearty prayers, That your attempts may ouer-live the hazard And fearefull meeting of their oppolite. 16 Momb

LICENTY LIPE JOURTED. Marsh. Thus do the hopes we have in him touch ground, And dath themfelues to peeces. Enter mellenger. Haffings. Now, what newes? Enter mellenger. Maffings. Now, what newes? Image: Welt of this forreft, (Carcely off a mile, In goodly forme comes on the enemy, Image: Non, or neere the rate of thirty thouland. Monsbray. The iuft proportion that we gaue them out, Image: Network of the field. Monsbray. The iuft proportion that we gaue them out, Image: Network of the field. Monsbray. The iuft proportion that we gaue them out, Image: Network of the field. Mombray. I thinke it is my lord of Weltmerland. Image: Network of the prince lord lohn and duke of Lancafter. Monbray. I thinke it is my lord of Weltmerland. Image: Network of the prince lord lohn and duke of Lancafter. Monbray. I thinke it is in plord of Weltmerland. Image: Network of the prince lord lohn and buke of Lancafter. Melf. Vito your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffe Image: Network of the prince lord lohn and beft rowtes, Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, And counteenaunt by boyes and beggary. Mark. Telefine in bale and abie trowtes, Image: Network, Led on by bloody Infurrection Image: Network, With your fire Honours. You (lord Archbilihop) Imac		IV.i.
Moreb.Thus do the hopes we haue in him touch ground, And daft themfelues to peeces.Enter meffengerHaffingsNow, what newes? Meffenger20HaffingsNow, what newes? Meffenger20And by the ground they hide, I indge their number20Vpon, or neere the rate of thirty thoufand. Morebray20MorebrayThe inft proportion that we gaue them out, Let vs fivay on, and face them in the field.24BifloopWhat wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere? Enter Weffmerland. Morebray24MorebrayI thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland. Weff.24Meffer, Health and faire greeting from our Generall, The princelord I ohn and duke of Lancafter. Bifloop25What doth concerne your comming? Weff.4Weff.Vonto your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffe32Weff.Vhat doth concerne your comming? Weff.4Weff.Vhat doth concerne your comming? Weff.4Weff.Not your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffe The fublikance of my fpeech: if that rebellion Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abiech rowtes, Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, And counternaunft by boyes and beggary.30I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare, I his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape, You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes, Had not beene	rienry the jourth.
And dath themfelues to peeces. Enter mellenger Haffings Now, what newes? Mellenger Weth of this forreft, fcarcely off a mile, In goodly forme comes on the enemy, 20 And by the ground they hide, I indge their number 20 Vpon, or neere the rate of thirty thoufand. 20 Mowbray The inft proportion that we gaue them out, 24 Let vs fivay on, and face them in the field. 24 Bifhop What wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere? 26 Enter Welfmerland Mowbray I thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland, 26 Mowbray I thinke it is my lord of V Veftmerland in peace, 26 27 V Vhat doth concerne your comming? 4 26 Weft. Vito your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffe 26 Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abie& rowtes, 27 27 Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, 27 37 I his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape, 37 37 You, reuerend father, and the fenoble Lordes, 44 47 Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht, 37 37 Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht, 47 <td></td> <td></td>
HaffingsNow, what newes? Meffenger22MeffengerWelt of this forreft, fcarcely off a mile, In goodly forme comes on the enemy, And by the ground they hide, I iudge their number Vpon, or neere the rate of thirty thouland. Mombray The iult proportion that we gaue them out, Letvs fway on, and face them in the field. Bifkop What wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere? Enter Weffmerland Mombray I thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland, Weft. Health and faire greeting from our Generall, The princelord Iohn and duke of Lancafter. Buftop Say on my lord of V Veftmerland in peace, Weft. Vnto your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffe The fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellion Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abiedt rowtes, Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary. I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare, In his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape, You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes, Had not beene heere to dreff the owgly forme Of bafe and bloody Infurreftion Whofe Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde, Whofe beard the filter hand of Peace hath toucht, Whofe beard the filter speace hath toucht, Whofe beard the filter speace hath toucht, Whofe heard and good letters Peace hath toucht, Whofe white inueftments figures innocence, The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace. Whofe heard had boyfirous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,20
In goodly forme comes on the enemy,20And by the ground they hide, I iudge their number20Vpon, or neere the rate of thirty thouland.24 Mondbray The iult proportion that we gaue them out,24Letvs fivay on, and face them in the field.24 Bifloop What wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere?24 Enter Weftmerland 26 Mondray I thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland,26 Weft . Health and faire greeting from out Generall,26The princelord Iohn and duke of Lancafter.26 Weft . Vhat doth concerne your comming?4 Weft . Vhot your Grace doe I in chiefe addreffe7The fubfance of my fpeech : if that rebellion32Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abiect rowtes,36Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage,36And counternaunft by boyes and beggary.36I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,36I n his true, natiue, and moft proper thape,36You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,46With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)46Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,47Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath toucht,47Whofe white immetherist figures innocence,47The Doue, and yery bleffed fiprite of peace.48Whofe heard he filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,47Whofe heard he filuer hand of peace hath toucht,47Whofe heard he filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,47Whofe heard he filuer hand of Peace hath toucht, <td>Hastings Now, what newes?</td> <td></td>	Hastings Now, what newes?
And by the ground they hide, I indge their numberVpon, or neere the rate of thirty thouland. Mombray The inft proportion that we gaue them out,Letvs fivay on, and face them in the field.24Bifkop What wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere? Enter WeftmerlandMombray I thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland. Weft. Health and faire greeting from our Generall,The prince lord I ohn and duke of Lancafter.But doth concerne your comming?Weft. Vnto your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffeThefubftance of my fpeech: i fithat rebellionCamelike it felfe, in bafe and abieft rowtes,Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage,And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,Johale and bloody InfurrectionWith your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)Whofe beard the filter hand of Peace hath toucht,Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath toucht,Whofe white imeffments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.Wherefore do you foilltranflate your felfeOur of the fipech of peace that beares fuch grace,Into the harfh and boyflrous tongue of ware?Turning your bookes to grace, your incke to bloud,	Messenger Welt of this forrelt, scarcely off a mile,
Vpon, or neere the rate of thirty thouland. Mombray The juft proportion that we gaue them out, Letvs fivay on, and face them in the field.24Letvs fivay on, and face them in the field.24Bifkop What wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere? Enter Weftmerland24Mombray I thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland. Weft. Health and faire greeting from our Generall,26The prince lord I ohn and duke of Lancafter. Buftop Say on my lord of V Veftmerland in peace,26VVhat doth concerne your comming? Weft. Vnto your Grace doe I in chiefe addreffe31The fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellion Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abieft rowtes, Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.36I his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape, You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes, Had not beene heere to drefle the owgly forme36Of bale and bloody Infurrection With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)40Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath toucht, Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath toucht, Whofe white immeftments figures innocence, The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace. Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfe Our of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace, Into the harfh and boyflrous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graue, your incke to bloud,40	In goodly torme comes on the enemy,	20
MowbrayThe iult proportion that we gaue them out,Let vs fivay on, and face them in the field.24BiflopWhat wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere? Enter Weffmerland.24MowbrayI thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland.28MowbrayI thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland.28Weft.Health and faire greeting from our Generall,28The prince lord I ohn and duke of Lancafter. Bubop Say on my lord of V Veftmerland in peace,28VVhat doth concerne your comming?4Weft.Vnto your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffeThe fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellion32Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abieft rowtes,36Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.36I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare, You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes, Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly forme40Of bale and bloody Infurreftion40Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht, Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath toucht, Whofe learning and good letters Peace. Wherefore do you to ill tranflate your filfe Out of the fipeech of peace that beares fuch grace, Into the harfh and boyftrous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,40	V non or neere the rate of thirty thousand.
Let vs fivay on, and face them in the field.24BiftopWhat wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere? Enter Weftmerland. Weft. Health and faire greeting from our Generall.The prince lord Iohn and duke of Lancafter. Buftop Say on mylord of V Veftmerland in peace,26VVhat doth concerne your comming? Weft. Vnto your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffe4The fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellion Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abieft rowtes, Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.36I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare, You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes, Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly forme36Of bafe and bloody Infurrection With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)40Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath tutord; Whofe white intelfments figures innocence, The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace. Wherefore do you foil tranflate your felfe Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace, Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,40	Mowbray The just proportion that we gaue them out,
Enter WelfmerlandMombray I thinke it is my lord of Weltmerland.Welf. Health and faire greeting from our Generall,The prince lord I ohn and duke of Lancafter.Bubap Say on my lord of V Veltmerland in peace,V Vhat doth concerne your comming?Welf. Vnto your Grace doe I in chiefe addreffeThe fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellion32Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abiect rowtes,Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage,And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,Jour, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly formeOf bafe and bloody InfurrectionWhofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,Whofe kear is by a ciuile peace maintainde,Whofe white immeltments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.Wherefore do youfo ill tranflate your felfeOut of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,45Into the harfh and boyftrous tongue of warre?Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,	Let vs fway on, and face them in the field.	24
Mombray I thinke it is my lord of Weftmerland.Weft. Health and faire greeting from our Generall,The princelord Iohn and duke of Lancafter.Bulkap Say on my lord of V Veftmerland in peace,V Vhat doth concerne your comming?Weft. Vnto your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffeThe fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellionCamelike it felfe, in bafe and abiect rowtes,Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage,And counternaunft by boyes and beggary.I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly formeOf bafe and bloody InfurrectionWith your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,Whofe white immeffments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.Wherefore do you fo ill tranflate your felfeOur of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,Into the harfh and boyftrous tongue of warre?Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,	Bishop What wel appointed Leader fronts vs heere?
Weft, Health and faire greeting from out Generall,The prince lord John and duke of Lancafter.Bubap Say on mylord of V Veftmerland in peace,V Vhat doth concerne your comming?Weft. Vnto your Grace doe I in chiefe addreffeThe fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellionCamelike it felfe, in bafe and abieft rowtes,Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage,And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly formeOf bafe and bloody InfurreftionWhofe Sea is by a ciulle peace maintainde,Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,Whofe white inneftments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpinite of peace.Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfeOut of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,110111111112113114115115115115115115116116116116117118119119119119111011 </td <td></td> <td></td>
The prince lord Iohn and duke of Lancafter.28Bubap Say on my lord of V Veftmerland in peace,4V Vhat doth concerne your comming?4Weft. Vnto your Grace doe I in chiefe addreffe52The fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellion52Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abiect rowtes,52Led on by bloody youth,guarded with rage,And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,30In his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape,30You,reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,40With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)40Whofe Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde,40Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.45Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?45	Mombray I thinke it is inv ford of vv eltinenand.
BubapSay on my lord of V Veftmerland in peace,V Vhat doth concerne your comming?+Weft. Vnto your Grace doe I in chiefe addreffeThe fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellionCame like it felfe, in bafe and abiect rowtes,Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage,And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly formeOf bafe and bloody InfurrectionWith your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)Whofe Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde,Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,Whofe white inneftments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.Wherefore do you fo ill tranflate your felfeOut of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,143Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,	The prince lord John and duke of Lancafter.	28
V Vhat doth concerne your comming?+Weff. Vnto your Gracedoe I in chiefe addreffeThe fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellionCamelike it felfe, in bafe and abieft rowtes,Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage,And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,Jou, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly formeOf bafe and bloody InfurreftionWith your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)Whofe Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde,Whofe beard the filter hand of Peace hath toucht,Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfeOut of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,	Buhap Say on my lord of V Vestmerland in peace,
Weft.Vnto your Grace doe I in chiefe addreffeThe fubftance of my fpeech : if that rebellion32Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abieft rowtes,1Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage,And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,36In his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape,36You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,40Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly forme40Of bafe and bloody Infurrection40Whofe Sea is by a ciule peace maintainde,40Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,44Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,45Into the harfh and boyftrous tongue of warre?45	VV hat doth concerne your comming?	+
Camelike it felfe, in bafe and abiest rowtes, Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary. I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare, In his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape, You, reverend father, and thefe noble Lordes, Had not beene heere to dreffe the owgly forme Of bafe and bloody Infurrection With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop) Whofe Sea is by a civile peace maintainde, Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht, Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath toucht, Whofe white inveftments figures innocence, The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace. Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfe Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace, Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graves, your incke to bloud,	West. Vnto your Grace doe I in chiefe addresse
Led on by bloody youth, guarded with rage, And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.30I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare, In his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape, You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes, Had not beene heere to drefle the owgly forme30Of bale and bloody Infurrection With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop) Whofe Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde, Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht, Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath toucht, Whofe white inueftments figures innocence, The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace. Wherefore do you fo ill tranflate your felfe Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace, Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,40		32
And counteenaunft by boyes and beggary.36I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,36In his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape,36You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,40Had not beene heere to drefle the owgly forme40Of bale and bloody Infurrection40With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)40Whofe Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde,40Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,44Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfe44Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,44Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?44
I fay, if damnd commotion fo appeare,36In his true, natiue, and moft proper fhape,36You, reuerend father, and thefe noble Lordes,40Had not beene heere to drefle the owgly forme40Of bale and bloody Infurrection40With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)40Whofe Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde,40Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,44Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfe44Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,44Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?44
In his true, natiue, and most proper shape, You, reuerend father, and these noble Lordes, Had not beene heere to dress the owgly forme Of bale and bloody Infurrection 40 With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbishop) Whose Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde, Whose beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht, Whose beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht, Whose learning and good letters Peace hath toucht, Whose white inuestments figures innocence, The Doue, and very blessed figurite of peace. Wherefore do you so ill translate your felfe Out of the speech of peace that beares such grace, Into the harsh and boystrous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,		36
Had not beene heere to drefle the owgly forme40Of bale and bloody Infurrection40With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)40Whole Sea is by a ciule peace maintainde,40Whole beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,44Whole learning and good letters Peace hath tutord;44Whole white inueftments figures innocence,44Whore of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,48Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?48
Of bale and bloody Infurrection40With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbilhop)40Whole Sea is by a civile peace maintainde,40Whole Sea is by a civile peace maintainde,44Whole beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,44Whole white investments figures innocence,44Whole white investments figures innocence,44Wherefore do you foill translate your felfe48Out of the speech of peace that beares such grace,48Into the harsh and boysfrous tongue of warre?48
With your f. ire Honours. You (lord Archbifhop)Whole Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde,Whole Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde,Whole beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,Whole learning and good letters Peace hath tutord;Whole white inueftments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfeOut of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,
Whole Sea is by a ciuile peace maintainde,Whole beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,Whole learning and good letters Peace hath tutord;##Whole white inuefilments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfeOut of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,##Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,	With your fire Honours You (lord Archhilhon)	40
Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath tutord;Whofe white inuefiments figures innocence,The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfeOut of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,	Whole Sea is by a civile peace maintainde.
Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath tutord;44Whofe white inueftments figures innocence,44The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace.48Wherefore do you foill tranflate your felfe48Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace,48Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre?48Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,48	Whofe beard the filuer hand of Peace hath toucht,
The Doue, and very bleffed fpirite of peace. Wherefore do you fo ill tranflate your felfe Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace, Into the harfh and boyftrous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,	Whofe learning and good letters Peace hath tutord;	44
Wherefore do you fo ill tranflate your felfe 48 Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace, 48 Into the harfh and boyftrous tongue of warre? 48 Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud, 48	Whole white inuestments figures innocence,
Out of the fpeech of peace that beares fuch grace, Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,	The Doue, and very blelled lpinte of peace.
Into the harfh and boyffrous tongue of warre? Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,		10
Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,		48
	Turning your bookes to graues, your incke to bloud,
Your	Your

	· ··· Jucuin parvoj
	Your pennes to launces, and your tongue diuine,
	To a lowd trumpet, and a point of warre?
	Bish. Wherefore do I this? fo the question stands:
	Briefly, to this end we are all difeasde:
>	The dangers of the daie's but newly gone,
	V V hofe memorie is written on the earth,
	VVith yet appearing blood, and the examples
	Of euery minutes instance (present now,)
ι	Hath put vs in these ill-beseeming armes,
	Not to breake peace or any braunch of it,
	But to establish heere a peace indeede,
	Concurring both in name and quallitie.
8	West. VVhen euer yet was your appeale denied
	VVherein haue you beene galled by the King?
	What peere hath beene fubornde to grate on you?
	That you should seale this lawlesse bloody booke
2	Offorgde rebellion with a feale diuine,
*	And confectate commotions bitter edge.
+	Bishop Mybrother Generall, the common wealth
*	To brother borne an houshold cruelty.
6	I make my quarrell in particular.
	West. There is no neede of any such redresse,
	Or if there were, it not belongs to you.
	Mombray why not to him in part, and to vs all
00	That feele the bruiles of the daies before?
	And fuffer the condition of these times.
	To lay a heavy and vnequall hand
3	Vpon our honors.
10	West. But this is meere digression from my purpole
	Here come I from our princely generall,
	To know your griefes, to tell you from his Grace,
	That he will give you audience, and wherein
44	It shall appeare that your demaunds are just, You thall enjoy them enjoy thing for all
	You fhall enjoy them, every thing fet off That might for much as thinks you enemies
	That might fo much as thinke you enemies.
	Mowbray But he hath forcde vs to compel this offer, And
	and

	IV.i.
Henry the fourth.
And it proceedes from policie, not loue. West. Mowbray, you oucrweene to take it fo:	148
This offer comes from mercy, not from feare: For loe, within a ken our army lies: Vpon mine honour, all too confident
To give admittance to a thought of feare: Our battell is more full of names than yours,	152
Our men more perfect in the vie of armes, Our armour all as firong, our caule the best:	156
Then Reafon will our hearts fhould be as good: Say you not then, our offer is compelld.
Morr, Well, by my will, we shall admit no parlee. West. That argues but the shame of your offence,	160
A rotten cafe abides no handling. Hastings Hath the prince Iohn a full commission,
In very ample vertue of his father, To heare, and abfolutely to determine Of what conditions we shall stand upon?	164
West. That is intended in the Generalles name, I muse you make so flight a question.
Bifhop Then take, my lord of Westmerland, this scedule, For this containes our generall grieuances,	168
Each feuerall article herein redreft. All members of our caufe both here and hence,
That are enfinewed to this action, A cquitted by a true fub ftantiall forme, And prefent execution of our willes,	172
To vs and our purpofes confinde, We come within our awefull bancks againe,	176
And knit our powers to the arme of peace. Weft. This will I fhew the Generall, pleafe you Lords,
In fight of both our battells we may meete, At either end in peace, which God lo frame,	180 +
Or to the place of diffrence call the fwords, Which must decide it. Exit Westmerland Bishop Mylord, we will doe so. G Mow.

V.i.
	juura partuj
	Mon There is a thing within my bosome tells me
184	That no conditions of our peace can stand.
	Haftings Feare you not, that if we can make our peace	3
	Vpon fuch large termes, and fo abfolute,
	As our conditions shall confist vpon,
188	Our peace shall stand as firme as rockie mountaines.
	Moub. Yea but our valuation shal be fuch,
	That every flight, and falle derived caufe,
	Y ea euery idle, nice, and wanton reason,
192	Shall to the King talte of this action,
	That were our royal faiths martires in loue,
	We fhall be winow'd with fo rough a wind,
	That euen our corne shal seeme as light as chaffe,
196	And good from bad find no partition.
	Bib. No, no, my lord, note this, the King is weary
	Of daintie and luch picking greeuances,
	F or he hath found, to end one doubt by death,
200	Reuiues two greater in the heires of life:
	And therefore will he wipe his tables cleane,
	And keepe no tel-tale to his memorie,
	That may repeate, and hiftory his loffe,
204	To new remembrance: for full wel he knowes,
	He cannot so precifely weed this land,
	As his mildoubts prefent occasion,
	His foes are fo enroote d with his friends,
208	That plucking to vnfix an enemy,
	He doth vnfasten so, and shake a friend,
	So that this land, like an offenfiue wife,
	That hath enragde him on to offer strokes,
212	As he is ftriking, holdes his infant vp,
	And hangs refolu'd correction in the arme,
	That was vpreard to execution.
	Haft. Befides, the King hath wasted al his rods,
216	On late offendors, that he now dothlacke
	The very inftruments of chafticement.
	So that his power, like to a phanglesse lion,	Mare
		May

Henry the fourth.
May offer, but not hold.
Biftop Tis very true,
And therefore be aslurde, my good Lord Marshall,	2
If we do now make our attonement well,
Our peace wil like a broken limbe vnited,
Grow ftronger for the breaking.
Mom. Be it so, here is returnd my lord of Westmerland.	2
Enter Westmerland,
West. The prince is here at hand, pleaseth your Lordihip
To meet his grace iust distance tweene our armies.
Enter Prince Iohn and his armie.	4
Mow. Your grace of York, in Gods name then fet forward.
Bisop.Before, and greete his grace (my lord) we come.	. 2
Iohn You are well incountred here, my coufen Mowbray,	· 2
Good day to you, gentle Lord Archbishop,
And fo to you Lord Haftings, and to all.
My Lord of Yorke, it better shewed with you,	1
When that your flocke affembled by the bell,
Encircled you, to heare with reuerence,
Your exposition on the holy text,
That now to fee you here, an yron man talking,
Cheering a rowt of rebells with your drumme,
Turning the word to fword, and life to death:
That man that fits within a monarches heart,
And ripensin the fun-thine of his fauor,	,
Would he abuse the countenance of the King:
Alacke what milcheefes might he fet abroach,
In fhadow of fuch greatneffe? with you Lord bifhop It is euen fo, who hath not heard it fpoken,
How deepe you were within the bookes of God,	,
To vs the fpeaker in his parliament,
To vsthimagine voice of God himfelfe,
The very opener and intelligencer,
Betweene the grace, the fanchiues of heauen,
And our dull workings? O who shall beleeue,
But you milule the recercice of your place,
G 2 Imply

IV.II.
	2 IN JULVIN PRIVY
	Imply the countenance and grace of heatin,
24-	As a falle fauorite doth his princes name:
	In deedes difhonorable you haue tane vp,
	Vnder the counterfeited zeale of God,
28	The fubicets of his fubflitute my father,
20	And both against the peace of heauen and him,
	Haue here vpfwarmd them.
	Bifhop Good my Lord of Lancaster,
	I am not here against your fathers peace,
32	But as I told my lord of Westmerland,
Ŭ	The time misordred doth in common sense,
	Crowd vs and crush vs to this monstrous forme,
	To hold our fafety vp : I fent your grace,
36	The parcells and particulars of our griefe,
	The which hath beene with fcorne fhoued from the court,
	Whereon this Hidra, sonne of warre is borne,
	Whofe dangerous eies may well be charmd afleepe,
40	With graunt of our most iuft, and right desires,
	And true obedience of this madnes cured,
	Stoope tamely to the foote of maiestie.
	Mow. If not, we ready are to trie our fortunes,
44	To the laft man.
	Haft. And though we here fal downe,
	We have supplies to second our attempt, If they miscarry, theirs shal second them,
	And fo fuccesse of michiefe shall be borne,
	And heire from heire (hall hold his quarrell vp,
48	Whiles England shall have generation.
	Prince You are too fhallow Haftings, much too fhallow,
	To found the bottome of the after times.
17	Weft. Pleafeth your grace to answere them directly,
52	How far forth you do like their articles.
	Prince I like them all, and do allow them well,
	And fweare here by the honour of my bloud,
50	My fathers purposes haue beene mistooke,
	And some about him haue too lauishly,
	Wrefted

	IV.ii.
Adding one games
Wrested his meaning and authority.
My Lord, these griefes shall be with speed redrest,
Vppon my foule they shal, if this may please you,	60
Discharge your powers vnto their seuerall counties,
As we will ours, and here betweene the armies,
Lets drinke together friendly and embrace,	,
That all their eies may beare those tokens home,	64
Of our reftored loue and amitie.
Bishop I take your princely word for these redress,
I giue it you, and will maintaine my word,	+
And therevpon I drinke vnto your grace.	68
Prince Go Captaine, and deliuer to the armie	+
This newes of peace, let them have pay, and part.
I know it will well please them, hie thee captaine.
Bishop To you my noble lord of Westmerland.	72
West. I pledge your grace, and if you knew what paines,
I have bestowed to breed this present peace,
You would drinke freely, but my loue to ye
Shall shew it selfe more openly hereafter.	76
Biftop I do not doubt you.
West. Iam glad of it,
Health to my Lord, and gentle cofin Mowbray.
Mow. You wish me health in very happy season,
For I an on the fodaine fomething ill.	80
Bishop Against ill chaunces men are euer mery,
But heauinesse fore-runnes the good event. West. Therefore be mery coze, since sodaine forrow Serves to fay thus, fome good thing comes to morow.
Bishop Beleeue me I am palling light in fpirit.	84
Mow. So much the worfe if your owne rule be true. Shout.
Prin, The word of peace is rendred, heark how they fhowt.
Mow. This had bin cheerefull after victory.	88
Bishop A peace is of the nature of a conquest,
For then both parties nobly are fubdued,
And neither party loofer.
Prince Go my lord,
G3 And

•

IV.ii.

92	And let our army be discharged too,
	And, good my lord, so please you, let our traines
	March by vs, that we may peruse the men,
	VVe fhould have coap't withall.
	Bishop Go, good Lord Hastings,
90	And ere they be difmift, let them march by enter Westmerland.
	Prince I trust Lords we shallie to night togither:
	Now coolin, wherefore flands our army flil?
	West. The Leaders having charge from you to stand,
500	Wil not goe off vntil they heare you speake.
	Prince They know their ducties. enter Hastings
	Hastings Mylord, our army is disperst already,
	Like youthfull steeres vnyoakt they take their courses,
104	East, weast, north, south, or like a schoole broke vp,
	Each hurries toward his home, and fporting place.
	Weft. Good tidings my lord Hastings, for the which I do arest thee traitor of high treason,
108	And you lord Archbishop, and you lord Mowbray,
	Of capitall treason I attach you both.
	Mombray Is this proceeding iust and honorable?
	Weft. Is your affembly fo?
112	Bishop will you thus breake your faith?
	Prince I pawnde thee none,
	I promist you redresse of these fame grieuances
	Whereof you did complaine, which by mine honour
	I will performe, with a most christian care.
116	But for you rebels, looke to tafte the due
+ .	Meete for rebellion: Math the light did you the for armon commence
	Molt shallowly did you these armes commence, Fondly brought heere, and soolishly sent hence.
	Strike vp our drummes, purfue the feattred fray:
120	God, and not we, hath fafely fought to day:
	Some guard this traitour to the blocke of death,
+	Treafons true bed, and yeelder vp of breath.
TVZ	Alarum Enter Falfaffe excursions
IV.m	Fal. whats your name fir, of what condition are you, and
1	of

	IV.m. tienry the fourth.
of what place? Cole. I am a Knight fir, and my name is Coleuile of the	4
Dale. Fal. well then, Colleuile is your name, a Knight is your de- gree, and your place the dale : Coleuile shalbe still your name, a traitor your degree, & the dungeon your place, a place deep enough, 6 fhall you be stil Colleuile of the Dale. Colle . Arenot you fir Iohn Falstaffe?	0
Fal. As good a man as he fir, who ere I am : doe ye yeelde fir, or fhall I fweat for you? if I doe fweate, they are the drops of thy louers, and they weepe for thy death, therefore rowze	12
vp feare and trembling, and do observance to my mercie. Colle. I think you are fir Iohn Falstaffe, and in that thoght yeelde me.	76
Fal. I have a whole schoole of tongs in this belly of mine, and not a tongue of them all speakes any other word but my	20
name, and 1 had but a belly of any indifferencie, I were fimply the most active fellow in Europe : my womb, my wombe, my womb vndoes me, heere comes our Generall. Enter John Westmerland, and the rest. Retraite John The heate is past, follow no further now,	24
Call in the powers good coofin Weftmerland. Now Falftaffe, where haue you beene all this while? V Vhen euery thing is ended, then you come: Thefe tardy trickes of yours wil on my life	28
One time or other breake fome gallowes backe. Fal. I would bee fory my lord, but it fhoulde bee thus : I neuer knew yet but Rebuke and Checke, was the rewarde of	32
Valor: do you thinke me a fwallow, an arrow, or a bullet?haue I in my poore and old motion the expedition of thought ? I haue speeded hither with the very extreamest inch of possibi-	36
lity, I have foundred ninefcore and od postes, and here trauell tainted as I am, have in my pure and immaculate valour, ta- ken fir Iohn Collevile of the Dale, a most furious Knight and	40
valorous enemy, : but what of that?he fawe me, and yeelded, that I may iufly fay with the hooke-nofoe fellow of Rome, their	44

5	9

a we jevene part of there cofin, I came, faw, and ouercame. Icha It was more of his curtefie then your deferuing. Faill. 1 know not, here he is, and here I yeeld him, and I befeech your gracelet it be bookte with the reft of this daies deedes, or by the Lord, I wil haue it in a particular ballad elfe, with mine owne picture on the top on't, (Colcuile killing my foote) to the which courfe, if I bee enforth, if you doe not all fhew like guilt twoo pences to mee, and I in the cleere skie of Fame, ore-fhine you as much as the full moone doth the cin- dars of the element, (which fhew like pinnes heads to her)beleeue not the worde of the noble : therefore let me haue right, and let Defert mount.
Prince Thine's too heavy to mount. Fall. Let it fhine then. Prince Thines too thicke to fhine. Fall. Let it do fome thing, my good lord, that may doe me good, and call it what you will.
Prince Is thy name Colleuile? Col. It is my Lord. Prince A famous rebell art thou Colleuile. Falst. And a famous true fubiect tooke him.
Col. I am my lord but as my betters are, That led me hither, had they bin rulde by me, You fhould have wonne them deerer then you have. Fal. I know not how they fold themfelues, but thou like a kind fellow gauest thy selfe away gratis, and I thanke thee for thee. enter Westmerland. Prince Now, have you left pursuit? West. Retraite is made, and execution stayd.
Prince Send Collcuile with his confederates To Yorke, to prefent execution, Blunt leade him hence, and fee you guard him fure. And now difpatch we toward the court my lordes,
I heare the King my father is fore fick, Our newes shall go before vs to his maiestie, Which cosin you shall beare to comfort him, And

Henry the fourth. 97-8 And we with fober fpeede will follow you. 97-8 Faff. My Lord, I befeech you give me leave to go through Glotterfhire, and when you come to court, ftand my good lord in your good report. 97-8 Prince Fare you well Falffaffe, I, in my condition, fhal better fpeake of you then you deferue. 92 The Vand you had the wit, twere better than your duked dome, good faith this fame yong fober blouded boy doth not louene, nor a mā canot make him laugh, but thats no maruel, he drinkes no wine, theres neuer none of thefe demure boyes come to any proofe, for thin drinke doth fo ouer- coole theyr blood, and making many fifh meales, that they fall into a kind ofmale greene ficknes, and then when they mary, they gette wenches, they are generally foolés and cowards, which forme of vs fhould be too. but for inflammation: agood herris facke hath at two fold operation in it, it afcendes mee into the braine, dries me there all the foolifh, and dull, and crudy vapors which enuirone it, makes it apprehenfiue, quicke, forgenue, full of nimble, fiery, and delectable fhapes, which delinered ore to the voyce the tongue, which is the birth, becomes excellent wit. The fecond property of your excellent fherris, is the war- ming of the blood, which before (cold & felded.) left the lyner white & pale, which is the badge of pufilaniimitie and cowar- dize. but the fherris warmes it, and makes it courfe from the inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, giues warning to al the reft of this little kingdom man to arme, and then the vitall commoners, and inland petty fyrints, unter me all to their captaine, the heartiwho great, and pufft vp with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this valour comes of fherris, fo that skill in the weapon is nothing without facke. (IV.iii.
Faif. My Lord, I befeech you give me leave to go through Glofterfhire, and when you come to court, fland my good lord in your good report. θ_{7} -8Prince Fare you wel Falftaffe, I, in my condition, fhal better fpeake of you then you deferue.Fail. I would you had the wit, twere better than your duke- dome, good faith this fane yong fober blouded boy doth not loueme, nor a mā canot make him laugh, but thats no maruel, he drinkes no wine, theres neuer none of thefe demure boyes come to any proofe, for thin drinke doth fo ouer-coole theyr blood, and making many fifn meales, that they fall into a kind of male greene ficknes, and then when they marry, they gette wenches , they are generally foolés and cowards, which fome of vs fhould be too, but for inflammation: a good fherris facke hath a two fold operation in it, it afcendes mee into the braine, dries me there all the foolifh, and dull, and crudy vapors which enuirone it, makes it apprehenfiue, quicke, forgetiue, full of mimble, fiery , and delectable fhapes, which delivered ore to the voyce the tongue, which is the birth, becomes excellent wit. The fecond property of your excellent fherris, is the war- ming of the blood, which before (cold & felded,)left the lyner white & pale, which is the badge of pufilaliminite and cowar- dize. but the fherris warmes it, and makes it courfe from the inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, giues warning to al the reft of this little kingdom man to arme, and then the vitall commoners, and inland petty fpirits, multer meal to their captaine, the heart: who great, and pufft ty with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this valour comes of fherris, fo that skill in the weapon is nothing without facke (for that fets it aworke) and learning a meere whord of gold kept by a diuell, till	Henry the fourth.
Fal. 1 would you had the wit, twere better than your dukedome, good faith this fame yong fober blouded boy doth not loueme, nor a mā canot make him laugh, but thats no maruel, he drinkes no wine, theres neuer none of thefe demure boyes come to any proofe, for thin drinke doth fo ouer-coole theyr blood, and making many fifth meales, that they fallinto a kind of male greene ficknes, and then when they marry, they gette wenches, they are generally foolés and cowards, which fome of vs fhould be too, but for inflammation: a good fherris facke hath a two fold operation in it, it afcendes mee into the braine, dries me there all thefoolifh, and dull, and crudy vapors which enuirone it, makes it apprehenfiue, quicke, forgetiue, full of nimble, fiery, and delectable fhapes, which delivered ore to the voyce the tongue, which is the birth, becomes excellent wit. The fecond property of your excellent fherris, is the warming of the blood, which before (cold & fetled,) left the lyner white & pale, which is the badge of pufilanimite and cowardize. but the fherris warmes it, and makes it courfe from the inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, giues warning to al the reft of this little kingdom man to arme, and then the vitall commoners, and inland petty fpirits, mufter me all to their captaine, the heart: who great, and this valour comes of fherris, fo that skill in the weapon is nothing without facke (for that fets it aworke) and learning a meere whoord of gold kept by a duiell, till facke commencesit, and fets it in act and vfe . Hereof comes it, that Prince Harry is72	Falf. My Lord, I befeech you giueme leaue to go through Glofferfhire, and when you come to court, fland my good lord in your good report. Prince Fare you wel Falftaffe, I, in my condition, fhal better	87-8 loueme, nor a mā canot make him laugh, but thats no maruel, he drinkes no wine, theres neuer none of thefe demure boyes come to any proofe, for thin drinke doth fo ouer-coole theyr blood, and making many fifh meales, that they fall into a kind of male greene ficknes, and then when they marry, they gette wenches, they are generally foolés and cowards, which fome of vs fhould be too.but for inflammation:a good fherris facke hath a two fold operation in it, it afcendes mee into the braine, dries me there all the foolifh, and dull, and crudy vapors which enuirone it, makes it apprehenfiue, quicke, forgetiue, full of 	Fal. I would you had the wit, twere better than your duke-	9 ²
blood, and making many fifh meales, that they fall into a kind of male greene ficknes, and then when they marry, they gette wenches, they are generally fooles and cowards, which fome of vs fhould be too, but for inflammation: a good fherris facke hath a two fold operation in it, it afcendes mee into the braine, dries me there all the foolifh, and dull, and crudy vapors which enuirone it, makes it apprehenfiue, quicke, forgetiue, full of nimble, fiery, and delectable fhapes, which deliuered ore to the voyce the tongue, which is the birth, becomes excellent wit. The fecond property of your excellent fherris, is the war- ming of the blood, which before (cold & fetled,) left the lyuer white & pale, which is the badge of pufilanimitie and cowar- dize. but the fherris warmes it, and makes it courfe from the inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, giues warning to al the reft of this little kingdom man to arme, and then the vitall commoners, and inland petty fpirits, mufter me all to their captaine, the heart: who great, and pufft vp with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this valour comes of fherris, fo that skill in the weapon is nothing without facke (for that fets it aworke) and learning a meere whoord of gold kept by a diuell, till facke commencesit, and fets it in act and vfe . Hereof comes it, that Prince Harry is	loueme, nor a mā canot make him laugh, but thats no maruel, he drinkes no wine, theres neuer none of these demure boyes	96
of vs fhould be too. but for inflammation: a good fherris facke hath a two fold operation in it, it afcendes mee into the braine, dries me there all the foolifh, and dull, and crudy vapors which enuirone it, makes it apprehenfiue, quicke, forgetiue, full of nimble, fiery, and delectable fhapes, which deliuered ore to the voyce the tongue, which is the birth, becomes excellent wit. The fecond property of your excellent fherris, is the war- ming of the blood, which before (cold & fetled,) left the lyuer white & pale, which is the badge of pufilanimitie and cowar- dize. but the fherris warmes it, and makes it courfe from the inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, giues warning to al the reft of this little kingdom man to arme, and then the vitall commoners, and inland petty fpirits, mufter me all to their captaine, the heart: who great, and pufft vp with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this valour comes of fherris, fo that skill in the weapon is nothing without facke (for that fets it aworke) and learning a meere whoord of gold kept by a diuell, till facke commencesit, and fets it in act and vfe. Hereof comes it, that Prince Harry is104	blood, and making many fifh meales, that they fall into a kind of male greene ficknes, and then when they marry, they gette	100 enuirone it, makes it apprehenfiue, quicke, forgetiue, full of nimble, fiery, and delectable (hapes, which delinered ore to the voyce the tongue, which is the birth, becomes excellent wit. The fecond property of your excellent (herris, is the war- ming of the blood, which before (cold & fetled,) left the lyner white & pale, which is the badge of pufilanimitie and cowar- dize. but the fherris warmes it, and makes it courfe from the inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, giues warning to al the reft of this little kingdom man to arme, and then the vitall commoners, and inland petty fpirits, mufter me all to their captaine, the heart: who great, and pufft vp with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this valour comes of fherris, fo that skill in the weapon is nothing without facke (for that fets it aworke) and learning a meere whoord of gold kept by a diuell, till facke commencesit, and fets it in act and vfe. Hereof comes it, that Prince Harry is	of vs fhould be too, but for inflammation: a good fherris facke hath a two fold operation in it, it afcendes mee into the braine,	104
ming of the blood, which before (cold & fetled,)left the lyuer white & pale, which is the badge of pufilanimitie and cowar- dize. but the therris warmes it, and makes it courfe from the inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, gives warning to al the reft of this little kingdom man to arme, and then the vitall commoners, and inland petty fpirits, mufter me all to their captaine, the heart: who great, and pufft vp with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this valour comes of therris, fo that skill in the weapon is nothing without facke (for that fets it aworke) and learning a meere whoord of gold kept by a diuell, till facke commences it, and fets it in act and vfe. Hereof comes it, that Prince Harry is	enuirone it, makes it apprehenfiue, quicke, forgetiue, full of nimble, fiery, and delectable (hapes, which deliuered ore to the voyce the tongue, which is the birth, becomes excellent	108
inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, giues warning to al the reft of this little kingdom man to arme, and then the vitall commoners, and inland petty fpirits,mufter me all to their captaine, the heart:who great, and pufft vp with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this valour comes of fherris, fo that skill in the weapon is nothing without facke (for that fets it aworke) and learning a meere whoord of gold kept by a diuell, till facke commences it, and fets it in act and vie . Hereof comes it, that Prince Harry is	ming of the blood, which before (cold & fetled,)left the lyuer white & pale, which is the badge of pufilanimitie and cowar-	112
fpirits, mufter me all to their captaine, the heart: who great, and120pufft vp with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this120valour comes of therris, to that skill in the weapon is nothing120without facke (for that fets it aworke) and learning a meere124whoord of gold kept by a diuell, till facke commences it, and124fets it in act and vfe.Hereof comes it, that Prince Harry is	inwards to the partes extreames, it illumineth the face, which as a beakon, giues warning to al the reft of this little kingdom	+ 170
whoord of gold kept by a diuell, till facke commences it, and fets it in act and vie . Hereof comes it, that Prince Harry is	fpirits,mufter me all to their captaine, the heart: who great, and pufft vp with this retinew, doth any deed of courage : and this valour comes of therris, to that skill in the weapon is nothing	120
	whoord of gold kept by a diuell, till facke commences it, and	12.4
ther, he hath like leane, sterile, and bare land, manured, hus- banded and tilld, with excellent endeuour of drinking good H and	valiant, for the cold blood he did naturally inherite of his fa- ther, he hath like leane, fterile, and bare land, manured, hus- banded and tilld, with excellent endeuour of drinking good	728

+ no jocumu part uj

and good flore of fertile fherris, that he is become very hote and valiant. If I had a thoufand fonnes, the first humane principle I would teach them, should be, to forsweare thinpotations, and to addict themsfelues to facke. How now Bardolfe?

Enter Bardolfe.

Bar. The army is difcharged all, and gone.

Fal. Let them goe, ile through Gloftershire, and there will I visit M. Robert Shallow Esquire, I have him already tempring betweene my finger and my thumb, and shortly will I scale with him, come away.

Enter the King, Warwike, Kent, Thomas duke of Clarence, Humphrey of Gloucester.

King Now lords, if God doth giue fucceffefull end To this debate that bleedeth at our doores, We will our youth leade on to higher fields, And draw no fwords but what are fanctified: Our nauie is addreft, our power collected, Our fubftitutes in ablence wel inuefted, And euery thing lies leuell to our wifh, Only we want a little perfonal ftrength: And pawfe vs til theferebels now afoote, Come vnderneath the yoke of gouernment.

War. Both which we doubt not, but your maielty Shal foone enioy.

King Humphrey my fonne of Glofter, where is the prince your brother?

Glo. I thinke hees gone to hunt, my lord, at Winfor. King And how accompanied?

Glo. I do not know, my lord.

King Is not his brother Thomas of Clarence with him? Glo. No, my good lord, he is in prefence here.

Clar. What would my lord and father?

Kin Nothing but well to thee Thomas of Clarence,

How chance thou art not with the prince thy brother?

He loves thee, and thou doft negleft him, Thomas, Thou haft a better place in his affection

Then

IV.II

732

136

140

7

4

A 12

10

20

IV.iv.

		IV.iv.
	Henry the fourth.
Then	ll thy brothers, cherrish it my boy:
Ando	ble offices thou maist effect	24
	liation after I am dead,
	ne his greatneffe and thy other brethren:
	bre omit him not, blunt not his loue,
	ofe the good aduantage of his grace,	28
	ing cold, or careleffeof his will, s gracious if he be obseru'de,
	a teare for pittie, and a hand, s day for meeting charitie,	+32
	withstanding being incenft, he is flint, orous as winter, and as fodaine es congealed in the fpring of day:
	per therefore must be well obseru'd,	30
Chide	im for faults, and do it reucrently,
When	you perceiue his bloud inclind to mirth:
	ng moody, giue him time and scope,
Till tha	this paffions, like a whale on ground	40
Confo	ind themselues with working, learne this Thomas,
	ou shalt proue a shelter to thy friends,	1.1
	be of gold to binde thy brothers in,
	e vnited vessell of their bloud,	44
	ed with venome of fuggestion, e perforce, the age will powre it in,) uer leake, though it doe worke as strong,
	nitum,or rash gunpowder.	48
	I shall observe him with all care and loue.
	Why art thou not at Winfore with him Thomas?
	He is not there to day, he dines in London.
	And how accompanied?	52+
	With Poines, and other his continual followers.
مرد م	Molt fubiect is the fattelt foyle to weeds,
	the noble image of my youth, pread with them, therefore my griefe
	s it felfe beyond the howre of death:	56
4 416 01	H 2 In ud weepes from my heart when I do fhape, H .2 In

IV.iv.		-
	- mjuunn pur voj
	In formes imaginary, th'unguyded daies,
60	And rotten times that you fhall looke vpon, When I am fleening with an
	When I am fleeping with my aunceftors: For when his head-ftrong riot hath no curbe, V Vhen rage and hot bloud are his counfellors,
64	V Vhen meanes and lauish manners meete together,
0 T	Oh with what wings shall his affections flie,
	Towards fronting peril and opposide decay?
	War. My gracious Lord, you looke beyond him quite.
68	1 he prince but ltudies his companions,
	Like a strange tongue wherein to gaine the language:
	L is needfull that the molt immodelt word.
	Be lookt vpon and learnt, which once attaind,
72	Your highneffe knowes comes to no further vfe,
	But to be knowne and hated: so, like groffe termes, The prince will in the perfectness of time,
	Caft off his followers, and their memory
76	Shall as a pattern, or a meafure live,
· · ·	By which his grace must mete the lives of other,
	1 urning palt-euils to aduantages.
	King T is feldome when the bee doth leave her comb
80	In the dead carion: who's here, Westmerland?
1	Enter Westmerland.
	Weft. Health to my foueraigne, and new happineffe
	Added to that that I am to deliuer, Prince John your forme doth hilf and the life
84	Prince Iohn your fonne doth kiffe your graces hand. Mowbray, the Bifhop, Scroope, Haftings, and al,
°7	Are brought to the correction of your law:
	There is not now a rebels fword vnsheathd,
	But Peace puts forth her olive every where.
88	I he manner how this action hath bin borne,
	Here at more leisure may your highnesse reade,
	With euery course in his particular.
	King O Westmerland, thou art a fummer bird,
9 ²	V Vhich euer in the haunch of winter fings
	The lifting vp of day: looke heres more newes. enter Harcor.
	Hare,

	IV.iv
Henry the fourth.
Harc, From enemies, heauens keep your maiesty,	+
And when they stand against you, may they fall	,
As those that I am come to tell you of:	96
The Earle Northumberland, and the Lord Bardolfe,
With a great power of English, and of Scots,
Are by the shrieue of Yorkshire ouerthrowne,
The manner, and true order of the fight,	100
This packet, please it you, containes at large,
Ki. And wherfore fhould these good news make me ficke?
Will Fortune neuer come with both hands full, But wet her faire words (fil in foule() termes?
	+10g
She either giues a ftomach, and no foode, Such are the poore in health: or elfe a feaft,
And takes away the flomach, fuch are the rich
That have aboundance, and enioy it not:
I should reioyce now at this happy newes,	108
And now my fight failes, and my braine is giddy,
O me, come neare me, now I am much ill,
Hum, Comfort your maiesty.
Clar. O my royall father!	112
Weft. My foueraigne Lord, cheere vp your felfe, look vp.
War. Be patient princes, you do know these fits
Are with his highneffe very ordinary.
Stand from him, giue him ayre, heel ftraight be wel.	116
Clar. No, no, he cannot long hold out these pangs, Th'inceffant care and labour of his mind,
Hath wrought the Mure that should confine it in,	-
So thin that life lookes through.	120-
Hum. The people feare me, for they do observe
Unfather dheires, and lothly births of nature,
The feasons change their manners, as the yeere
Had found fome moneths a fleepe, and leapt them ouer.	12 4.
Clar. The river hath thrice flowed, no ebbe between,
And the old folk, (Times doting chronicles,)
Say, it did fo a little time before That our great grand fire Edward fickt and diad
That our great grandfire Edward, fickt and died. H 3 War.	128
II 3 WAF.

IV.iv.
	- hejecona paro oj
	War. Speake lower, princes, for the King recouers.
	Hum. This apoplexi wil certaine be his end.
	King 1 pray you take me vp, and beare me hence,
+ 132	Into fome other chamber.
	Let there be no noyfe made, my gentle friends,
$\overline{\text{IV.v.}}$	Vnlesse fome dull and fauourable hand
	Will whilper mulique to my weary spirite.
4	War. Call for the mulique in the other roome.
	King Set me the crowne vpon my pillow here.
	Clar. His eie is hollow, and he changes much.
	War. Lesse noyle, lesse noyle. Enter Harry Prince Who faw the duke of Clarence?
8	Clar. I am here brother, ful of heauinesse.
	Prince How now, raine within doores, and none abroad?
	How doth the King?
	Hum. Exceedingill.
11-72 .	Prince Heard he the good newes yet? tell it him.
+	Hum. He vttred much vpon the hearing it,
	Prince If he be ficke with ioy, heele recouer without phificke.
16	War. Not fo much noyfe my Lords, fweete prince, speake lowe, the King your father is difpolde to fleepe.
	Cla. Let vs withdraw into the other roome.
	War. Wilt pleafe your Grace to go along with vs?
20	Prince No, I wil fit and watch here by the King.
	Why doth the Crowne lie there vpon his pillow,
	Being fo troublefome a bedfellow?
	O polifht perturbation! golden care! That keepft the ports of Slumber open wide
24	To many a watchfull night, fleepe with it now!
	Yet not fo lound, and halfe fo deeply fweete,
	As he whole brow (with homely biggen bound)
	Snores out the watch of night. O maieftie!
28	When thou doft pinch thy bearer, thou doft fit
	Like a rich armour worne in heate of day,
	That scalds with fafty (by his gates of breath)
	There

	IV.v
Henry the fourth.
There lies a dowlny feather which flirs not,
Did he suspire, that light and weightlesse dowlne	32
Perforce must move my gracious lord my father:
This fleepe is found indeede, this is a fleepe,
That from this golden Rigoll hath diuorst	36
So many English Kings, thy deaw from me,	50
Is teares and heavy forowes of the blood,
Which nature, loue, and filiall tendernelle
Shall (O deare father) pay thee plenteoufly:	40
My due from thee is this imperiall Crowne,	4°
Which as immediate from thy place and blood,
Deriues it selfe to me : loe where it fits,
Which God Ihal guard, and put the worlds whole ftrength	+4
Into one giant arme, it shal not force,
This lineal honor from me, this from thee
Will I to mine leaue, as tis left to me. exit.
Enter Warwicke, Gloucester, Clarence.
King Warwicke, Gloucester, Clarence,	48
Clar. Doth the King cal?
War. What would your Maiestie?	+
King Why did you leaue me here alone, my lords?
Cla. We left the prince my brother here my liege, who vn-	52 dertooke to fit and watch by you.
King The prince of Wales, where is he?let me fee him : he is not here.
War. This doore is open, he is gone this way.	50
Hum. He came not through the chamber where we staide.	ľ
King Where is the Crowne? who took it from my pillow?
War. When we withdrew, my liege, we left it here.
King The Prince hath tane it hence go feeke him out:	60
Is he so haltie, that he doth suppose my sleepe my death?
Finde him, my lord of Warwicke, chide him hither.
This part of his coniovnes with my difeafe,	64
And helps to end me: see, sonnes, what things you arc,
How quickly nature falls into reuolt,
When gold becomes her obiect?
For

IV.v1 NO JECONA PARLOF For this, the foolifh ouer-carefull fathers 68 Haue broke their fleepe with thoughts, Their braines with care, their bones with industry: For this they have ingroffed and pilld vp, The cankred heapes of ftrange atcheened gold: 72 For this they have beene thoughtfull to inueft Their fonnes with arts and martiall exercifes. When like the bee toling from every flower, 75 Our thigh, packt with waxe our mouthes with hony, 77+ We bring it to the hiue: and like the bees, Are murdred for our paines, this bitter tafte Yeelds his engrollements to the ending father, 80 Now where is he that will not ftay fo long, Till his friend fickneffe hands determind me. Enter Warwicke, + War. My Lord, I found the prince in the next roome, Washing with kindly teares, his gentle checkes, 84 VVIthfuch a deepe demeanour in great forrow, That tyranny, which neuer quaft but bloud, VVould by beholding him, have washt his knife, VVith gentle eie-drops, hee is comming hither. Enter Harry. 88 King But wherefore did he take away the crowne? Loe where he comes, come hither to me Harry, Depart the chamber, leaue vs here alone. exennt. Harry I neuer thought to heare you speake againe. 92 King Thy with was father (Harry,) to that thought I ftay too long by thee, I weary thee, Dolt thou to hunger for mine emptie chaire, That thou wilt needes inuelt thee with my honors, 96 Before thy howre be ripe! O foolifh youth, Thou feekft the greatneffe that will ouerwhelme thee, Stay but a little, for my clowd of dignity Is held from falling with fo weake a wind, 100 That it will quickly drop:my day is dim, Thou hast stolne that, which after some few houres, VVere thine, without offence, and at my death, Thou has feald vp my expectation, 104 Thy · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·		$\underline{1V.V}$

Izenry the fourth.
Thy life did manifest thou lou' dst me not,
And thou wilt have me dic, affurde of it,
Thou hidft a thoufand daggers in thy thoughts,
V Vhom thou haft whetted on thy flony heart,
To ftab at halfe an hower of my life.		1084
VVhat, canst thou not forbeare me halfe an hower?
Then get thee gone, and digge my graue thy felfe,
And bid the mery bells ring to thine care,
That thou art crowned, not that I am dead:		112
Let all the teares that fhould bedew my hearfe
Be drops of Balme, to lanctifie thy head,
Only compound me with forgotten dust.		110
Giue that which gaue thee life, vnto the wormes,
Plucke downe my officers, breake my decrees,
For now a time is come to mocke at Forme:
Harry the fift is crownd, vp vanitie,		120
Downe royall state, all you sage counsailers, hence,
And to the English Court assemble now
From euery region, apes of idlenesse:
Now neighbour confines, purge you of your scumme		124
Haue you a ruffin that will sweare, drinke, daunce, Reuell the night rob, murder, and commit
The oldest sinnes, the newest kind of waies?
Be happy, he will trouble you no more.		128
England shal double gild his trebble gilt,
England shall give him office honour, might:
For the fift Harry, from curbd licence, plucks
The mullel of restraint, and the wild dogge		132
Shalflesh his tooth on euery innocent.
O my poore kingdome! ficke with ciuill blowes:
VV hen that my care could not withhold thy riots,
V V hat wilt thou do when riot is thy care?		136
O thou wilt be a wildernesse againe,
Peopled with woolues, thy old inhabitants,
Prince O pardon me, my liege, but for my teares,
The moilt impediments vnto my speech,	-	140
1	I

... jucuina part uj

I had forestald this deere and deep rebuke, Ere you with griefe had spoke, and I had heard The courle of it so far: there is your crowne: And he that weares the crowne immortally, Long gard it yours : if I affect it more, Then as your honour, and as your renowne, Let me no more from this obedience rife. VVhich my moft inward true and duteous fpirit, Teacheth this prostrate and exterior bending, God witneffe with me, When I here came in, And found no courfe of breath within your maiefty, How cold it strooke my heart!if I do faine, O let me in my present wildnesse die, And neuer live to fhew th'incredulous world, The noble change that I have purposed. Comming to looke on you, thinking you dead, And dead almost, my liege, to thinke you were, I spake vnto this crowne as having sence, And thus vpbraided it: the care on thee depending, Hath fed vpon the body of my father, Therefore thou beft of gold, art worfe then gold, Other lesse fine, in karrat more precious, Preserving life in medcine potable: But thou, most fine, most honourd, most renown'd, Halt eate thy bearer vp: thus my most royall liege, Acculing it, I put it on my head, To trie with it as with an enemy, That had before my face murdered my father, The quarrell of a true inheritour, But if it did infect my bloud with ioy, Or fwell my thoughts to any straine of pride, If any rebel or vaine spirit of mine, Did with the least affection of a welcome, Giue entertainement to the might of it, Let God for euer keep it from my head,

And

IV.v.

144

148

752

150

160

+

+

164

168

Henry the fourth.
And make me as the poorest vassaile is,
That doth with aw and terror kneele to it.	170
King God put in thy mind to take it hence,	<"77 "79
That thou mightlt win the more thy fathers loue,	179
Pleading fo wifely in excufe of it:
Come hither Harry, fit thou by my bed,
And heare (I thinke) the very latest counfaile
That euer I shal breathe. God knowes (my fonne)	184
By what by-paths, and indirect crookt waies,
I met this crowne, and I my felfe know well,
How troublesome it fate vpon my head:
To thee it shall descend with better quiet,	188
Better opinion, better confirmation,
For al the foyle of the atchieuement goes,
With me into the earth, it feemd in me,
But as an honor fnatcht with boiltrous hand,	192
And I had many living to vpbraide
My gaine of it, by their assistances,
Which daily grew to quarrell and to bloudfhed,
Wounding supposed peace: all these bold feares	196
Thou feest with perill I haue answerd:
For all my raigne hath beene but as a Scene,
Acting that argument: and now my death
Changes the mood, for what in me was purchast,	200
Fals vpon thee in a more fairer fort.
So thou the garland wearft fucceffiuely,
Yet though thou standst more sure then I could do,
Thou art not firme enough, fince griefes are greene,	204
And all thy friends which thou must make thy friends,
Haue but their ftings and teeth newly tane out:
By whole fell working I was first aduaunst,
And by whole power I well might lodge a feare	208
To be againe difplace which to auoyde,
I cut them off, and had a purpole, now
To leade out manie to the Holy Land,
Left reft, and lying flil, might make them looke, I 2 Too	212
12 100

IV.v
	J
	Too neare vnto my flate: therefore, my Harry,
	Dentity council Dulle giddle mindee
216	With forraine quarrells, that action hence borne out,
	May wafte the memory of the former dayes. More would I, but my lungs are wafted fo,
	That ftrength of speech is vtterly denied me:
	10w I came by the crowne. () God forging
220	4 And Stand II may with thee in true peace line
222	Prince Louwonit, woreit kept it gaugit me a neu plante anu ile ili ili ili my pollofficar La
224	vy multi 1 with more men with a common main
	Gainst all the world will rightfully maintaine: enter Lancaster.
	King Looke, looke, here comes my John of Lancaster. Lanc. Health, peace, and happinesse to my royall father.
228
	a sou uno Dale Willicia Minike Vnon Abre C. L.
	The wonary buildes makes a period.
232	Where is my lord of Warwicke?
	Prince My Lord of Warwicke. King Doth any name perticular belong
	Vnto the lodging where I firft did fwound?
	"" I Is cald I erulalem, my noble I and 236	Any Lau of lo Liod chen there my life and 1
	i modici not cic, put in fernfalem
240	Which vainely I suppose the Holy Land:
	But beare me to that chamber, there ile lie, Enter Shallow, In that lerufalem (hall Harry die. Falstaffe, and Bardolfe Shal. By cock and piefer and a $\underline{V.i}_{.7}$	Shal. By cock and pic fir, you shal not away to night, what Dauy I fay?
4	Fallt. You must excuse me master Robert Shallow.
	Which I Will HUL CYCINE YOU YOU Lall - 1 CI
8	cufes shall not be admitted, there is no excuse shall ferue, you shall not be excused: why Dauy.
	Dany Here fir.
	Shal

	V.i.
Henry the jourth.
- ,
Shal. Dauy, Dauy, Dauy, Dauy, let me fee Dauy let me fee Dauy, let me fee, yea maiy V Villiam Cooke, bid him come hither, fir Iohn, you shal not be excused.	12
Dany Mary fir thus, those precepts can not be ferued, and againe fir, that we fow the hade land with wheate? Shal. VV ith red wheat Dauy, but for VVilliam Cooke	16 are there no yong pigeons?
Dauy Yes fir, here is now the Smiths note for shooing and	20 plow-yrons. Shal. Letitbe caft and payed: fir Iohn, you shal not be excufed. Dany Now fir, a new lincke to the bucket mult needes be had:and fir,do you meane to ftop any of V Villiams wages,a-	24
bout the facke he loft at Hunkly Faire?	+
Shal. A shall answer it : some pigeons Dauy, a couple of	28
fhort legg'd hens, a joynt of mutton, and any pretty little time Kick-shawes, tell william Cooke.
Dany Doth the man of warre stay all night fir?	32
Shal. Yea Dauy, I will vse him well, a friend i th court is better then a penie in purse: vse his men wel Dauy, for they are arrant knaues, and will backbite.	36
Dauy No worfe then they are back-bitten fir, for they have maruailes foule linnen.
Shal. VVell conceited Dauy, about thy businesse Dauy. Dauy I beseech you fir to countenance VVilliam Visor of Woncote against Clement Perkes a'th hill.	40
Sha. There is many complaints Dauy against that Vifor,	44
that Vilor is an arrant knaue on my knowledge.	77
Dany I graunt your worship that he is a knaue fir: but yet	48
God forbid fir, but a knaue fhould have fome countenance at	7.
his friends requeft, an hone ft man fir is able to ipeake for himfelfe, when a knaue is not: I haue feru de your worship truly fir	52
this eight yeares and I cannot once, or twice in a quarter beare out a knaue against an honest man, I haue litle credit with your worfhip: the knaue is mine honest friend fir, therfore I befeech	56 you let hun be countenaunst.
I 3 Shal

Shal. Go to I fay, he shal haue no wrong, look about Dauy: where are you fir Iohn?come, come, come, off with your boots, give me your hand master Bardolfe.

- - - - y - - vion pure up

Bard. I am glad to fee your worship.

78

V.i

60

+ 64

61

72

76

80

84

88

92

46

/ n.*

1

Shal I thank thee with my heart kind master Bardolfe, and welcome my tall fellow, come fir Iohn.

Fallt. Ile follow you good maister Robert Shallow : Bardolfe, looke to our horfes : if I were fawed into quantities, I should make foure dozen of such berded hermites staues as maister Shallow : it is a wonderfull thing to fee the femblable coherence of his mens spirits, and his, they, by observing him, do beare themfelues like foolifh Iuflices : hee, by conuerfing. with them, is turned into a luftice-like feruingman, their spirits are fo married in conjunction, with the participation of lociety, that they flocke together in confent, like fo many wild-geefe, If I had a fuite to mafter Shallow, I would humour hismen with the imputation, of beeing neere their maister : if to his men, I would curry with maifter Shallow, that no man could better commaund his feruants. It is certaine, that eyther wife bearing, or ignorant cariage is caught, as men take difeafes one of another : therefore let men take heede of their company. I will deuife matter enough out of this Shallow, to keepe prince Harry in continuall laughter, the wearing out of fixe fashions, which is foure termes, or two actions, and a Ihal laugh without internallums. O it is much that a lie, with a flight oathe, and a ieft, with a fad browe, will doe with a fellow that neuer had the ach in his fhoulders : O you fhall fee him laugh til his face belike a wet cloake ill laide vp.

Shal. Sir John.

Fallt. I come maister Shallow, I come master Shallow. Enter Warwike, duke Humphrey, L. chiefe Iustice, Thomas Clarence, Prince, Iohn Westmerland.

War. How now, my lord chiefe Iuffice, whither away? Iuft. How doth the King?

War. Exceeding well, his cares are now all ended. Iuft. I hope not dead.

War.

ITEMPY UNE JOURNE. War. Hees walkt the way of nature, And to our purpoles he lives no more. Inf. I would his Maieflie had calld me with him: The feruice that I truely did his life, Hath left me open to all miuries. War. Indeede I thinke the yong King loues you not. Inf. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfe To welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoufly vpon me, Than I haue drawne itin my fantafie. Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey. War. Heere come the heavy iffue of dead Harry: O that the living Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement! How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Inf. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Ion Cood morrow coofin Warwicks good morrow	. not. 22 ; ₹ ¹⁶
 War. Hees walkt the way of nature, And to our purpofes he lives no more. Infl. I would his Maieflie had calld me with him: The feruice that I truely did his life, Hath leftme open to all miuries. War. Indeede I thinke the yong King loues you not. Infl. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfe To welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoully vpon me, Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie. Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey, War. Heere come the heavy iffue of dead Harry: O that the living Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Infl. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War. We do remember, but our argument Is all too heavy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Infl. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier. 	. not. ⁷² ;
 War. Hees walkt the way of nature, And to our purpofes he lives no more. Inf. I would his Maieflie had calld me with him: The feruice that I truely did his life, Hath leftme open to all minuries. War. Indeede I thinke the yong King loues you not. Inf. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfe To welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoully vpon me, Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie. Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey, War. Heere come the heavy iffue of dead Harry: O that the living Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That muft ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Inf. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War. We do remember, but our argument Is all too heavy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Inf. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier. 	. not. ₁₂ ;
And to our purpofes he lives no more.Imf. I would his Maieflie had calld me with him:The feruice that I truely did his life,Hath leftme open to all miuries.War. Indeede I thinke the yong King loues you not.Iuff. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfeTo welcome the condition of the time,Which cannot looke more hideoully vpon me,Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie.Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey,War. Heere come the beauy iffue of dead Harry:O that the living Harry had the temperOfhe, the worft of thefe three gentlementHow many Nobles then fhould holde their places,That mult firike faile to fpirites of vile fort?Iuff. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd.Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake.War. We do remember, but our argumentIs all too heauy to admit much talke.Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy.Iuff. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.	. not. ₁₂ ;
Inf. I would his Maieflie had calld me with him: The feruice that I truely did his life, Hath left me open to all iniuries. War. Indeede I thinke the yong King loues you not. Inf. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfe To welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoully vpon me, Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie. Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey, War. Heere come the heauy iffue of dead Harry: O that the liuing Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Infl. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War, We do remember, but our argument Is all too heauy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Infl. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.	₽ . not. 72 ;
The feruice that I truely did his life, Hath left me open to all minries.War. Indeede I thinke the yong King loues you not.Iuff. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfeTo welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoully vpon me, Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie.Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey, War. Heere come the heauy iffue of dead Harry: O that the liuing Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort?Iuff. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin.Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War, We do remember, but our argumentIs all too heauy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Iuff. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.	₽ . not. 72 ;
 Hath left me open to all miuries. War. Indeede I thinke the yong King loues you not. Iuff. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfe To welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoully vpon me, Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie. Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey. War. Heere come the heauy iffue of dead Harry: O that the liuing Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Iuff. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War, We do remember, but our argument Is all too heauy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Iuff. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier. 	. not. ; ;
 War. Indeede I thinke the yong King loues you not. Iuft. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfe To welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoufly vpon me, Than I haue drawne itin my fantafie. Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey. War. Heere come the beauy iffue of dead Harry: O that the liuing Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Iuft. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War. We do remember, but our argument Is all too heauy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Iuft. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier. 	₹
Iuft. I know he doth not, and do arme my felfe To welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoufly vpon me, Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie. Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey, War. Heere come the heauy iffue of dead Harry: O that the liuing Harry had the temper Ofhe, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Iuff. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War, We do remember, but our argument Is all too heauy to admit much talke. Iohn: Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Iuff. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.	₹
To welcome the condition of the time, Which cannot looke more hideoully vpon me, Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie. Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey, War. Heere come the heauy iffue of dead Harry: O that the liuing Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult frike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Iuft. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin. Verin.ambo Good morrow coofin.40Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War, We do remember, but our argument40Is all too heauy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Iuft. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.44	; †15
Than I haue drawne it in my fantafie.Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey,War. Heere come the heauy iffue of dead Harry:O that the living Harry had the temperOf he, the worft of thefe three gentlementHow many Nobles then fhould holde their places,That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort?Iuff. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd.Iohn Good morrow coofin Warwicke, good morrow.Prin.ambo Good morrow coofin.Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake.War. We do remember, but our argumentIs all too heavy to admit much talke.Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy.Iuff. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.	; †15
Enter Iohn, Thomas, and Humphrey, War. Heere come the heauy iffue of dead Harry: O that the liuing Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlemen! How many Nobles then should holde their places, That mult strike faile to spirites of vile fort? Iust. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coosin Warwicke, good morrow. Prin.ambo Good morrow coosin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to speake. War. We do remember, but our argument Is all too heauy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Iust. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.	4 10
 War. Heere come the heavy iffue of dead Harry: O that the living Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then should holde their places, That must firike faile to spirites of vile fort? Iust. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coofin Warwicke, good morrow. Prin.ambo Good morrow coofin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to speake. War. We do remember, but our argument Is all too heavy to admit much talke. Iohn: Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy. Iust. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier. 	4 10
O that the liuing Harry had the temper Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlement How many Nobles then fhould holde their places, That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort? Iuft . O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iobn Good morrow coofin Warwicke, good morrow. Prin.ambo Good morrow coofin. Iobn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War . We do remember, but our argument Is all too heavy to admit much talke. Iobn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy. Iuft . Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.	4 10
Of he, the worft of thefe three gentlementHow many Nobles then fhould holde their places,That mult ftrike faile to fpirites of vile fort?Iuff. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd.Iobn Good morrow coofin Warwicke, good morrow.Prin.ambo Good morrow coofin.Iobn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake.War. We do remember, but our argumentIs all too heavy to admit much talke.Iobn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy.Iuff. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.
How many Nobles then should holde their places, That must strike faile to spirites of vile fort? Inst. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd. Iohn Good morrow coosin Warwicke, good morrow. Prin.ambo Good morrow coosin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to speake. War. We do remember, but our argument Is all too heavy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy. Inst. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.
That mult firike faile to fpirites of vile fort?Iuft. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd.Iohn Good morrow coofin Warwicke, good morrow.Prin.ambo Good morrow coofin.Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake.War. We do remember, but our argumentIs all too heavy to admit much talke.Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy.Iuft. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.
Iuft. O God, I feare all will be ouer-turnd.Iohn Good morrow coofin Warwicke, good morrow.Prin.ambo Good morrow coofin.Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake.War. We do remember, but our argumentIs all too heavy to admit much talke.Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy.Iuft. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.
Iobn Good morrow coofin Warwicke, good morrow.20Prin.ambo Good morrow coofin.10Iobn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake.20War. We do remember, but our argument15 all too heauy to admit much talke.Iobn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy.24Iuft. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.24
Prin.ambo Good morrow coofin. Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War. We do remember, but our argument Is all too heavy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy. Inf. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.
Iohn We meete like men that had forgot to fpeake. War. We do remember, but our argument Is all too heavy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy. Inf. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.	TTOW. 20
War, We do remember, but our argument Is all too heavy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heavy. Inft. Peace be with vs, left we be heavier.
Is all too heauy to admit much talke. Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Iuft . Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.	.c.
Iohn Well, peace be with him that hath made vs heauy. Inft. Peace be with vs, left we be heauier.
Inft. Peace be with vs, lest we be heauier.	24
Humph. O good my lord, you have loft a friend indeede.	cauy.
	odeede
And I days figure you have an in the free	28
Of feeming forrow, it is fure your owne.	20
Iohn Though no man be affurde what grace to finde,	nde.
You stand in coldest expectation,
Tam the forier would twee otherwife	32
Cla. Well, you must now speake fir John Falstaffe faire,	faire,
Which fwimmes against your streame of qualitie.
Inft. Sweet princes, what I did, I did in honor,
Led by th'impartiall conduct of my foule.
And neuer shall you fee that I will begge	.36
A ragged and forestald remission,	36

- Jeren Lans a
If truth and vpright innocencie faile me.
Ile to the King my maister that is dead.
And tell him who hath fent me after him, Enter the Prince
War. Here comes the Prince. and Blunt
Inft. Good morrow, and God faue your maiestie.
Prince This new and gorgeous garment Maiefly
Sits not so easie on me, as you thinke:
Prothers, you mixt your fadnesse with fome feare,
This is the English, not the Turkish court, Not Amurath an Amurath succeedes,
But Harry Harry:yet be fad, good brothers,
For by my faith it very well becomes you:
Sorrow fo royally in you appeares,
That I will deeply put the fashion on,
And weare it in my heart: why then be fad,
But entertaine no more of it, good brothers,
Then a toynt burden layd vpon vsall,
For me, by heauen(I bid you be affurde)
Ile be your father, and your brother too.
Let me but beare your loue, Ile beare your cares:
Y et weepe that Harries dead, and fo will I.
But Harry lives, that shal convert those teares
By number into howres of happinesse.
Bro. We hope no otherwise from your maiesty.
Prince You al looke strangely on me, and you most,
You are I thinke affurde I loue you not.
Inst. I am allurde, if I be meafurderightly,
Your majefty hath no just cause to hate me.
Prince No?how might a prince of my great hopes forget, So great indignities you laid vpon me?
What, rate, rebuke, and roughly fend to prifon,
Th immediate heire of England? was this eafie?
May this be washt in lethy and forgotten?
Iu/t. I then did vle the perfon of your father,
The image of his power lay then in me,
And in th administration of his law,
Whiles
vy mics

		V.m.
	Henry the fourth.
	Whiles I was bufie for the common wealth, Your Highnesse leafed to forget my place,	70
	The maje of the King whom I prefented,
	And ftrooke me in my very feate of judgement, Whereon, (as an offendor to your father,)	80
	I gaue bold way to my authority, And did commit you: if the deed were ill,
	Be you contented, wearing now the garland, To haue a fonne fet your decrees at naught?	84
	To plucke downe Iuflice from your awful bench? To trip the courfe of law, and blunt the fword,
	That guards the peace and fafetie of your perfon? Nay more, to fpurne at your molt royall image, And mocke your workings in a fecond body?	88
-	Queffion your royall thoughts, make the cafe yours, Be now the father, and propose a some,	92
	Heare your owne dignity fo much prophan'd, See your most dreadfull lawes so loofely slighted,	94
	Behold your felfe so by a sonne disdained: And then imagine me taking your part,	96
	And in your power foft filencing your fonne, After this cold confiderance fentence me,
	And as you are a King, speake in your state, What I have done that misbecame my place, My person, or my lieges sourcaigntie.	100
	Prince You are right Iuftice, and you weigh this well, Therefore ftill beare the Ballance and the Sword,
	And I do with your honors may encreate, Til you do liue to fee a fonne of mine	104
	Offend you, and obey you as I did: So fhall I liue to fpeake my fathers words,
	Happic am I that hauc a man fo bold, That dares do iuflice on my proper fonne:	108
	And not leffe happie, hauing fuch a fonne, That would deliuer vp his greatneffe fo, K Into a series of the series of the series

	e no journa paro oj
112	Into the hands of Iuflice you did commit me:
	For which I do commitinto your hand,
	Th vnstained fword that you have vsde to beare,
	With this remembrance, that you vie the fame
116	With the like bold, just, and impartial spirit,
	As you have done gainst me: there is my hand,
	You shall be as a father to my youth,
	My voice shall found as you do prompt mine eare,
120	And I wil stoope and humble my intents,
	To your well practizde wife directions.
	And princes all, beleeue me I beseech you,
	My father is gone wild into his graue:
124	For in his toomb lie my affections,
	And with his spirites fadly I furuiue,
	To mocke the expectation of the world,
	To frustrate prophecies, and to race out,
128	Rotten opinion, who hath writ me downe
	After my seeming, the tide of bloud in me
	Hathprowdely flowd in vanitie till now:
	Now doth it turne, and ebbe backe to the fea,
132	Where it shall mingle with the state of flouds,
	And flow henceforth in formall maiestie.
	Now call we our high court of parliament,
	And let vs chuse fuch limbs of noble counfaile,
136	That the great bodie of our flate may goe,
	In equal ranke with the best gouernd Nation,
	That warre, or peace, or both at once, may be,
	As things acquainted and familiar to vs,
140	In which you father shall have formost hand:
	Our coronation done, we wilaccite,
	(As I before remembred)all our state,
	And(God configning to my good intents,)
144	No prince nor peere shall have just cause to fay,
	God shorten Harries happy life one day.	exit.
m	Enter sir Iohn, Shallow, Scilens, Dawy, Bardolfe, page.
1	Shal. Nay you shall see my orchard, where, in an arbor	ur we will rienry the journo.

	78
	Viii
g, with a s, and then	4
g,and rich. ggars all fir , well faide	8

12

16

20 24

28

32

35-6

1

40

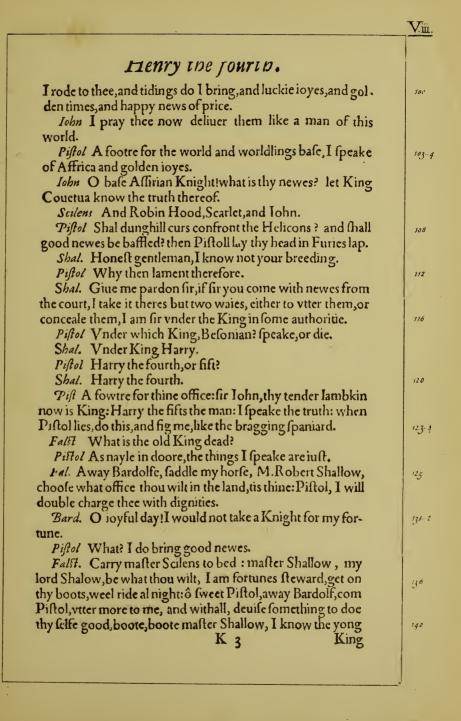

44

48 will cate a last yeeres pippen of mine owne graffin difh of carrawaies and fo forth: come coolin Scilen to bed. Fallt. Fore God you have here goodly dwellin Shal. Barraine, barraine, barraine, beggars all, be John, mary good ayre: spread Dauy, spread Dauy Dauy. Fal. This Dauy ferues you for good vses, hee is your feruing-man, and your husband. Shal. A good varlet, a good varlet, a very good varlet fir Iohn : by the mas I have drunke too much facke at fupper : a good varlet:now fit downe, now fit downe, come colin. Scilens A firra quoth a, we shall do nothing but eate and make good cheere, and praife God for the merry yeere, when fleth is cheape and females deare, and lufty laddes roame here and there fo merely, and euer among fo merily. fir Iohn Theres a merry heart, good M. Silens, ile giue you a health for that anon. Shal. Giue master Bardolfe some wine, Dauy. Dany Sweet fir fit, ile be with you anon, most fweet fir fit, master Page, good master Page fit: proface, what you want in meate, weele haue in drink, but you must beare, the heart's al. Shal. Bemery mafter Bardolfe, and my litle fouldier there, be merry. Scilens Bemerry, bemery, my wife has all, for women are fbrowes both fhort and tall, tis merry in hal when beards wags all, and welcome mery shrouetide, be mery, be mery. Fall. I did not thinke mafter Scilens had bin a man of this mettall. Scilens Who I? I have been emery twice and once ere now. Enter Dauy. Dauy Theres a difh of Lether-coates for you. Shal. Dauy? Dauy Your worship: Ile be with you straight, a cup of wine fir. Scilens A cup of wine thats briske and fine, and drinke vnto K 2 the

V.iii
	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
	the leman mine, and a mery heart liues long a.
	Falst. Well faid master Scilens.
52	Scilens And we shall be mery, now comes in the fweete a'th night.
	Falft Health and long life to you master Scilens.
56	Scilens Fill the cuppe, and let it come. ile pledge you a mile too th bottome.
	Shal. Honeft Bardolfe, welcome, if thou wantft any thing,
60	and whit hot call, Utilitew inv heart welcome muchal admine incursation welcome indeede too. He drink to mafter Bardalfa and to an the capitors about London.
64	Dany 1 hope to fee London once ere I die,
	Bar. And I might fee you there Dauy!
	Shal. By the mas youle crack a quarte together, ha will you not mafter Bardolfe?
68	Bar. Yea sir, in a pottle pot.
	Sha, By Gods liggens I thanke thee the knowe will dicke by
Ŧ	thee, I can antire thee that a wil not out, a tis true bredt
72	Bur. And he trick by him fir. One braches at doore
	Sha. Why there look ca King lacke nothing be mery
	Norte who's at doore there ho, who knockes?
76 77 - 7 ⁸	Falf. Why now you have done me right.
11 1-	Silens Do meright, and dub me Knight, famingo: ist not fo? Faist. Tis fo.
	Silens Ift fo, why then fay an olde man can do fomewhat.
84	Duny And tpleate your worthip, theres one Diffell come anom the could with newes.
	Failt. From the Courtiet him come in how now Piffold
88	Fijtet Sir Ionn, God faue you.
	Falf. What wind blew you hither Piftol?
92	Piflol Not the ill winde which blowes no man to good:
í	fweete Knight, thou art now one of the greatest men in this Realme.
	Silens Birlady I think a be, but goodman Puffe of Barfon.
95-6	The Punce Punce in thy teeth, molt recreant coward bale fir Iohn, I am thy Piftol and thy frend, and helter skelter, haue
	I

Þ,

· ··· j ···· par v vj

King is ficke for me : let vs take any mans horfes, the lawes of England are at my commandement, bleffed are they that haue bin my friends, and woe to my Lord chiefe Iuftice.

Pift. Let vultures vile feize on his lungs alfo : where is the life that late I led, fay they, why here it is, welcome thefe plefant dayes. exit.

Enter Sincklo and three or foure officers.

Hoft. No, thou arrant knaue, I would to God that I might die, that I might haue thee hangd, thou haft drawn my fhoulder out of ioynt.

Sincklo The Constables have delivered her ouer to mee, and shee shal have whipping cheere I warrant her, there hath beene a man or two kild about her.

Whoore Nut-hooke, Nut-hooke, you lie, come on, Ile tell thee what, thou damnd tripe vifagde rafcall, and the child I go with do mifcarry, thou wert better thou hadft ftrook thy mother, thou paper-facde villaine.

Hoft. O the Lord, that fir John were come! I would make this a bloody day to fome body : but I pray God the fruite of her wombe mifcarry.

Sincklo. If it doe, you shall have a dozzen of cushions againe, you have but eleven nowe : come, I charge you both goe with mee for the man is dead that you and Pistoll beat amongst you.

Where Ile tell you what, you thin man in a cenfor, I will have you as foundly fwingde for this, you blewbottle rogue, you filthy famisht correctioner, if you be not fwingde, Ile forfweare halfe kirtles.

Sinck. Come, come, you fhee-Knight-arrant, come.

Hoft. O God, that right thould thus ouercom might wel, of fufferance comes eafe.

Whoore Come you rogue, come bring me to a iustice. Hast. I come, you starude blood-hound.

Whoore Goodman death, goodman bones.

Hoft. Thou Atomy, thou.

Whoore Come you thinne thing; come you rafcall.

Sincklo

81

V.ii

144

V.iv.†

4

6 12

+

16

20 24

26

Henry the fourth.

Sinck. Very well.

Enter Strewers of rushes.

I More rushes, more rushes.

2 The trumpets have founded twice.

3 Twill be two a clocke ere they come from the coronation, difpatch, difpatch.

Trumpets found, and the King, and his traine paffe ouer the ftage : after them enter Falstaffe, Shallow, Pistol, Bardolfe, and the Boy.

Falst. Stand heere by me maister Shallow, I will make the King doe you grace, I will leere vpon him as a comes by, and do but marke the countenaunce that he will give me.

Pift. God bleffe thy lungs good Knight.

Falft. Come heere Piftoll, stand behinde mee. O if I had had time to haue made new liueries: I woulde haue bestowed the thousand pound I borrowed of you, but tis no matter, this poore shew doth better, this doth inferre the zeale I had to see him.

Pift. It doth fo.

Falft. It shewes my earnestnesse of affection.

 \mathcal{P} ift. It doth fo.

Falft. My deuotion.

Pift. It doth, it doth, it doth.

Fal. As it were to ride day & night, and not to deliberate, not to remember, not to have pacience to fhift me.

Shal It is best certain: but to stand stained with trauaile, and fweating with defire to see him, thinking of nothing els, putting all affaires else in obliuion, as if there were nothing els to bee done, but to see him.

Pist. Tis semper idem, for, obsque hoc nibil est, tis in euery part.

Shal. Tissoindeede.

Pist. My Knight, I will inflame thy noble liuer, and make thee rage, thy Dol, and Helen of thy noble thoughts, is in bafe durance, and contagious prifon, halde thither by most mechanical, and durtie hand:rowze vp reuenge from Ebon den, with fell V.iv.

V.v.

8

12

16

20 - 24

28

32

V.v.
	1 De jecoma part oj
)-40	fell Alectoes snake, for Doll is in : Pistoll speakes nought but truth.
	Falst. I will deliuer her.
	Pist. There roared the fea, and trumpet Clangor founds.
	Enter the King and his traine.
	Falst. God faue thy grace King Hall, my royall Hall.
44	Pist. The heauens thee gard and keep, most royal impe of fame.
	Falst. God faue thee, my fweet boy.
	King My Lord chiefe inflice, speake to that vaine man.
48	Inst. Haue you your wits?know you what tis you speake?
	Falst. My King, my Joue, I fpeake to thee, my heart
	King I know thee not old man fall to the praiers.
5 ²	How ill white heires becomes a foole and iester.
	I have long dreampt of fuch a kind of man,
	So fuifet-fweld, fo old, and fo prophane:
	But being awakt, I do defpife my dreame,
50	Make leffe thy body (hence) and more thy grace,
	Leave gourn and izing, know the graue doth gape For thee, thrice wider then for other men,
	Reply not to me with a foole-borne ieft,
60	Prefume not that I am the thing I was,
	For God doth know, so shall the world perceiue,
	I hat I have turnd away my former felfe.
	So will I those that kept me company:
64	When thou dolt heare I am as I have bin,
	Approch me, and thou shalt be as thou wast,
	The tutor and the feeder of my riots:
68	Till then I banish thee, on paine of death,
08	As I have done the reft of my milleaders,
	Not to come neare our perfon by ten mile: For competence of life, I wil allow you,
	That lacke of meanes enforce you not to cuills,
72	And as we heare you do reforme your felues,
	We will according to your ftrengths and qualities,
	Giue you aduauncement. Be it your charge, my lord,
	То

V.v. Henry the fourth. To fee performd the tenure of my word: fet on. 75-6 Iohn Master Shallow I ow you a thousand pound. Shal. Yea mary fir Iohn, which I befeech you to let me haue 80 home with me. Iohn That can hardly be, master Shalow: do not you grieue at this, I shall be fent for in private to him. looke you, hee must feeme thus to the world:feare not your aduauncements, I will 84 be the man yet that shal make you great. Shal. I cannot perceiue how, vnleffe you giue me your dublet, and stuffe me out with straw : I befeech you good fir 88 Iohn let me haue fiue hundred of my thousand. John Sir I will be as good as my worde, this that you heard was but a collour. Shall. A collor that I feare you will die in fir Iohn. 92 Iohn Feare no colours, go with me to dinner: Come lieftenant Pistol, come Bardolfe, Enter Instice I shall be sent for soone at night. and prince Iohn 96 Inflice Go cary fir Iohn Falstalfe to the Fleet, Take all his company along with him. Fal. My lord, my lord. Iuft. I cannot now speake, I will heare you soone, take them 100 away. excunt. Pist. Si fortuna me tormenta spero contenta. John I like this faire proceeding of the Kings, He hath intent his wonted followers 104 Shall all be very well prouided for, But all are banisht till their conuerfations Appeare more wife and modeft to the worlde. Inft. And fo they are. 108 John The King hath cald his parlament my lord. Just. He hath. Iohn I wil lay ods, that ere this yeere expire, We beare our ciuil fwords and natiue fier, 112 As farre as France, I heard a bird fo fing, Whofemulique, to my thinking, pleafde the King: Come, will you hence? L Firft

Epilogue.

First my feare, then my cursie, last my speech. My feare, is your displeasure, my cursy, my duty, & my speech, to beg your pardons: if you looke for a good speech now, you vndo me, for what I haue to fay is of mine owne making, and what indeed (I should fay) wil (I doubt) proue mine own marring: but to the purpose, and so to the venture. Be it knowne to you, as it is very well, I was lately here in the end of a displeafing play, to pray your patience for it, and to promise you a better: I meant indeed to pay you with this, which if like an il venture it come vnluckily home, I breake, and you my gentle creditors loose, here I promise you I would be, and here I commit my body to your mercies, bate mesome, and I will pay you so fome, and (as most debtors do) promise you infinitely: and so I kneele downe before you; but indeed, to pray for the Queene,

If my tongue cannot intreate you to acquit mee, will you commaund me to vfe my legges? And yet that were but light payment, to daunce out of your debt, but a good confcience will make any poffible fatisfaction, and fo woulde I: all the Gentlewomen heere haue forgiuen me, if the Gentlemen will not, then the Gentlemen doe not agree with the Gentlewomen, which was neuer feene in fuch an affemblie.

One word more I befeech you, if you bee not too much eloyd with fatte meate, our humble Author will continue the ftorie, with fir Iohn in it, and make you merry with faire Katharine of Fraunce, where (for any thing I knowe) Falltaffe fhall die of a fweat, vnleffe already a be killd with your harde opinions; for Olde-caftle died Martyre, and this is not the man : my tongue is weary, when my legges are too, I wil bid you, good night.

FINIS.

1

4

8

12

16

20 24

28

32

Henry the fourth.

Hoft. No I warrant you.

Fall. No I thinke thou art not, I thinke thou art quit for that, mary there is another inditement vpon thee, for fuffering Heih to be eaten in thy house contrary to the law, for the which I thinke thou wilt howle, Hoft. Al vitlars do fo, whats a joynt of mutton or twoo in a Prince You gentlewoman. (whole Lent? Dol What faies your grace?

Fal. His grace faies that which his flefh rebels against. Peyto knockes at doore.

Hoft. Who knockes fo lowd at doore? looke too'th doore there Francis.

Prince Peyto, how now, what newes?

Peyto The King your father is at Westminster, And there are twenty weake and wearied postes, Come from the North, and as I came along I met and ouertooke a dozen captaines, Barcheaded, sweating, knocking at the Tauernes, And asking euery one for fir John Falltaffe.

Prince By heauen Poines, I feele me much too blame, Soidely to prophane the precious time, When tempelt of commotion like the fouth. Borne with blacke vapour doth begin to melt, And drop vpon our bare vnarmed heads, Giue me my fword and cloke: Falltaffe good night.

excunt Prince and Pornes.

Fal. Now coms in the fwectelt morfell of the night, & we must hence and leaue it vnpickt: more knocking at the doore, how now, whats the matter?

Bar. You must away to court fir prefently, A dozen captaines stay at doore for you.

Fal. Pay the multions firra, farewel holteffe, farewel Dol, you fee my good wenches how men of merrite are fought after, the vndeferuer may fleepe, when the man of action is cald on, farewell good wenches, if I be not fent away poste, I will fee you againe ere I goe.

E 3

Doll

The second part of

Doll I cannot speake, if my hart be not ready to burst: wel fweete Lacke, haue a care of thy selfe.

Fal. Farewell, farewell.

Hoft. Wel, fare thee wel, I haue knowne thee these twentie nine yeeres, come pease-cod time, but an honester, and truer hearted man:wel, fare thee wel.

Bard. Miltris Tere-Ihecte.

Hoft. Whats the matter?

Bard. Bid mistris Tere-sheete come to my maister.

Heff. O runne Doll, runne. runne good Doll, come, shee comes blubberd, yea? wil you come Doll? exemt

Enter Iustice Shallow, and Iustice Silens.

Sha. Come on, come on, come on, giue me your hand fir, giue me your hand fir, an early flirrer, by the Roode: and how doth my good coofin Silence?

Si. Good morrow good coofine Shallow.

Sha. And how doth my coofin your bedfellow? and your faireft daughter and mine, my god-daughter Ellen?

Si. Alas, a blacke woolel, coolin Shallow.

Sha. By yea, and no fir, 1 dare fay my coofin William is become a good fcholler, he is at Oxford ftil, is he not?

Si. Indeede fir to my coft.

Sha. A must then to the Innes a court shortly: I was once of Clements Inne, where I thinke they wil talke of mad Shallow yet.

Si. You were calld Lufty Shallow then, coofin.

Sha. By the maile I was calld any thing, and I would have done any thing indeede too, and roundly too: there was I, and little Iohn Doyt of Stafford/hire, and blacke George Barnes, and Francis Pickebone, and Will Squele a Cotfole man, you had not foure fuch fwinge-bucklers in all the Innes a court againe, and I may fay to you, wee knewe where the bona robes were, and had the beft of them all at commaundement : then was Iacke Falltaffe, now fir Iohn, a boy, and page to Thomas Mowbray dnke of Norffolke.

Si. This fir Iohn, coofin, that comes hither anone about fouldi-souldiers?

sha. The fame fir Iohn, the very fame, I fee him breake Skoggins head at the Court gate, when a was a Cracke, not thus high : and the very fame day did I fight with one Samfon Stockefifh a Fruiterer behinde Greyes Inne : Iefu, Iefu, the mad dayes that I haue spent! and to see how many of my olde acquaintance are dead.

Si. We shal all follow, coofin.

Sba. Certaine, tis certaine, very fure, very fure, death (as the Pfalmift faith) is certaine to all, all shall die. How a good yoke of bullockes at Samforth faire?

Si. By my troth I was not there.

Sha. Death is certaine : Isold Dooble of your towne liumg yet?

Si. Dead fir.

Sha. Iefu, Iefu, dead! a drew a good bow, and dead? a fhot a fiue fhoote: Iohn a Gaunt loued him well, and betted much money on his head. Dead? a woulde haue clapt ith clowt at twelue fcore, and carried you a forehand fhaft a fourteene and foureteene and a halfe, that it would haue doone a mans heart good to fee. How a fcore of Ewes now?

Si. Thereafter as they bee, a fcore of good ewes may bee worth ten pounds.

Sba. And is olde Dooble dead?

Si. Here come two of sir Iohn Falstaffes men, as I thinke,

Enter Bardolfe, and one with bim

Good morrow honeft gentlemen.

Bardolfe I befeech you, which is infice Shallow?

Sha: I am Robart Shallowe, fir, a poore Efquier of this Countie, and one of the Kings iuflices of the peace : what is your good pleafure with me?

Bard: My Captaine, fir, commends him to you, my Captain fir Iohn Falftaffe, a tall gendeman by heauen, and a most gallant Leader.

.Sha: He greetes me wel, fir, I knew him a good backfword man: how doth the good Knight? may I aske how my Ladie his

The second part of his wife doth.

Bar. Sir, pardon, a souldiour is better accommodate then with a wife.

Shal. It is well faid infaith fir, and it is well faid indeed too, better accomodated, it is good, yea indeede is it, good phrafes are furely, and euer were, very commendable, accommodated, it comes of accommodo, very good, a good phrafe.

Bar. Pardon fir, I have heard the word, Phrafe call you it? by this daye I knowe not the phrafe, but I will maintaine the word with my fword to be a fouldierlike word, and a word of exceeding good command by heaven, accommodated, that is when a man is as they fay, accommodated, or when a man is being whereby, a may be thought to be accommodated, which is an excellent thing.

Enter Falstaffe.

Iuft. It is very iuft, look, here comes good fir Iohn, giue me your good hand, giue me your worschippes good hand, by my troth you like well, and beare your yeeres very well, welcome good fir Iohn.

Fall. I am glad to fee you well,good master Robert Shallow,master Soccard(as I thinke.)

Shal. No fir Iohn, it is my cofen Scilens in commílion with me.

Falft. Good master Scilens, it well befits you should be of the peace.

Scil. Your good worship is welcome.

Fal. Fie this is hot weather gentlemen, haue you prouided me here halfe a dozen fufficient men?

Shal. Mary haue we fir, wil you fit?

Fal. Let me fee them I befeech you.

Shal. Wheres the roule?wheres the roule?wheres the roule? let me fee, let me fee, let me fee, fo fo, fo, fo, fo, fo) yea mary fir, Rafe Mouldyslet them appeare as I cal, let them do, fo, let them do, fo, let me fee, where is Mouldy?

Mouldy Here, and't pleafe you.

Shal. What think you fir Iohn, agood limbde, felow, yong, ftrong,

.

•

•

.

.

